AWARD

By order No. 666-I.R./IR/7L-9/60, dated the 19th February 1960, the Government of West Bengal in the Labour Department referred an industrial dispute between Messrs. Prem Chand Jute Mills and their workmen represented by Premchand Jute Workers' Union relating to the undermentioned issue to this Court (Second Labour Court) for adjudication.

Issue

Whether the dismissal of the following workmen is justified. To what relief, if any, are they entitled?—

(i) Shri Kirit Singh, (ii) Shri Maharaj Singh, (iii) Shri Dilbahadur Gurung, (iv) Shri Khetra Mohan Mahapatra, (v) Shri Nageswar Mahato, (vi) Shri Bhromar Shahoo, (vii) Shri Bhagabat Samal, (viii) Shri Mushidas, and (ix) Shri Krishna Shahoo.

The case of Premchand Jute Workers' Union (hereinafter referred to as the Union), briefly stated, is as follows: The authorities of Messrs. Prem Chand Jute Mills (hereinafter referred to as the Company) dealt with the workers of the Company in an arbitrary and capricious manner. The workmen, in order to improve their lot, formed the above Union. The formation of the Union was not taken in good grace by the authorities of the Company who wanted to cripple it and were on the look out for a pretext to do so. They got a pretext in the following circumstances. Shri Maharaj Singh, a durwan of the mills, was ordered to vacate his quarters allotted to him and no reason was shown for such an order. On his asking for the reason Shri Kirit Singh, a Jamadar, was ordered to drive out Shri Maharaj Singh forcibly out of the quarters. As Shri Kirit Singh pleaded his inability to comply with the order, both he and Shri Maharaj Singh were served with orders of suspension. As a protest against their suspension the workmen demonstrated before the authorities spontaneously. This spontaneous protest and demonstration on the part of the workmen leading to a temporary stoppage of work for a little while exasperated the management. Charge-sheets were issued to 11 workmen including most of the workmen mentioned in the issue of the order of reference. The charge-sheeted workmen replied in due time denying the false charges. A show of enquiry about the charge-sheets was made; but actually no proper enquiry was, however, held, and the charge-sheeted workmen were given no opportunity to refute the allegations made against them. Shri Dil Bahadur Gurung was not at duty at the relevant period mentioned in the charge-sheets; still he was charge-sheeted for committing an alleged misconduct in his absence. So the nine workmen mentioned in the issue of the order of reference were dismissed in an illegal way in violation of all principles of natural justice. Hence the Union contends that their dismissal is unjustified.

The Company has raised a preliminary objection that this is not an industrial dispute. The Company contends that this dispute has not been raised by the workmen of the Company. The dispute, if any, is an individual dispute between the Company and the dismissed workmen.

The Company has denied the general allegation of the Union that the Company deals with its workmen in an arbitrary and capricious manner. As to the merits of the issue, the case of the Company, in brief, is as follows: There are some family quarters available in the Mill which are allotted to the durwans at the absolute discretion of the Manager. One such family quarters was allotted to and occupied by Janak Singh, a durwan. He left the Mill with his family on 7th November 1959, and the quarters became vacant. In the morning of 8th November 1959 the Manager of the Mill was informed that Maharaj Singh, a durwan, either at the connivance or at the instigation of Jamadar Kirit Singh, unauthorisedly occupied that quarters. Both of them were called before the Manager who asked them to have the quarters vacated, as it was needed for another durwan. Both of them not only refused to do so, but behaved most insolently with the Manager. As their actions was a gross misconduct under the provisions of the Company's Standing Orders, the Company issued charge-sheets to them on 9th November 1959. Both of them refused to accept the charge-sheets tendered to them and none of them submitted any explanation thereto. The Company issued to them on 10th November 1959 a notice asking them to appear at an enquiry which was notified to be held at 10 a.m. on 11th November 1959. They refused to accept that notice also. Thereupon the contents of the notice were communicated verbally to them and copies of the notice were posted on the walls of their quarters. In pursuance of the notice an enquiry was held on 11th November 1959. Shri Maharaj Singh attended the enquiry; but Kirit Singh did not. The enquiry showed that both of them were guilty of the charges mentioned in the charge-sheets issued to them. The Manager therefore decided to dismiss them and by a letter, dated 11th November 1959, communicated this decision to them.

The circumstances leading to dismissal of the other seven workmen mentioned in the issue of the order of reference are as follows: On 9th November 1959 in the recess period Sarbashri Kirit Singh and Maharaj Singh hatched a conspiracy with the above seven workmen to bring about a strike in the Mill through threat and intimidation with a view to force the management to withdraw the charge-sheet issued to Kirit Singh and Maharaj Singh. In pursuance of that conspiracy the above seven workmen along with others incited the workers of the Mills to resort to a strike. They also intimidated and threatened with violence those workers who refused to join the strike. As a result, a strike commenced at 1 p.m. immediately after the recess period of 9th November 1959 followed by a rowdy condition in the mill. At the intervention of some of the members of the Works Committee the strike was however called off within an hour of its commencement. An emergent meeting of the Works Committee was held at 4-30 p.m. on 10th November 1959; at that meeting the unruly situation in the mill on the preceding day was discussed. The representatives of both the employers and the employees in the Works Committee approved of the management's decision to take disciplinary action against the ring leaders of the conspiracy. Consequently the management after making further preliminary enquiry issued charge-sheets against the above seven workmen on 11th November 1959. Some of them received the charge-sheets on 11th November 1959 and the others on 12th November 1959. All of them except Bhagabat Samal submitted their explanations on 16th November 1959; Bhagabat Samal submitted his explanation on 18th November 1959. Enquiries about the charge-sheets issued to them were held on different dates between 18th November 1959 and 27th November 1959. All the charge-sheeted workmen participated in the respective enquiries held about them by cross-examining the witnesses of the Company and by examining their own witnesses. The enquiries clearly showed that they were guilty of the charges mentioned in their respective charge-sheets. Hence by letters, dated 30th November 1959, the management dismissed them from service. So the Company contends that their dismissal is justified.

I first take up the preliminary objection raised by the Company that this is not an industrial dispute in that the dispute has not been raised by the workmen of the Company. The Company has not adduced any evidence to the effect that the workm of the Company are not behind this dispute. C the contrary, P.W. 5 Dil Bahadur Gurung says th the Union mentioned in the order of reference whi has raised this dispute was registered on 6th Ju 1959. He also says that about 150 workmen of t Company became members of the Union after it w registered. So it is clear that a considerable numb of the workmen of the Company are members of t Union which has raised this dispute. Thus at lea these 150 workmen must be taken to be behind th dispute. As has been held by the Supreme Cou in the case of Associated Cement Company, report at page 491 of L.L.J. -1960 Vol. I, it is not necessa that the workmen who raised an industrial dispu should be the majority of the workmen employed an establishment. In this case, as a substanti number of workmen are members of the Union whi has raised this dispute, I hold that this is industrial dispute.

Having disposed of the preliminary objection, now enter into the merits of the issue.

It is clear from the pleadings of both sides th the issue consists of two sets of circumstances. O set of circumstances relates to the dismissal Sarbashri Kirit Singh and Maharaj Singh nam under serial numbers 1 and 2 respectively of t issue. The other set of circumstances relates to t dismissal of the remaining seven workmen named the issue.

As to Sarbashri Kirit Singh and Maharaj Sing the contention of the Union is that no charge-she was issued to them nor was any enquiry held. C the other hand, the Company contends that t charge-sheets were explained to them and offered them, but they refused to accept them. It is al the contention of the Company that the notice enquiry were offered to them and they refused accept them. The Company also contends that proper enquiry was held at which Maharaj Sin was present. The Company has adduced evidence support of its above contention. It, howeve appears from the evidence of the Company itself th though both Kirit Singh and Maharaj Singh we asked to appear at the Labour Office to receive t notice of enquiry, only Kirit Singh appeared at t Labour Office; Maharaj Singh did not turn up at a So the Company cannot say that the notice of enqui was offered to Maharaj Singh; but the Company h adduced evidence to the effect that the notice enquiry were posted on the walls of the quarters the above two workmen. The Company has als adduced evidence to the effect that Maharaj Sing attended the enquiry. So the fact that the notic of enquiry was not personally offered to Mahar Singh does not affect the validity of the enquir Of course both Kirit Singh and Maharaj Singh i their evidence before me have denied the abov contention of the Company. At the same time th Company has adduced oral and documentar evidence in support of its contention. Kirit Sing and Maharaj Singh are obviously interest witnesses. But there is no reason why the witnesse who have deposed in favour of the Company shou tell lies against them. They have no animosit whatsoever against them. It cannot be said that th evidence of these witnesses should be disbelieved simply because they are in the pay of the Company O.P.W. 1 Shri Thakur Das Banerjee, Labour Office of the Company, held the enquiry. He has produce he proceedings of the enquiry (Ext. E). The proceedings of the enquiry, when considered in the light of the evidence adduced before me, preclude the suggestion that they were manufactured for the purpose of this case. So I hold that an enquiry about the charge-sheets issued to Kirit Singh and Maharaj Singh was held on 11th November 1959 in presence of Maharaj Singh. As Kirit Singh did not choose to attend the enquiry in spite of being informed of it, he cannot make a grievance on account of his absence at the enquiry. The evidence adduced at the enquiry clearly supports the charges mentioned in the charge-sheets against them. There are two charges against them. The first is that Maharaj Singh took unauthorised possession of the quarters vacated by Janak Singh and that Kirit Singh helped him in the matter. The second charge against them is that when they were asked by the Manager to have the room vacated, they refused to do so and became insolent and used abusive language to the Manager. Their lawyer has contended before me that Maharaj Singh was in legal possession of the quarters and that as such the Manager had no right to ask him to vacate the quarters or to ask Kirit Singh to drive out Maharaj Singh out of the quarters. In this respect the case of the Union is that the quarters had been allotted to Maharaj Singh; the Company admits this portion of the case of the Union. The Union next states that later when Maharaj Singh's wife was not at the quarters, Shri Janak Singh requested him to allow him to stay with his wife for the treatment of the latter. Accordingly Maharaj Singh allowed Janak Singh to stay at the quarters with wife on condition that he would have to vacate the quarters as soon as Maharaj Singh would receive information that his wife would be coming. Sometime later Maharaj Singh asked Janak Singh to vacate his quarters as his wife would be coming. Accordingly Janak Singh left the quarters with his wife on 7th November 1959 and Maharaj Singh occupied the quarters. The Company contends that when Maharaj Singh sent his wife home, Janak Singh approached the Manager to allot the quarters to him; and the Manager did so. The Company contends that according to rules Maharaj Singh, or for the matter of that, any of occupants of a family quarters cannot allot the quarters to some other durwan. It is the Manager who allots quarters. So Janak Singh occupied the quarters not at the sufferance of Maharaj Singh, but because he was allotted that quarters by the Manager. So when Janak Singh left the quarters with his wife on 7th November 1959, the quarters came at the disposal of the Manager. Neither of the sides has been able to produce any documentary evidence as to what the system in the matter is. On a consideration of probabilities, however, the contention of the Company appears to be more reasonable. It is difficult to believe that a workman who is allotted a free quarters can dispose of it according to his sweet will. The contention of the Manager that it is he alone who allots quarters to durwans is therefore believable. Even if it be held that there is some doubt as to whether the Manager was right in asking Kirit Singh and Maharaj Singh to have the quarters vacated on 8th November 1959, this may excuse to some extent their refusal to do so. But they can have no ground to be insolent and to use abusive language to the Manager. Of course, they have denied that they have done so. The evidence of the Company, however, is otherwise. If really they had not been insolent to the Manager, there is no reason why the Manager should take it into his head to issue charge-sheets to them on that charge. There is nothing in evidence that the Manager was displeased with them for some other reason. Of course, they have said that some time earlier the Manager asked them to give up the Union, which they refused to do. But it is clear that this story has been introduced only to show a bias on the part of the Manager. There is no evidence that these two workmen ever communicated to anybody such an order of the Manager. So even if Kirit Singh and Maharaj Singh be given a benefit of doubt in respect of the first charge, they have no excuse for their conduct as mentioned in the second charge. That conduct is clearly an act of gross indiscipline. So the Company is clearly justified in dismissing them on such a charge.

I now come to the second set of circumstances leading to the dismissal of the seven workmen named under serial numbers 3 to 9 in the issue of the order of reference. The contention of the Union in regard to the above seven workmen is that no proper enquiry was held about the charge-sheets issued to them. All of them have deposed before me. They have admitted that they went to the place of enquiry. They say that at the place of enquiry they were asked to sign a written paper. They wanted to take it out outside to have it explained to them; but this was refused; so they refused to sign it. The Company, on the other hand, contends that a proper enquiry was held in respect of each of the seven workmen. The Company contends that all of them participated in the enquiries by cross-examining the witnesses of the Company and by examining their own witnesses. Three members of the Works Committee were present as observers at all the enquiries. The Company has produced the proceedings of the enquiries. These show the statements of several witnesses in respect of each of the charge-sheeted workmen and also the cross-examination of the witnesses by the charge-sheeted workmen. The proceedings were attested by the above three observers. The proceedings of the enquiries are quite voluminous. Their perusal gives the impression that they are a faithful record of what took place at the enquiry. All the charge-sheeted workmen are obviously interested witnesses. There is no independent corroboration of their statement that no enquiry was held. On the other hand, the Company has produced both oral and documentary evidences in support of its contention that the enquiries were properly held. There is no reason whatsoever why the witnesses of the Company should be disbelieved. The proceedings of the enquiry show that the seven workmen compelled other workmen by threat of violence and intimidation to join the strike on 9th November 1959. The Union has led evidence before me to the effect that there was a spontaneous strike on that day. The Manager called Dil Bahadur Gurung and some other leaders of the Union and wanted to know from them the reason of the strike. They told him that the reason was the suspension of Kirit Singh and Maharaj Singh that very morning. He promised to look into the matter and requested Dil Bahadur Gurung to ask the workers to resume their work. Accordingly, Dil Bahadur Gurung did so and the workers resumed work. It is the case of both sides that the Manager himself suspended Kirit Singh and Maharaj Singh. So if it is believed that Dil Bahadur and others asked the Manager the reason of their suspension, they could not be satisfied with the Manager's reply that he would look into the matter; because they could expect the Manager to come to a decision then and there. The Manager in his evidence says that Dil Bahadur and others did not approach him at all. The workers resumed work, as they were persuaded to do so by some members of the Works Committee. The evidence before me clearly shows that proper enquiries were held about the seven workmen. The Union has not been able to adduce evidence before me to show that the charges mentioned in the charge-sheets are not true. Dil Bahadur Gurung, the workman mentioned under serial No. 3 in the issue of the order of reference, has stated before me that he was on leave after 10 a.m. on 9th November 1959; thereby he wants to support an inference that he was not present at the time of stoppage of work, not to speak of his taking any active part in the matter. But in his evidence he has himself admitted that he went to the Mill to see the Manager, being sent for by the latter. In the enquiry about him also Dil Bahadur said that he was on leave on that date. But the witnesses at the enquiry have definitely stated at the enquiry that they saw Dil Bahadur forcing workers by threat and intimidation to join the strike. He has not been able to show that the evidence of these witnesses is false. It is not impossible for a man who is on leave to go to the Mill while on leave. So the fact that Dil Bahadur was on leave on that day can lead to no inference that he did not take part in the strike, in the face of the positive evidence to the contrary.

It appears from evidence that a meeting of the Works Committee was held at about 4-30 p.m. on 10th November 1959. The names of the workers who forced the other workers by threat and intimidation to join the strike were revealed at the meeting of the Works Committee. The lawyer of the Union has made a grievance on that account. He has referred me to two decisions reported at page 48 of L.L.J. 1955 Vol. I and at page 580 of L.L.J. 1960 Vol. I about the legal effect of the decisions of Works Committee. It has been held in these decisions that the decisions of Works Committee are not binding on the workmen. But these decisions are beside the point in the present case. In the present case the management did not dismiss the seven workmen on a decision of the Works Committee. On the names were ascertained at a meeting of the Works Committee. For a decision as to the justifiability of dismissal of the workmen, the source from which their names were ascertained is immaterial. The important point is whether charge-sheets were issued to them, their explanations obtained and proper enquiries held. The management might have got their names from even a secret source. It is for this Court to see whether after having got these names the management followed a proper course of action in coming to its decision. As I have discussed already, the management has followed the procedure correctly.

The lawyer of the Union has contended that the workmen in question should not have been dismissed for joining the strike. In support of this contention he has referred me to two decisions reported at page 372 of L.L.J. 1954 Vol. II and at page 13 of L.L.J. 1960 Vol. I. In these decisions it has been held that simply for joining a strike workman should not be dismissed. But in this case the charge against the seven workmen in question is not tha they joined the strike, but that they forced other by threat and intimidation to join the strike. In th above two decisions it has been held that thei dismissal for such conduct is justified. Proceeding of the enquiries held in respect of the above seve workmen clearly prove the charges made agains them, viz., forcing other workmen to join the strik by intimidation and threat of violence. It is tru that the enquiring officer in his findings (Ext. H7 has not discussed why he believed the evidence o certain witnesses and disbelieved the evidences o others. Such a discussion cannot be insisted on because this is not a judgment in a Court of Law A perusal of the evidence recorded at the enquirie clearly supports the findings of the enquiring officer As he has found them guilty of the charges, th Company is justified in dismissing them.

In view of the above considerations I hold tha the dismissal of Sarbashri (1) Kirit Singh, (2 Maharaj Singh, (3) Dil Bahadur Gurung, (4) Khetra Mohab Mahapatra, (5) Nageswar Mahato, (6 Bhromar Shahoo, (7) Bhagabat Samal, (8) Mushidas and (9) Krishna Shahoo is justified. Hence they are not entitled to any relief.

AWARD

Upon receipt of the order of reference on 15th May 1961, notices were issued upon the parties for appearance and for filing written statements.

Thereafter the workmen represented by the Hamilton Jewellery Workers' Union (hereinafter referred to as the Union) filed the written statement on 14th August 1961. It is alleged by the Union that this Company which is a jewellery firm employing about 150 workmen wrongfully deducted the wages for Sunday of some workmen just because of the fact that they happened to be absent on the preceding Saturday or succeeding Monday and that such practice should discontinue. It is further alleged that there was no fixed age of retirement of the workmen in this concern and that the workmen used to work normally up to 60 years or even more. Virtually there was the implied conditions of service to the effect that a workman would continue in service till he was physically fit. But in spite of the fact, the employer all on a sudden terminated the services of three workmen as named in the order of reference, with effect from 31st October 1960 in pursuance of an arbitrary decision fixing age of retirement at 56. Regarding Jagru Singh it is alleged that he was appointed as Chaprasi by the Company by a letter, dated 11th July 1958, and that the employer wrongfully terminated his service, with effect from 10th July 1959 by a letter, dated 30th June 1959, just because of the fact that he had joined the Union. It is further alleged that the Company does not grant sick leave in continuation of privilege leave and this practice is unfair and should be stopped. Regarding festival holidays it is claimed that the practice existing up to 1959 in the matter of holidays enjoyed by the different categories of workmen should be restored. It is alleged that the employer unjustly curtailed the festival holidays. Regarding issue No. 4 it is alleged that the employer arbitrarily withheld the increment of Balai Dutta for the years 1959 and 1960.

Messrs. Hamilton & Co. (P.) Ltd. (hereinafter referred to as the Company), then filed the written statement on 4th September 1961. It is stated in the written statement, inter alia, that absence without leave is a major misdemeanour under the rules of service of the Company and wages for Sunday had been deducted with respect to a workman Abdul Rashid, who was in the habit of absenting himself either on Sunday or on Monday and the wages for Sunday had been deducted after the workman concerned had been charge-sheeted and proper enquiry done by the employer. Besides, it is contended that the rules of service specifically provide for such deductions. Regarding the age of superannuation it is stated that the Company fixed the age of superannuation at 56 years, with effect from 1st September 1960, and that the three workmen mentioned in the order of reference had to retire in pursuance of that rule who, in their turn, collected all the dues. Regarding the question of a workman taking sick leave in continuation of privilege leave granted to him, it is stated by the Company that in such situation the workman should cancel the rest of his privilege leave granted and convert the same into sick leave. In the matter of withholding the increment of Balai Dutta it is stated that he had been given due increment as he was entitled to in terms of the award, published in the "Calcutta Gazette, Extraordinary", dated 19th February 1959. The Company's version about Shri Jagru Singh is that he was appointed in a temporary job for a period of one year and his services had been terminated after the completion of the stipulated period. Regarding festival holidays it is alleged that all classes of employees are now getting holidays for 14/15 days in a year in terms of the aforesaid award and so long as the award is binding upon the parties, no dispute over that issue can be raised.

The dispute came up for hearing on 14th March 1962. The learned lawyers appearing for parties opened the case at length. It was conceded by the Union that the workman Shri Balai Dutta got the increment for 1959 and 1960 and as such issue No. 4 was not pressed.

Regarding issue No. 3 on the question as to whether the workmen could avail themselves of privilege leave, both the parties agreed that sick leave can be affixed with privilege leave when such leave was due to the workman.

Evidence was, therefore, adduced by the parties relating to the other issues, i.e., issues Nos. 1, 2, 5 and 6.

From the side of the Union three witnesses, Jhagru Singh, Md. Amir and Shri B. Chowdhuri, Cashier of the Company, were examined. The Company, on the other hand, examined Shri B. Chakraborty, Secretary and Accountant of the concern, and Shri P. R. Copping, one of the Directors of the Company.

It may be noted that the parties for the sake of convenience adduced evidence with respect to another case relating to profit bonus along with the evidence of this case and so the evidence as adduced, is taken as evidence of both the cases. Obviously a separate award need be made for the other reference case.

Besides, both parties proved certain documents which are marked as exhibits. I shall refer to the evidence, both oral and documentary, while I decide the issue one by one.

Issue No. 1

The question that needs consideration in the scope of this issue is whether the Company is justified in deducting wages for Sunday of workmen who failed to attend their duties either on Saturday or on Monday. There was no dispute on the point that the workmen engaged in this concern are monthly paid. As such they are paid wages for a particular month before the expiry of the 10th day after the last day of the wage period. It is clearly provided under section 13 of the Minimum Wages Act of 1948 that the workers should enjoy a day of rest in every period of seven days. Obviously, therefore, the workmen enjoy as a rest day all Sundays and earn wages for that day without rendering any service to the employer. The question, therefore, arises for consideration if the statutory right of a workman to enjoy Sunday as a day of rest and earn wages for that day can be taken away by the employer by creating any condition of service to the Company. The Company produced the rules of service, Ext. E, introduced in May 1950, which is enforceable as conditions of service applicable to the workmen. At page 9 of the rules of service it is so provided: Sundays in accordance with the custom of the Company are paid holidays and any factory worker absent from his work on the Saturday or Monday will not receive wages for the Sunday holiday. There is no dispute on the point that the number of workmen employed in this Company is much less than 100. There is no Standing Order prescribing the conditions of service framed under Act XX of 1946. It appears that this set of rules had been placed before the Tribunal in connection with the previous dispute between the same parties over a large number of issues for which an award was given on 3rd March 1950. The award was published in the "Calcutta Gazette", dated the 12th April 1950. The learned Tribunal considered this set of rules while deciding the issue concerning conditions of service of the workmen and in doing so the learned Tribunal made some amendments to those rules of service. It was nowhere stated in the award that the rest of the rules would be binding upon the workmen. These rules of service cannot have any binding force upon the workmen. I would at once say that these rules of service cannot have any binding contractual force as between the employer and the workmen and that the Tribunal is entitled to see whether the conditions of service as introduced under the rules of service are just, fair and reasonable. I have already stated that the workers have got a right to enjoy wages for Sunday without rendering any service to the employer. Naturally, therefore, all action of the employer in the matter of deduction of wages of workmen would be deemed wrongful unless such deductions are permitted in law. Section 7 of the Payment of Wages Act specifically lays down the kinds of deduction from wages permissible under the law. Section 9, clause 2 of the said Act provides that the amount of deduction for absence from duty shall in no case bear to the wages payable to the employed person in respect of the wage period for which the deduction is made a larger proportion that the period for which he was absent bears to the total period, within such wage period during which by the terms of his employment he was required to work. Obviously a monthly-paid workman under the terms of employment was not required to work for Sundays. So, under the law, the deduction of wages of a workman for Sunday cannot be permitted. The learned Counsel for the Company at the time of argument urged that the Company had never insisted upon the said rules of the 'rules of service' in the matter of deducting wages for Sunday of any workman. It is further contended that the employer had every right to take disciplinary action against the workman who is absent without leave. There is no doubt that before a workman goes on leave, he must file proper application for leave and unless there be sufficient reason for not filing the application in proper time the employer is perfectly entitled to take action against such workman after taking an explanation from him and holding a proper departmental enquiry. P.W. 3 Shri B. Chowdhury, the Cashier of the Company, who deposed as a witness from the side of the Union, stated that only in one or two isolated cases the employer deducted the wages of Sunday when a workman was absent without leave on Saturday or Monday. He further stated that such deduction had been done after issue of proper charge-sheet and after holding proper enquiry. There cannot arise any doubt on the point that the employer is perfectly entitled to take disciplinary action against the workman, who is absent without intimation, following the principles of natural justice in a departmental proceedings. In this case, in the scope of this issue, I am not concerned with the question of such disciplinary action being taken by the employer. The main question is whether the employer can deduct wages for Sunday just because of the simple fact that the workman remained absent on Saturday or on Monday. It appears from the evidence that when a workman remained absent on Monday, the Company paid wages to that workman for Monday treating the absence as being on account of leave and debiting the same from his ave account and at the same time penalising the orkman by deducting his wages for Sunday [vide xt. F(2)]. In order to justify such action the ompany falls back upon the rules of service herein such deduction of wages for Sunday had en provided [vide Ext. F(3)]. Upon consideration f the facts and circumstances of the case I hold at the said rule is contrary to the clear provisions f law and should never be resorted to in order to stify deduction of wages for Sunday of a workan who happens to be absent on Saturday or on onday. This decision will not, however, in any ay effect the right of an employer to take appropiate disciplinary action against a workman who ould be absent without leave, treating such act as misdemeanour.

The issue is thus disposed of.

The first point to be decided in the scope of this sue is relating to fixation of the age of superannuation of the workmen. It appears that the ompany issued a notice, dated the 4th August 60, to the effect that the age of superannuation the Company would be 56 years and any ployee completing his 56th year shall tomatically retire from the service of the Comny unless an extension had been granted by the ard of Directors on application by the employee ide Ext. C). There is no controversy on the point at prior to the issue of this notice on the 4th ugust 1960, there was no such rule or condition service fixing the age of retirement of workmen. appears that the Union in their letter, dated the th August 1960, lodged a protest against the said tice whereby the age of retirement had been fixed 56 years. It was demanded by the Union that e age of retirement should be fixed at least at years. Naturally, when the workmen joined in rvice under this Company, there being no age of tirement, they could expect that they would ntinue in service till they were physically fit. In xing the age of retirement it has got to be condered up to what age a workman doing the articular type of job in the concern in question is pected to maintain a normal standard of health demanded for efficient discharge of duties. here is no controversy on the point that in the cope of this industrial dispute I have got to fix he age of superannuation afresh in spite of the otice issued by the Company fixing all on a sudden particular age of superannuation. In the case of Messrs. Guest, Keen and Williams (P.) Ltd. vs. terling (P.J.) and others reported in 1959, 11, .L.P., p. 405, the Hon'ble Supreme Court while xing the age of superannuation at 60 for the orkmen of that concern laid down certain factors hich should be taken into consideration in fixing he age of superannuation, as follows:

> "We would, however, like to add that this conclusion should not be taken as a decision on the general question of fixing the age of superannuation in the case of industrial employees. In fixing the age of superannuation industrial tribunals have to take into account several relevant factors. What is the nature of the work assigned to the employees in the course of their employment? What is the nature of the wage structure paid to them? What are the retirement benefits and other amenities available to them? What is the character of the climate where the employees work and what is the age of superannuation fixed in comparable industries in the same region? What is generally the practice prevailing in the industry in the past in the matter of retiring its employees? These and other relevant facts have to be weighed by the Tribunal in every case when it is called upon to fix an age of superannuation in an industrial dispute."

It appears from the evidence that the workmen of this concern enjoy retiring benefit both in the shape of Provident Fund as well as gratuity. The wage structure of the workmen as fixed by the Tribunal in the award referred to above, published in 1950, shows that the workmen cannot have enough saving in course of their service from the income derived from the wages. I take that the workmen have got no other source of income except those derived from their services. Nature of work assigned to the employees does not appear to be of an arduous nature. I am inclined to hold that with the general increase in the expectancy of life of the people in India the workmen maintain the requisite standard of health up to the age of 60, who are engaged in work which is not specially arduous in nature. In these considerations I fix the age of superannuation of the workmen in this concern at 60. The workers completing 60 years of age should therefore automatically retire from the service of Company unless an extension is granted at the discretion of the Board of Directors on proper application put in by the workman concerned.

It appears that in pursuance of this notice fixing the age of superannuation at 56, three workmen, viz., Nazrul Haque, Md. Amir and Atul Das, had been compulsorily retired. The services of these workmen had been terminated with effect from 31st October 1960. These workmen mentioned their dates of birth while they applied for membership of Provident Fund of the Company [vide Exts. A, A(1) and A(2)]. The application forms, Ext. A series, are duly signed by the workmen. It appears from the entries in those documents that Md. Amir and Atul Das were born in 1900. Naturally, therefore, these two workmen had already completed 60 years of age at the relevant time they were forced to retire. None of these workmen applied to the Company for being retained in service when they were served with notice of termination of service by way of retirement. The workmen, on the other hand, voluntarily received their Provident Fund dues and gratuity money in full and final settlement of their dues. As I fix the age of retirement at 60 years, obviously at this stage there arises no question of directing reinstatement of Md. Amir and Atul Das. The learned lawyer for the Union urged that in view of the fact that these two workmen had been compulsorily retired, they should be paid compensation from the date of retirement till this date on the basis of the wages they had been drawing at the time of compulsory retirement. I do not find any force in this contention. It is true that these two workmen had been compulsorily retired on the basis of rules introduced by the Company all on a sudden without any consideration as to the hardship of the workmen arising from the introduction of such a rule. But in view of the fact that these persons were sufficiently old and had already exceeded the age of 60 years which, in my opinion, should be the proper age of superannuation and also in consideration of the fact that they received all their retiring benefit, they are not entitled to get any compensation.

The other workman, i.e., Nazrul Haque, was born in April 1904. Obviously, therefore, he could continue in service up to April 1964 according to my decision regarding the age of superannuation. So, Shri Haque should be reinstated within a month from the date of publication of this award provided he presents himself for duty after a proper intimation is sent to him. I further direct that he be paid half of his basic wages from the date of his compulsory retirement till he is reinstated. There should be no break in the continuity of his service.

Issue No. 3

As already stated, the parties entered into an agreement at the time of opening of the case settling the point in dispute covering the issue. It is accordingly decided that the workers shall be entitled to get sick leave being affixed to privilege leave when such sick leave is due to workman provided that the employer's right to decide if sick leave in continuation of privilege leave should be allowed or not in exercise of bona fide discretion of the employer shall not be affected by this rule. The dispute gets resolved in the above terms.

Issue No. 4

It appears that Balai Dutta had been given due increments in 1959 and 1960. The Union, therefore, did not press for any decision of this issue. Obviously, the dispute arising from withholding of increment of Shri Datta does not at the moment exist. In view of the fact that the Union does not press for any decision of this issue, I dispose of the matter accordingly.

Issue No. 5

There is no controversy on the point that Jagru Singh was appointed by the Company as Chaprashi by a letter, dated 11th July 1958. Exhibit D is the letter of appointment, which shows that the said workman was appointed as a temporary Chaprashi for a probationary period of one year. It is contended by the Company that the appointment of Shri Singh was of a temporary nature fixed for a period of one year only. It appears from the evidence of P.W. 1, Shri Singh, that he was recruited in place of his brother when he went to Burdwan to do some work of the Company there. He further admitted in cross-examination that he used to do the same type of work which his brother used to do before his transfer. It is also clear from the evidence that his services had been dispensed with after his brother returned and resumed his duties. From his evidence there remains no manner of doubt that he worked as a substitute in place of his brother when he was transferred to do a job at Burdwan. The evidence as given by Shri Singh completely fits in with the case of the employer that Shri Singh was appointed in a temporary capacity in the vacancy caused by the transfer of his brother to Burdwan. Shri Singh categorically stated in his deposition that his brother got him employment as "badli" in his place. A badli workman means a person who is appointed in a post of permanent workman who is temporarily absent. The facts and circumstances of the case reveal that Shri Singh's employment was in the nature of a "badli" worker. There is no reason to think that the workman concerned was employed as a permanent workman. Rather he was engaged for doing a work which was essentially of a temporary nature likely to be finished within a limited period. It is true that in the letter of appointment it was mentioned that Shri Singh was appointed temporarily for a probationary period of one year. Considering the facts and circumstances of the case I am inclined to hold that the word "probationary" had been unnecessarily and inadvertently used to create confusion in the terms and conditions of his employment. Under the rules of service of this Company, it is true that all appointments, unless specifically mentioned, will be for a probationary period of six months and would be considered to be temporary up to that period. But in this case it has been mentioned that the appointment was temporary for a period of one year. The Company accordingly terminated the services of Shri Singh on completion of one year in accordance with the terms of appointment. There is nothing to show that the action of the employer regarding termination of service of Shri Singh was mala fide or that there was any idea of victimisation. The evidence of Shri Singh fully supports the case of the Company. In these considerations I hold that the termination of service of Shri Singh was justified. There is no reason to interfere with the action of the Company.

Issue No. 6

This issue relates to the question of fixation of number of the festival holidays. It appears that it is a practice with the Company to declare the days which are to be observed as festival holidays every year in the month of January. The Union produced in Ext. 3 the list of holidays as declared by the Company in January 1959. Similar list for 1959 notified in 1958 is also proved. The said list shows that the workmen in the Show Room enjoyed 16½ days holidays, those in the office 21½ days holidays and the Hindu workmen of the Workshop 20 days holidays and the Muslim workmen of the Workshop at 20 days holidays. The particular dates observed as holidays were, however, different for the Hindu and Muslim workers though the number of days at 20 remained the same for the workmen of either religion. It appears that the question of holidays came up for adjudication before Shri J. N. Maitra, Judge, Third Industrial Tribunal, in a dispute between the same parties referred to him for adjudication in January 1958. The learned Judge gave his award which was published in the "Calcutta Gazette, Extraordinary", dated 19th February 1959. It may be mentioned in this connection that the Company used to give eight festival holidays to the workmen at the time the previous award in 1950 was made. Since then the number of festival holidays had been increased. The number of holidays to be enjoyed by the workmen had been fixed at different number on days and dates for the Hindu and Muslim employees employed in the office, Show Room and Workshop. There is no controversy on the point that the number of holidays remained same in 1957, 1958 and 1959. Exhibit 3(a) gives the list of holidays for the different groups of workmen for the year 1958. In the award of 1959 it was stated that the number of holidays as then existing was quite adequate and should not be disturbed. The learned Judge, however took it that the Company had been allowing 14 or 15 days holidays in a year to all workmen. It was on the score of that observation of the learned Judge that the Company reduced the number of holidays to 14 or 15 days holidays as applicable to all categories of workmen. The learned lawyer for the Company urged that the dispute regarding the number of festival holidays is virtually connected with the question of interpretation of the award and this Tribunal cannot adjudicate upon the point in the scope of a reference made under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act. In short, it is stated that clarification of the award by a proper interpretation can be done only if there is a reference made by the appropriate Government under section 36A of the Industrial Disputes Act. I have carefully gone through the award of Shri Maitra on the issue regarding holidays and I am inclined to hold that it was clearly stated therein that the existing system of granting holidays to the different categories of workmen and the number of days to be observed as holidays should remain undisturbed. It was nowhere stated in the award that the number of holidays should be curtailed, or reduced and brought to the level of 14 or 15 days for all the workmen. Apparently there is no ambiguity in the award and no point for proper interpretation arises. Obviously, the employer had no justification to reduce the number of festival holidays. I accordingly decide that the workmen employed in the Show Room, Office and Workshop should get the same number of holidays as they were given in the year 1959 by the notification, marked as Ext. 3, and that the employer should issue a fresh notification after the publication of this award declaring the list of holidays to be observed in 1962 in conformity with the notification issued in 1958 or in 1959.

This is my award

The above dispute over the Issue given in the order of reference and reproduced below was referred for adjudication to this Tribunal by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department order No. 6080I.R./IR/10L-225/61, dated the 27th October 1961.

Issue

Whether the dismissal of Shri Anil Kumar Ganguly is justified? To what relief, if any, is he entitled?

The relevant cases of the respective parties regarding the issue may be briefly summarised as follows:

The case of the Union

The concerned worker, Shri Anil Kumar Ganguly, was a member of the sub-staff of the Company. He was also the Secretary of the Employees' Union. On 17th February 1961 the Company issued a charge-sheet and a suspension order against Shri S. S. V. Achari, a senior Electrical Engineer and a member of the Union. This caused serious resentment amongst the workers and there was a spontaneous strike of the workers for one hour from 12 a.m. to 1 p.m. The office was closed on that day at 1 p.m. in honour of the visit of the queen of England to Calcutta. Shri Anil Kumar Ganguly failed to control the workers in regard to the strike resorted to by them on 17th February 1961. He approached Shri K. P. Bhargava, the Director of the Company, and tried to impress upon him the volume of resentment of the members of the Union against the action taken against Shri Achari and requested him to withdraw his order of suspension, but this was of no avail. Rather it annoyed the Director, who did not like that Shri Anil Kumar Ganguly, a member of the sub-staff, should meet him and discuss the matter with him. The office was closed on 18th February 1961 and 19th February 1961 in honour of the queen's visit and it reopened on 20th February 1961 and on this date, the workers joined their respective duties but recorded their protests by a joint petition of 64 workmen to the Company and a joint meeting of the Union and the Management also took place on that date, but without any effect. As a mark of protest against the uncompromising attitude of the Company in regard to the suspension of Shri Achari, all the workmen again resorted to a peaceful strike on 21st February 1961. On this date, Shri Anil Kumar Ganguly and other responsible mebers of the Union also met the Director and the Chairman of the Company and requested them to withdraw the order of suspension against Shri Achari and the Union members peacefully left the room after the Director wanted some time to think over the matter. At 4-15 p.m. of the same day, the Company threatened a 'lock-out' by a notice and alleged that the strike against the order of suspension of Shri Anil Kumar Ganguly was illegal and unjustified. The strike of the workmen was not illegal or unjustified, but still to avoid any further complications, the Union leaders persuaded the workmen to resume their normal duties from the next day and the Chairman of the Company was informed of this by the President of the Union on the night of 21st February 1961. On 22nd February 1961 all the workers resumed their normal duties and this was due to the efforts of the President and Secretary of the Union and there was full work in the office from 22nd February 1961. The Company, however, issued a charge-sheet to the concerned worker, Shri Anil Kumar Ganguly on 27th February 1961 at 5 p.m. and immediately suspended him. The charges against him were that he had taken part in the illegal strike on 17th February 1961 and 21st February 1961 and had also actively fomented the strike by instigating the willing and loyal workers to join in the strike and in some cases by actually threatening them with violence and also by obstructing some loyal employees from doing their normal duties and actually using violence to some workers engaged in doing their normal duties. The charges made against him were absolutely vague, baseless and concocted. Shri Anil Kumar Ganguly submitted an explanation denying the charges and the allegations made against him by a letter, dated 1st March 1961. Thereafter, the Company held a 'stage managed' enquiry without the least intention of doing any justice to the concerned worker. In the enquiry, some tutored witnesses were examined and then the concerned worker was found guilty and thereafter he was dismissed by a letter, dated 27th April 1961. The Company made 'a mountain of a mole hill' in regard to the charge against Shri Ganguly simply in order to victimise him and to create a reign of terror among the workmen. The punishment of dismissal in the present case was harsh and shocking to the conscience and amounted to victimisation and/or unfair labour practice and/or violation of the principles of natural justice. The finding of guilty against the concerned worker by the enquiring officer was also perverse and basically wrong in law and in facts. The concerned worker is, therefore, entitled to be reinstated to his former service with full back wages for the period of unemployment. These are the reliefs claimed by the Union for the concerned worker.

The Company's case

Shri A. K. Ganguly was working with the Company as a member of the subordinate staff for about seven years and he was the Secretary of the Employees' Union. On 17th February 1961 t Company issued a charge-sheet to Shri S. S. Achari, an Electrical Engineer, for gross insubor nation and suspended him pending enquiry. B before any disciplinery action was actually tak against him, Shri A. K. Ganguly, along with oth workmen, suddenly and without any previous in mation, staged a stay-in-strike from 12 noon to p.m. at which hour, the officer was closed on th date. On the next working day, 20th February 19 all the workmen worked normally for the whole da but on 21st February 1961, there was again sudd stoppage of work by Shri Anil Kumar Ganguly alo with other workmen for the whole day. In conne tion with the strike on 21st February 1961, Sh Ganguly completely misused his position as t Secretary of the Union and acted in a most irre ponsible way by interfering with the work of t willing members of the technical and clerical st and went to the length of threatening and coerci them to stop work. On receipt of a written com plaint against Shri Ganguly, a charge-sheet wa issued to him on 27th February 1961. He submitte a reply to the charge. Thereafter, a departmenta enquiry was held in the presence of Shri Anil Kum Ganguly and the President of the Union, who is a outsider. In this departmental enquiry, all possibl opportunity was given to Shri Anil Kumar Gangu to defend himself against the charges and exami his own witnesses. As a result of the enquiry, th Management came to the clear decision that Sh Ganguly was guilty of the charges and accordingl dismissed him by the letter, dated 27th April 19 The dismissal of Shri Ganguly was just, proper a bona fide and he is not entitled to any relief.

Decision

The worker, Shri Anil Kumar Ganguly, wa Secretary of the concerned Union at the relev tim On 17th February 1961 there was a strik of employees of the Company as a protest agai the issue of charge-sheet to Shri S. S. V. Achari Engineer, and his immediate suspension from servic 18th and 19th February were declared holidays b the Company in honour of the visit of the queen England to this city. On 20th February 1961 th was no trouble in the office of the Company and th employees worked and performed their duties a usual, but on 21st February 1961, there was aga trouble in the office. A section of the employe resorted to strike again as a protest against the actio taken by the Company against Shri S. S. V. Achari Shri Anil Kumar Ganguly came to office on that da at 9 a.m. as usual and at first attended to his duties But when there was partial strike in the office, h approached some employees, who had not partic cipated in the strike, to stop work. All these fac are undisputed and admitted by both sides. Th Company's case is that on 21st February 1961, Sh Anil Kumar Ganguly tried to force the loyal worker to stop work and join the strike by holding ou threats of physical violence to them. The case of th Union and the concerned worker, Shri Anil Kumar Ganguly on this point is, however, that Shri Anil Kumar Ganguly very politely requested the loyal workers to stop work to prevent any trouble and em toward situation arising because the striking worker expressed a very stiff and hostile attitude against the loyal workers. It has been contended on behalf of the Union and the concerned worker, that Shri Anil Kumar Ganguly requested the loyal workers to stop work in the situation prevailing on that day in the interests of peace and tranquility in the office and with the bona fide intention of preventing any serious trouble arising out of a possible clash between the striking and the non-striking workers. Shri Anil Kumar Ganguly was served with the charge-sheet, Ext. A, dated the 27th February 1961. The charge-sheet related to his alleged conducts on 17th February and on 21st February 1961. There were three heads of charge in the charge-sheet. The first was that on 17th February 1961, he had suddenly stopped work and started a stay-in or sit-down strike along with other subordinate staff. This strike was described as unjustified and illegal. The second charge was that he had participated in the stay-in or sit-down strike on 21st February 1961, which was also unjustified and illegal. The third charge was that he had taken an active part in fomenting such unjustified and illegal strike and instigated other willing and loyal employees to join in such unjustified and illegal strike and in fact intimidated and threatened with physical violence both the staff of this Company as well as the staff of International Combustion (India) Private Ltd. on their refusal to join the strike, and he had further caused obstruction to loyal employees while they were performing their duties and had snatched away some papers and files from some loyal and willing employees by threatening them with violence. It is an admitted position that after the charge-sheet, there was in fact an elaborate enquiry regarding the charges and the enquiry was held by an officer of the Company in the immediate presence of Shri Nepal Bhattacharjee, the Union President, and the worker, Shri Anil Kumar Ganguly, and both of them actively participated in the enquiry in which witnesses were examined in support of the charges and they were cross-examined by the Union President and there was no denial of opportunity to the concerned worker to defend himself and to produce evidence on his behalf. Exts. G and G(1) are the admitted copies of the enquiry proceedings. Ext. G(1) was admitted in evidence, because it was found that there were some omissions in the proceedings covered by Ext. G. In dealing with the enquiry proceedings, I will henceforward refer to Ext. G(1), because admittedly it contains the full proceedings. It appears that in support of the third charge of Shri Anil Kumar Ganguly having tried to stop some loyal workers from doing their work on 21st February 1961, by holding out threats of physical violence, the Company produced three letters of complaint written by Shri P. Dutta, Shri N. Ghoshal and Shri S. Sen (vide Exts. H, I and J). Shri P. Dutta and Shri N. Ghoshal were employees of the concerned Company [Messrs. Steam and Mining Equipment (I) Private Ltd.] and Shri S. Sen was then an employee of Messrs. International Combustion (I) Private Ltd. There is evidence to show and it is also an admitted position that the offices of these two Companies are situated in the same premises and workers of these companies sit in the same room side by side for doing their works. Ext. K is the report of the enquiring officer, Shri D. N. Mukherjee. The report shows that Shri Anil Kumar Ganguly was found guilty of misdemeanour, because he participated in the sudden strike which took place on 17th February 1961. This strike was held to be illegal, because it was commenced without any notice. He was similarly found guilty for participating in the partial strike which took place on 21st February 1961 and out of the three specific complaints against him of trying to stop some loyal workers from performing their duties by holding out threats of violence on 21st February 1961, he was found guilty only in respect of the complaint of Shri S. Sen, but was found not guilty in respect of the other two complaints by Shri P. Dutta and Shri N. Ghoshal. Upon this enquiry report, the concerned worker, Shri Anil Kumar Ganguly, was dismissed from service in terms of the letter, dated 27th April 1961 (Ext. L).

So far as the proceedings of the enquiry are concerned, it is not disputed at all that Ext. G(1) contains the entire proceedings and the proceedings per se are not challenged as violating any principle of natural justice. It is clear from the proceedings themselves that it was very thorough and elaborate enquiry held in the immediate presence of the concerned worker and the Union President and every opportunity was offered to the concerned worker to defend himself and to put forward his own witnesses, if any. No complaint about any defect in these matters has been made before this Tribunal. It has, however, been contended that the enquiry proceedings which otherwise conformed to the principles of natural justice in regard to form, were vitiated by a spirit of victimisation and the findings of the enquiring officer, which went against the concerned worker, were perverse and baseless. I will now deal with these two grounds of attack against the enquiry proceedings and the findings.

After considering the materials placed before me, I am unable to hold that the enquiry proceedings were conducted in a spirit of victimisation though outwardly it conformed to the principles of natural justice. The enquiry proceedings cannot be held to be vitiated by a spirit of victimisation unless it is made out that this Company had a pre-conceived intention of victimising the concerned worker by dismissal. In order to make out such a case of preconceived intention, it should further be shown that the Company had some reason for harbouring some grudge or bias against the concerned worker for some well-defined reasons. The evidence is that this worker served in the Company for about seven years as a peon and he was a member of the sub-staff. It is also in evidence that he was the General Secretary of the Employees' Union since 1957. There is nothing to show that during the whole period of his service under this Company, any disciplinary action was ever taken against him or that the Company expressed its bias against him in any manner or form. The evidence discloses that there was cordial relation between the Company and the Union. Ext. M shows that there was amicable settlement between the Company and the Union regarding the charter of demands submitted by the Union. No complaint has been raised in the present case that the Company is not honouring the settlement in regard to any particular matter. The concerned worker, Shri Anil Kumar Ganguly, has stated in his evidence that he went to the Management many times on behalf of the Union and whenever he went to the Management for maintenance of peace amongst the workers, the Management became angry with him and accused him of creating trouble. Practically, this remains the only evidence to prove that the Company harboured a spirit of victimisation against this rker. I am unable to believe the statements of s worker that the Management became angry with n simply because he approached the Management behalf of the workers. There is absolutely no cor-oration of this evidence either from other evidence from any circumstance. So, this idea of the con-ned worker cannot but be dismissed as pure tion. I, therefore, hold that it has not been proved it the Company had any preconceived intention of timising the concerned worker and so, the quiry proceedings were conducted in a spirit of timisation in a subjective way. As I have already licated above, no complaint has been raised inst the actual proceedings of the enquiry, and I perfectly satisfied from the evidence and circum-nces of the case that after the charge-sheet, Ext. was served upon the concerned worker and he had mitted his reply (Ext. C), every opportunity was en to the concerned worker to prepare for the quiry which was proposed to be held regarding charges and the holding of the enquiry was ourned on several occasions at his request (vide ts. D, E and F). I have also indicated above that proceedings reveal that there was a very elaborate quiry in the immediate presence of the concerned rker and the Union President and with their ive participation and every opportunity was given the concerned worker to defend himself against charges and the concerned worker fully availed nself of the opportunity. Accordingly, I reject the ion's case that the enquiry proceeding was vitiated a spirit of victimisation.

now come to the next contention of the Union t the findings of the enquiring officer in so far as y are against the concerned worker were baseless perverse. I have already indicated above the lings of the enquiring officer in respect of the eral charges against the concerned worker. I have hesitation to say at once that his finding that the ncerned worker was guilty of misdemeanour tifying dismissal from service because of his simple ticipation in the strike which took place on 17th ruary 1961 and 21st February 1961, by way of test against the disciplinary action taken by the mpany against Shri S. S. V. Achari, an Engineer of Company, is certainly perverse and baseless. ause the enquiring officer made this finding in the w that the strike itself was illegal because it was nched 'without any notice, sufficient or otherwise'. is strike cannot be said to have been illegal. ause it did not contravene sec. 23 Industrial Dis-es Act, which could only apply to such a strike. tion 22 has no application in the present case, ause it was not a strike in a public utility service. notice is required for launching a strike under the when it is a strike in a non-public utility service. e strike in the present case did not certainly con-vene any of the provisions of clauses (a) to (c) of tion 23. It is well-settled that the right to go a strike is one of the fundamental rights of an lustrial worker and if it is not launched in con-vention of any provision of law, it cannot be said be illegal (vide 1953 L.A.C., page 32). This ition has also been conceded by the learned re-sentative for the Company. He has not supported finding of the enquiring officer that the strike orted to by the workers of the Company on 17th bruary 1961 and 21st February 1961 was illegal and the workers who participated in the strike were guilty of misdemeanour justifying dismissal. This finding of the enquiring officer is based upon a total misconception of law and fact and it is, therefore, basically perverse and wrong. Had the dismissal of the concerned worker been based upon this finding alone, I would have no hesitation to declare the dismissal to be void and inoperative and to grant him appropriate reliefs.

I now come to the most important finding of the enquiring officer. This finding relates to the charge that Shri Anil Kumar Ganguly intimidated and threatened with physical violence both the staff of this Company as well as the staff of Messrs. International Combustion (I) Private Ltd., on their refusal to join the strike. The enquiring officer has found him guilty of this charge. The relevant portion of his finding stands as follows:—"It has been proved beyond all doubts that Shri Anil Ganguly intimated and threatened with physical violence both the staff of this Company as well as the staff of International Combustion of India Private Ltd. Such acts on the part of Shri Ganguly to try to coarce other clearical staff to join in the illegal and unjustified strike and threatening them with physical violence if they would not cease work and join the strike are really acts subversive of discipline in the office and is guilty of misdemeanour. Shri Ganguly as the Secretary of the Union, was interested in making the stay-in-strike a complete success and in his zeal, he exceeded his limits and threatened and intimidated other loyal and willing employees who did not join in the unjustified and illegal strike. I find him guilty of the charge made against him." So, this is a clear finding that Shri Ganguly threatened and intimidated other loyal and willing employees in order to force them to join the strike. Of course, he is not correct in saying that the strike was illegal and unjustified. But that matters little. Right of strike which is a fundamental right of an industrial worker, cannot necessarily carry with it also the right to intimidate loyal and willing workers in order to force them to join the strike. Such threat or intimidation on the part of a worker would amount to misconduct. The following observations of the Labour Appellate Tribunal in the case reported in L. A. C. 1958, page 32, may be cited as authority on the point:—

> "We must, however, state in clear and emphatic terms that termination of service, by way of discharge or dismissal or otherwise, of a striking employee or employees for violent, disorderly or indecent conduct, or for other acts of similar nature, or for using force or threats of violence to prevent loyal employees from attending to their duties or to others, with a view to prevent their lawful activities would be outside the rule, on the reason that those grounds would be considered to be extraneous to the industrial dispute, for which the strike was started."

So, even if a worker has got the fundamental right of going on strike in connection with a trade dispute, this right cannot be extended to cover violent, disorderly or indecent conduct or using force or threats of violence to prevent loyal employees from attending to their duties. So, a clear distinction is made between the right to go on strike simply and the use of violence or threats of violence for promoting a strike. While the former would be legal, the ter would be illegal and amount to misconduct. ıe concerned worker, Shri Anil Kumar Ganguly, s been clearly found guilty of such misconduct the enquiring officer upon the materials placed fore him. I find from the enquiry proceedings at a number of witnesses was examined before m and he based his above finding upon his own w of the entire evidence. It is well-settled that dealing with the proceedings and the findings of domestic enquiry held in connection with an lustrial dispute, the industrial tribunal is not to ıction as a court of appeal sitting in judgment er the findings of fact. It is also well-settled that e industrial tribunal cannot proceed on its own w of the evidence produced before the enquiring icer when some evidence has been produced and ry or set aside the finding of the enquiring officer his own view of the evidence. This principle s been very recently re-iterated in the case orted in Indian Factories and Labour Reports, olume 3, Part I, page 46 (July 1961). Applying e above principle in the present case, I do not ink that I should be justified in setting aside or noring the aforesaid finding of the enquiring officer the ground of any infirmity in evidence produced fore him or on the ground that his view of the idence was incorrect. It cannot be gainsaid that ere was some evidence before him in support of e of threat of violence towards Shri S. Sen, a loyal rker. It is also practically an admitted position at the concerned worker, Shri Anil Kumar nguly, approached the loyal workers and ked them to stop work. In his own evidence, ri Anil Kumar Ganguly has made the following tement: "In the hall, some of the workers told e that a section of the workers was still working d I as Secretary of the Union should see that ey stopped work, otherwise there might be trouble. went to the others who were working and explain- the position to them and asked them very politely stop work at least for some time so that there ight not be any trouble." He has of-course denied at he threatened any employee for not joining e strike. The real question, therefore, is whether simply requested the other workers to stop work d join the strike without holding any threat of olence or he asked them to stop work under threat violence to them. Of these two opposite versions the contending parties, the enquiring officer cepted the version of the Company's side. After ing through the relevant proceedings of the quiry and the evidence placed before the enquir- officer, I cannot say that this finding was rverse or baseless. Shri S. Sen was clearly asked out this matter and he denied that Shri Anil mar Ganguly simply requested him politely and id that he acted like giving an order. Shri Sen as asked about the actual words used by Shri nil Kumar Ganguly to him and he gave the words follows: "It will not be good for you if you ntinue the work and you will feel the consequence, at is, after 5 p.m.". This was certainly threaten- and intimidating him in order to stop him from ing his official duties. Similar words were used Shri Anil Kumar Ganguly to Shri A. S. R. Rau. other worker of this Company that day and cording to the evidence of this worker. Anil mar Ganguly told him that if he continued his b, there would be a consequence after office hours. he evidence of Shri S. Sen was corroborated by the evidence of Shri S. K. Basu. I have referred to some relevant evidence recorded in the enquiry proceedings to show that it is not a case where the finding of the enquiring officer was baseless and perverse because there was absolutely no evidence upon which this finding could be based. I hold, therefore, that this finding of the enquiring officer was not perverse or baseless and on the contrary, I find that it was quite a possible finding upon the evidence and was quite bona fide. So, this finding of misconduct of the concerned worker, Shri Anil Kumar Ganguly, arising out of his threatening and intimidating the loyal workers in order to force them to stop work and join the strike is accepted as quite bona fide and correct and upon this finding alone, his dismissal must be held to be justified. Dismissal must be held to be justifiable for such a misconduct and this position is not altered in the least by the legal principle that the workers were free to go on strike in connection with a trade dispute and that such a strike by itself would not be illegal or amount to a misconduct.

The learned Advocate appearing for the Union has also contended that the enquiring officer made a "mountain of a mole hill" by finding the concerned worker guilty of misconduct for using threat of violence towards loyal workers. This contention has been raised on the basis that what Shri Ganguly actually did was that he requested the workers to stop work so that there might not be trouble and this was misunderstood. The learned Advocate has cited the case of Nurse Avarani Debi in the Supreme Court decision, reported in 1958(I)L.L.J., page 260 at page 269, in support of his contention. In view of my clear finding recorded above that the enquiring officer in the present case was justified in finding that this worker was guilty of using threat of violence towards loyal workers on 21st February 1961 and this finding was quite bona fide there is certainly no scope for application of the principle of "making a mountain of a mole hill". Furthermore, the case of Avarani as stated in the Supreme Court decision, bears little analogy to the present case. Avarani was found to have made some comments to a Sweeper named Karoo with regard to a pass issued to him and the comments were innocuous in themselves, but these were magnified into a charge of intimidation. In the present case, there was a clear complaint by Shri S. Sen and there was clear evidence in the enquiry about his and some others being threatened and intimidated by Shri Anil Ganguly. In the above view of the matter, I reject the argument of the learned Advocate about the enquiring officer making "a mountain of a mole hill" regarding the charge of intimidation and threat of violence against the concerned worker, Shri Anil Kumar Ganguly. Lastly, it has been argued that as it has been disclosed in evidence that at the relevant time, i.e., on 21st February 1961, Shri S. Sen was working as an employee of Messrs. International Combustion (I) Private Ltd. and not as an employee of Messrs. Steam and Mining Equipment (I) Private Ltd., the Company directly concerned in the present case, use of intimidation and threat of violence against him could not be a justifiable ground for dismissal of the concerned worker by the concerned Company, Messrs. Steam and Mining Equipment (I) Private Ltd. It is in evidence that offices of both the companies are situated in the same building and their workers sit for work side by side in the same room and their employees have the same Union. It is further in evidence that Shri S. Sen worked for Messrs. Steam and Mining Equipment (I) Private Ltd. before January 1961, and then he was transferred to Messrs. International Combustion (I) Private Ltd. It is clear that the concerned worker, Shri Anil Kumar Ganguly, approached him and intimidated him to join the strike taking him to be a worker of Messrs. Steam and Mining Equipment (I) Private Ltd., whose workers had gone on strike as a protest against the action taken against Shri S. S. V. Achari by the Company. It is stated by P.W. 3 Shri Premlal Bohra that on 21st February 1961, there was strike in both the Companies. So, the real intention of the concerned worker, Shri Anil Kumar Ganguly, was to support and promote the strike by using the unjustifiable means of intimidation and threat of violence. This was certainly sufficient misconduct for which he could be dismissed by the Company which employed him. Moreover, evidence was given before the enquiring officer by at least another worker of this Company, Messrs. Steam and Mining Equipment (I) Private Ltd., Shri A. S. R. Rau, that he too was threatened and intimated to stop work. I have already referred to his evidence before. So, it is clear that Shri Anil Kumar Ganguly was out to support and promote the strike even by threatening and intimidating the loyal workers and this was certainly a misconduct, as already indicated above. In the result, I find that the concerned worker was legally and justifiably dismissed on being found guilty of the charge of intimidating and threatening with physical violence the loyal workers of this Company.

On the basis of my last finding recorded above, I decide the issue in favour of the Company and against the concerned worker and award that the dismissal of the concerned worker, Shri Anil Kumar Ganguly, was justified and so, he is not entitled to any relief.

AWARD

By order No. 57-I.R./IR/11L-343/59, dated the 6th January 1961, the Government of West Bengal in the Labour Department, referred under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Pioneer Match Factory, 16 Dum Dum Road, Calcutta-28, and their workmen represented by Pioneer Match Factory Mazdur Union, 22-1 Kali Charan Ghosh Road, Calcutta-2 regarding the matter specified in the schedule, to the Third Industrial Tribunal, constituted under section 7A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, by notification No. 808-I.R. IR 3A-2/57, dated the 19th March 1957, for adjudication.

The reference relates to an industrial dispute between Messrs. Pioneer Match Factory, 16 Dum Dum Road, Calcutta-28 (hereinafter be referred to as the Company), and their workmen represented by Pioneer Match Factory Mazdur Union (hereinafter be referred to as the Union).

The reference was received from the Government on 13th January 1961 and immediately thereafter notices were sent out for service upon both parties. Eleventh February 1961 was the date for appearance of the parties. On service of notices the Company entered appearance on the very first date but the Union failed to turn up in time. However, the Union appeared a bit late and took five adjournments before filing written statement of claim on 12th April 1961. The Company also took adjournment to file written statement. The case was taken up after completion of steps by both parties regarding production of documents.

The Union's case as stated in the written statement is that the Company is a leading and prosperous match manufacturing concern employing about 340 workmen in the factory. The workers of the Company are very poorly paid, the minimum wages being Rs. 12 per month or 44 nP. per day without any other allowance or amenities. The workmen of the Company for the purpose of collective bargaining formed a Union in September 1959, but the formation of the Union was not taken in good grace by the Company. The workmen with a view to improve their service conditions approached the Company but without any relief. Ultimately the workmen through their Union submitted a charter of demands on 21st October 1960. On receipt of the charter of demands the management grew angry and victimised 34 female workers who were active members of the Union by their illegal retrenchment without compliance with the provisions of sections 9A and 25F of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947. The Union promptly brought this fact to the notice of the Labour Directorate. At the instance of Assistant Labour Commissioner, a joint conference was convened but no conciliation was possible on account of unsympathetic and non-comprising attitude of the Company. Hence the dispute was referred to this tribunal. The Union prays for reinstatement of all the 34 female workers and their full wages for the period of forced unemployment.

The Company, in its written statement, has denied the allegations made by the Union. It has contended that it is a losing concern. In March 1953 the factory had to be closed down owing to financial stringency. The management after great efforts could restart the factory in May 1954, but still it could not improve its financial position. The Company with a view to effect gradual mechanisation, in order to survive in the present competitive market, has replaced some workmen by installation of machinery and in order to do that the Company has duly complied with the provisions of the Industrial Disputes Act. It has denied alleged victimisation or unfair labour practice.

The only issue involved in this case is:—

Whether the retrenchment of the female workers (names mentioned in the list attached) is justified? To what relief, if any, are they entitled?

Decision

The Union has urged before me that the termination of services of 34 female workers by the Company amounted to an act of victimisation and unfair labour practice. On the other hand, the Company has denied the allegations of the Union and has contended that the impugned retrenchment of the 34 women employees was, in fact, a bona fide act on the part of the Company inasmuch as it was the inevitable result of implementation of the scheme of re-organisation for reasons of economy and convenience.

The case of the Union is that the Company was very much exploiting its women workmen and repeatedly turned a deaf ear to their legitimate grievances put forward by the workmen individually. At long last in September 1959 they formed a trade union for the purpose of collective bargaining. The Company was enraged by the formation of the trade union and it consistently refused to accord recognition to the Union. Ultimately, however, the Company had to sit with the representatives of the Union in a tripartite conference convened by the Assistant Labour Commissioner in connection with an industrial dispute between the Company and its employees. Exhibit 5 is memorandum of settlement arrived at in that tripartite conference which was held in May 1960. This document shows that a dispute arose over dismissal of a number of workmen and about 12 workmen were laid off which was resented by the rest of the workmen who staged a stay-in-strike. The management declared a lock-out but ultimately it was lifted. In connection with the above disputes, the Company ultimately had to agree to certain terms in the conciliation proceedings attended by the management and the Union President representing the workmen and the conciliation officer. So, the Union was not to the liking of the management. It would appear that the Union presented its charter of demands to the Company on 15th October 1960. Exhibit 1 is the copy of the charter of demands which was despatched to the Company under registered post with acknowledgment due. The Company received the same on 24th October 1960 [vide Ext. 1(b)]. The Union having received no reply or response from the management addressed a letter on 1st November 1960 (Ext. A) to the Assistant Labour Commissioner requesting his intervention in the matter. Copy of the said letter was forwarded to the management which the management has produced. This document is marked Ext. A. So the Company did not take the Union's activities in good grace and this fact will be abundantly clear from the Company's attitude in suppressing material facts, e.g., statutory notices from the Union as well as from the workmen who are members of the Union. I shall come to these facts at a later stage. For the present let me consider the Union's allegation that the Company's action in discharging 34 women workers with effect from 16th November 1960 is nothing but a colourable exercise of power and it amounted to an act of victimisation and unfair labour practice inasmuch as the said employees were active members of the Union who used to take leading part in the trade union activities and as such the Company could not tolerate their presence. The Company has given a strong denial to this allegation and has, on the other hand, contended that the retrenchment was the inevitable result of re-organisation of the band-rolling department by introducing machineries in place of manual labour. On a careful consideration of the materials placed on the record I am however, satisfied that the Company organised the band-rolling department by introducing machineries in place of manual workers and that apparently it was effected for reasons of economy and convenience. The Union has stated in the written statement that the Company after receiving the charter of demands became furious and at once victimised 34 female workers who were active members of the Union. There is, of course, no dispute that these employees are members of the Union but it has been strongly denied that they are active members of the Union. There is hardly any evidence on the record to show that these female workers were active members of the Union and were ever taking prominent part in trade union activities. There is no evidence to show that any one of them is an office bearer of the Union or a member of the executive committee of the Union. Therefore, there is hardly any substance in the allegation that these female workers were penalised by discharging them on account of their trade union activities. There may be some truth in the Union's allegation that the Company was enraged by the formation of the trade union. This fact became quite apparent when it was urged before me on behalf of the Company that the Company had no knowledge of the Union because of the Union's omission to communicate in writing about the formation of the Union, although D.W. 3 Shri Manick Lal Binani, an active Partner of the Company, had to admit the tripartite agreement, Ext. 5, which was arrived at in the joint conference of the Company and the Union representing the Company's workmen convened at the instance of the then Assistant Labour Commissioner who acted as the Conciliation Officer. It was in May 1960. In spite of this admitted fact I wonder how it could be urged on behalf of the Company at the time of hearing of this case that the Company had no knowledge of the Union. This plea of ignorance of the Union was purposely advanced on behalf of the Company because the Company, as it will appear, intentionally suppressed service of notice in Form E under rule 34 of the West Bengal Industrial Dispute Rules, 1958, upon the Secretary or principal officer of the Union. I shall revert to this point later on, but for the present I must dispose of the Union's allegation that the retrenchment of the 34 women workers amounted to an act of victimisation or unfair labour practice. I have already stated that there is hardly any evidence to prove that these 34 women workers were active members of the Union or they were taking active part in the trade union activities, or the Company had to take exception to their acts and conducts in connection with any of the trade union activities. There is little evidence to prove that all these women workers of the band-rolling department were taking parts in the trade union activities or were organizing their Union in such a way as to enrage the Company or to be taken serious notice of by the Company. It may be that a few of them were previously discharged but subsequently the Company had to re-employ them with effect from 16th May 1960 in terms of the tripartite settlement.

In support of the Company's contention there is evidence to show that band-rolling machines have been installed to replace the manual works done by these female workers. Evidence of a partner of the Company goes to show that the Company was incurring loss. Therefore, the partners took a decision to re-organise the department by installation of machinery with a view to effect economy. The Company has produced its balance-sheets for the years 1958 and 1960 (Exts. F and F/1) to show its loss. It will appear on the face of the balance-sheets of these two years that the Company incurred loss in the two years. It will, however, appear from the Auditor's report that the Company did not produce some material documents before the auditors and that the accounts of these two years were audited almost on the eve of hearing of this case, i.e., in July and October 1961. The Company has not assigned any reason for this delay in auditing their accounts of the year 1958 at least. However, these are the documents to show the Company's loss during the two years. It further appears from Ext. G that the Company approached the Assistant Collector, Central Excise, for enjoying the preferential rates of duty mainly on the ground of its poor sale and bad financial position. The Company approached the authority in December 1960, i.e., shortly after effecting the retrenchment of 34 female workers. Then again the Company applied for import of capital goods from Japan. Exhibit I are the papers in connection with the intended import of machineries from Japan. This application was, however, made very late on 27th November 1961, i.e., almost before the hearing of this case and about a year after retrenchment of the workmen. The Company has, of course, produced a chart, Ext. E, to show that the cost of production by hand process would have been considerably higher than the cost of production with the help of machineries. There is, of course, hardly any evidence to challenge this fact. It is admitted by the Union's witness No. 4, Shri Adhir Chandra Adhikari, who is the Assistant Secretary of the Union, that since the retrenchment of the women workers the work in the band-rolling department is being carried on with the help of machineries. Therefore, I am satisfied from the evidence that the Company had to retrench the women workers of the band-rolling department for the purpose of effecting mechanisation of the process for reasons of economy and convenience. Therefore, the retrenchment of the 34 women workers will have to be considered as an inevitable consequence of the implementation of the re-organised scheme, which the employer, acting bona fide, was entitled to adopt. In this view I am fortified by the decision of the Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of D. Macropollo & Co. Private Ltd. vs. its workmen reported in 1958 L.L.J., Vol. II, page 492.

It has just been found that there is some justification for retrenchment of 34 female workers of the band-rolling department by the Company because it was the inevitable consequence of the implementation of the re-organised scheme of mechanization of the work of band-rolling for reasons of economy and convenience. But the Company even for the purpose of adopting its re-organised scheme, cannot all on a sudden, retrench the workmen arbitrarily at its sweetwill and without compliance with the provisions of law. It is provided in section 9A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, that no employer, who proposes to effect any change in the conditions of service applicable to any workman in respect of any matter specified in the 4th schedule, shall effect such change:—

(a) without giving to the workman, likely to be affected by such change, a notice in the prescribed manner of the nature of the change proposed to be effected; or

(b) within 21 days of giving such notice.

In the 4th schedule it is provided that "rationalisation, standardisation or improvement of plant or technic which is likely to lead to retrenchment of workmen," is one of the conditions of service for change of which, notice is to be given. It is provided in rule 34 of the West Bengal Industrial Dispute Rules, 1958, that any employer intending to effect any change in the conditions of service applicable to any workman in respect of any matter specified in the 4th schedule, shall give notice of such intention in Form E. The prescribed Form E shows that it is to be addressed by the employer to the Secretary/Principal Officer of the Union Association, the workman or workmen affected.

In this particular case the Company had to admit that it did not send any notice in prescribed Form E as required by rule 34 to the President or Secretary of the Association of the workmen concerned. It has been urged before me on behalf of the Company that the formation of the Union was not formally communicated to the Company and, therefore, the Company could ignore the existence of the Union. The Union was formed in September 1959. The Company had to admit its knowledge of the existence of the Union of the workmen. Not only the Company had mere knowledge of formation of the Union, but also the Company actually came in contact with the Union and on earlier occasions had to sit with the Union in a tripartite conference convened by the Assistant Labour Commissioner, Government of West Bengal, for the purpose of effecting conciliation of some of the disputes cropped up between the Company on one hand and its workmen on the other. The Company's partner D.W. 3, Shri Manick Lal Binani, had to admit this fact and there is also the memorandum of agreement, Ext. 5, which was effected in the early part of 1960. Therefore, there is no substance in the contention advanced on behalf of the Company to support its conduct of non-compliance with the legal provisions requiring notice before effecting a change under section 9A of the Industrial Disputes Act.

Not only the notice as contemplated by section 9A of the Industrial Disputes Act was suppressed from the Union but also it was suppressed from the concerned employees as well. No such notice in Form E was issued to any of the 34 retrenched women workers. There was an attempt almost at the last moment of the hearing of this case on the part of the Company to show service of such notice under section 9A of the Industrial Disputes Act upon the employees by displaying such a notice in the band-rolling department. But the evidence on this point is absolutely unreliable and unconvincing. The Company has produced a Bengali version of the notice under section 9A which is marked Ext. B. This notice, according to the Company's witness, D.W. 1 Shri Apurba Lal Chakravarti, was displayed in the band-rolling department on 26th October 1960 and the contents of the notice according to the said witness, were explained to the female workers of the band-rolling department including P.W. 2 Sm. Usharani Adhikari. The Union has emphatically denied the alleged publication of this particular notice either on the 26th October 1960 or at any time before the actual hearing of this case. D.W. 1 Shri Apurba Lal Chakravarti remained all along present in the tribunal during the examination of the Union's witnesses but the Company had not the courage to confront P.W. 2 Sm. Usharani Adhikari about the alleged publication of service of this particular notice, Ext. B, in the manner stated by D.W. 1 Shri Apurba Lal Chakravarti. It may be noted that this particular notice (in Bengali), Ext. B, was produced by the Company before this tribunal. At the last moment while the hearing of this case was in progress, and not earlier at the proper moment and on the date fixed for production. The Company produced a list of documents but this particular notice in Bengali, Ext. B, was not included therein. No explanation was forthcoming as to the suspicious delay in production of this document at the last moment. Those employees who deposed in this case, have strongly denied publication of such a notice by the Company. According to P.W. 1 Shri Apurba Lal Chakravarti, this notice was explained by him to the employees of the band-rolling department by him in presence of the Supervisor Shri Chitta Saha. But there is nothing to corroborate him on this point. Not only Chitta Saha has not been examined by the Company but also there is no writing or endorsement to show publication of this notice by D.W. 1 Shri Apurba Lal Chakrabarti in presence of Shri Chitta Saha. None comes to corroborate the statement of D.W. 2 Shri Apurba Lal Chakravarti about publication of this notice, Ext. B, in the band-rolling department. On the contrary, the employees of the band-rolling section and also of another department have denied publication of this notice, Ext. B, in the band-rolling department or at any prominent place in the factory. Moreover, freshness of the writing of this notice, Ext. B, goes to support the Union's allegation that it has recently been manufactured by the Company for the purpose of this case. The Company is not in a position to offer any explanation for late production of this document before this tribunal. The Company had not the courage to confront P.W. 2 Sm. Usharani Adhikari and P.W. 3 Sm. Charu Das by producing this document, Ext. B, before them about the alleged publication thereof in their presence in the band-rolling department. This particular notice, Ext. B, was produced by the Company only after the close of the evidence on the side of the Union. So, the suspicion of the Union was gaining all the more ground because of this conduct on the part of the Company. P.W. 2 Sm. Usharani Adhikari has deposed in a straightforward way to deny the alleged publication of such a notice, Ext. B, or any other notice either on them individually or in the band-rolling department. She has stated in his cross-examination that had there been publication of this notice, Ext. B, by Apurba Babu, then they would not have turned up to resume their duties in the morning of the 16th November 1960. There was no publication of any notice or no service of any notice upon them except a couple of days after the 16th November 1960. They individually received the notices (Ext. 4 series) which were sent to them by ordinary post under certificate of posting. The employees have produced the notices they received along with the addressed envelopes which contained notices. The employees have made it abundantly clear that the Company published or served no other notice save and except these notices (Ext. 4 series) which were sent to them by post. The addressed envelopes will show that they were posted from Burrabazar post office, Calcutta, on 16th November 1960. They were not posted from the post office which is situated just opposite to the factory. D.W. 1 Shri Apurba Chakravarti has admitted that there is a post office just opposite the factory. Therefore, it seems to me that everything was being manipulated from the Head Office of the Company which is in Burrabazar, Calcutta. The Company, as it appears, was taking unusual care in sending all informations to the Labour Directorate even when it was not required, but at the same time was suppressing material facts and notices from the Union and also from the concerned employees even though they are entitled to have notices under the law. I have already found that the notice under section 9A of the Industrial Disputes Act in the prescribed Form E should be given to the Secretary of the Union and the individual employees concerned. But the Company has particularly avoided to comply with this provision of law and it is significant to know that a notice under section 9A of the Industrial Disputes Act (Ext. C) was sent to the Labour Commissioner although the Company is not required to do so. This redundant and unnecessary procedure was adopted by the Company, I believe, purposely with a motive of creating an impression in favour of its compliance with the provisions of law regarding the service of notice as prescribed. But unfortunately the Company has been found out. It is quite clear from the facts and circumstances on the record that there was suppression of service of any notice under section 9A in the prescribed Form E either upon the Union or upon the individual workers concerned by the Company. The evidence of D.W. 1 Shri Apurba Lal Chakravarti can hardly be believed in the circumstances I have already discussed. This man has long been in service of the Company. He himself cannot say how many years he has been in service of the Company. He was getting Rs. 40 per month at the commencement of his service which has since been increased to Rs. 120 per month. He has to discharge all kinds of works of the Company but his special job is to record attendance of the workers. He says that at the request of master Shri Brij Gopal Binani he converted the notice under section 9A written in English into Bengali and that Bengali version of the notice is Ext. B. But he cannot say what happened to that copy of the notice which was handed over to him by his master Shri Binani. At the same time he pleads his inability to translate the second paragraph of the notice, Ext. B, into English. That shows he was not telling the truth regarding the creation of this notice, Ext. B. His evidence on a careful consideration of the entire facts and circumstances I have found to be thoroughly unconvincing and unreliable. Similar is the evidence of the Company's another witness D.W. 2 Shri Khitish Gupta who attempted to prove service of notice of retrenchment upon the employees concerned on 15th November 1960. The same witness made further attempt to prove that he had tendered retrenchment compensation and other dues to the retrenched employees on 16th November 1960. But his evidence on both these points is found to be far from convincing. According to D.W. 1 Shri Apurba Lal Chakravarti, Shri Khitish Gupta who is attached to the Head Office of the Company, came to the factory on 15th November 1960 at about 2-30 or 3 p.m. and served the notices upon the concerned female employees in his very presence. But the evidence of D.W. 2 Shri Khitish Gupta is that on 15th November 1960 he accompanied the partners Shri Manick Binani and Shri Brij Gopal Binani to the factory. He took Apurba Chakravarti with him and went to the band-rolling department and explained the contents of the notice to the workers and he also asked the workers to take their respective copy of the notice from the office but the workers remained silent. Therefore, the evidence of D.W. 1 Shri Apurba Lal Chakravarti is in conflict with that of Shri Khitish Gupta (D.W. 2). Then again D.W. 2 Shri Khitish Gupta has deposed that on 16th November 1960 he hurried from his residence at Dum Dum to the Company's Head Office in Burrabazar, Calcutta, and reached there early in the morning. From the Head Office he took some cash and went back to the factory at Dum Dum at about 8 a.m. and sent information to the concerned female employees through the gate durwan for receiving their payments. But he was informed by the said durwan that they had refused to receive payments. This story of tendering compensation money and other dues to the retrenched employees again appears to me devoid of truth. This witness Shri Khitish Gupta is admittedly neither a cashier nor an Accountant to be entrusted with cash. He himself cannot say what amount of cash was entrusted to him for payment to the retrenched employees. He admits that he is an out door clerk attached to the Head Office. His principal duty is to deal with correspondence with the Labour Department and he also does some out-door work in the shape of obtaining automobile licences, etc. Therefore, it is hardly believable that he would be entrusted with huge amount of cash for payment of retrenchment compensation and other dues to as many as 34 female employees. He does not know the amount to be paid to each of the retrenched employees. He, of course, does not say that he personally tendered the retrenchment compensation to any of the retrenched employees, but he says that he offered payments through the gate durwan whose name is Missir who is admittedly still in service. But the Company has purposely withheld his evidence. Therefore, the story of service of retrenchment notice and tendering of retrenchment compensation to the employees has not been substantiated by any satisfactory evidence. The Company, as I have already observed, has taken particular care to send a copy of the retrenchment notice to the Assistant Labour Commissioner on 16th November 1960 (vide Ext. C/2). The Company has also taken special care to enclose a list of the workmen and their dues with the notice, Ext. C/2. But this list was avoided in the case of individual employees. The Company has, of course, given notice of retrenchment to the Labour Commissioner and to the Assistant Labour Commissioner concerned in the prescribed Form P as provided in rule 77 of the West Bengal Industrial Dispute Rules. But the Company has not maintained any register of retrenched workmen as required by the said rule. It appears from Form P which is an enclosure to the letter, Ext. C/1, that the Company has reported to the Labour Commissioner and the Assistant Labour Commissioner, that the retrenched workmen have been paid wages in lieu of notice, and that in effecting the retrenchment, the Company has followed the principle of "last come first go". But, in fact, and in reality, the Company has not complied with any of these. I have already found that there was no tender of the retrenchment compensation not to speak of any payment, the workmen actually became aware of their retrenchment on hearing from Gate Durwan and on receipt of the notices, Ext. 4 series, which were sent to them by post, some time after the actual retrenchment. The retrenchment of these 34 women employees, therefore, in the circumstances of the case, was not in accordance with law. It is well-settled by the Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case reported in 1960 L.L.J., Vol. I, 261, that the payment of retrenchment compensation is a condition precedent for the retrenchment. The section provides that no workman shall be retrenched until the condition in question is satisfied.

As regards the notice under section 9A of the Industrial Disputes Act, I may observe that even assuming for a moment that the Company made publication of similar notice to the knowledge of the employees. It is to be seen that such notice was bad in law being insufficient because section 9A of the Industrial Disputes Act provides that no employer shall effect any proposed change within 21 days of giving such notice. In the present case, it is in the evidence of D.W. 1 Shri Apurba Lal Chakravarti that there was publication of such a notice on 26th October 1960 at about 3-30 p.m. The retrenchment was effected from 16th November 1960. Therefore, even assuming that it was published in the afternoon of 26th October 1960 it cannot be said that there was proper compliance with the provisions of section 9A of the Industrial Disputes Act. Therefore, the notice even assuming its publication in the manner as pleaded by the Company is bad being insufficient.

The Company has nowhere in its written statement has specifically averred personal service of the notice under section 9A of the Industrial Disputes Act upon the concerned employees. The Company has not made any attempt to send the notice under section 9A to the individual employees as it was done in the case of retrenchment notices some time after retrenchment was effected.

It is in evidence that two of the retrenched female employees, namely, Sm. Nani Rani Saha and Sm. Kanika Roy, accepted the amount remitted to them by money orders some time after their retrenchment. They received the amounts on 25th November 1960 and 26th November 1960 (Exts. D series). These two retrenched employees having readily received the amount that was remitted to them by the Company, the story of tendering the amount to them on 16th November 1960 as told by D.W. 2 Shri Khitish Gupta is again found to be inconsistent with the probability. The retrenched employees have denied the alleged tendering of the retrenchment compensation by the Company on 16th November 1960 and I have already found that this story as set up by the Company has not been substantiated by any satisfactory evidence. On the other hand, it is full of inconsistencies and improbabilities. Therefore, from the above facts and reasons, I am led to the conclusion that in spite of the fact that there was some justification of the retrenchment of 34 female employees of the band-rolling department with a view to adopt its re-organised scheme of mechanisation for reasons of economy and convenience, yet the retrenchment so effected in respect of 34 female employees of the band-rolling department was not in accordance with law. Retrenchment so effected by the Company in respect of 34 female employees of the band-rolling department was irregular and not in accordance with law. No legal and sufficient notice under section 9A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, was given. No notice of retrenchment was served upon the workers concerned before the intended retrenchment to take effect on 16th November 1960. Such notice was sent to the workers concerned some days after 16th November 1960. The female employees concerned were in the alternative not paid their wages in lieu of such notice. They were also not paid by the Company any retrenchment compensation as provided in section 25F of the Industrial Disputes Act. The story of alleged tender is found to be false. Some amount was tendered to the employees concerned some time after 16th November 1960, and not before. But the payment of retrenchment compensation has been made a condition precedent to retrenchment.

Therefore, in view of all these irregularities and illegalities in effecting the retrenchment of these 34 female workers of the band-rolling department by the Company, I am of the view that the said employees barring the two who have already received their retrenchment compensation, be treated as retrenched immediately on payment of legal retrenchment compensation and wages due to them up to the time of such payment by the Company and also other dues, if any. Accordingly, the Company is directed to comply within a month from the date of publication of this award in the "Calcutta Gazette".

This is my award.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. S. P. Manufacturing Co., 100/1 Cossipore Road, Calcutta-2, and their workmen represented by Wood Products Mazdoor Union, 22/1 K. C. Ghosh Road, Calcutta-50. (Government order No. 5115-I.R., dated 22nd August 1961.) (Case No. VIII-275/61.)

BEFORE THE FOURTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri K. K. MITRA, Judge, Fourth Industrial Tribunal

For the Union: Shri Sunil Dhar, Advocate and Shri Matish Roy, General Secretary.

For the Company: Shri K. K. Maitra, Advocate.

An industrial dispute between Messrs. S. P. Manufacturing Co., 100/1 Cossipore Road, Calcutta-2, and their workmen represented by Wood Products Mazdoor Union, 22/1 K. C. Ghosh Road, Calcutta-50, over the following issue, has been referred to this Tribunal for adjudication, by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 5115-I.R./IR-10L-166(A)/61, dated the 22nd August 1961.

Issue

Whether the termination of employment of the following workmen is justified? To what relief, if any, are they entitled?

(a) Shri Subal Das, (b) Shri Bimbadhar Behara, and (c) Shri Khetra Maharana.

AWARD

Upon receipt of the order of reference on 26th August 1961, notices were issued upon the parties for appearance and for filing written statements.

Thereafter the workmen represented by Wood Products Mazdoor Union (hereinafter referred to as the Union), filed the written statement on 29th October 1961 duly signed and verified by Shri Motish Roy described as the General Secretary of the Union. It is alleged by the Union that the Company became hostile towards the Union and its members after the workers joined this Union, and took recourse to dismissal by way of victimisation, of 10 workmen on 22nd October 1960. At the intervention of the Labour Directorate the Company was forced to take back those workers. It is contended by the Union that on 22nd December 1960 the Management refused employment to three workers of the Bobin Department without assigning any reason. The Union took up the cause of those workmen before the Labour Directorate and when all efforts for settlement by way of conciliation failed, the dispute was referred to this Tribunal by the Government for compulsory adjudication. According to the version of the Union the action of the employer that of termination of service of those three workmen by way of dismissal is mala fide and is nothing but an instance of unfair labour practice and victimisation.

Messrs. S. P. Manufacturing Co. (hereinafter referred to as the Company) filed the written statement on 25th January 1962. It is alleged inter alia in the written statement that the Union shown as representing the workmen of this establishment in the order of reference is a Union of workers engaged in wood products industries as the name of the Union indicates and, therefore, the said Union is incapable of espousing the cause of the workmen engaged in this concern which is primarily an engineering industry. Besides, it is alleged that the said Union does not represent the workmen of this establishment and so the Union had no locus standi to raise any industrial dispute as contemplated under the Industrial Disputes Act. On the merits of the case, it is alleged that these three workmen were recruited as temporary workmen in the factory and none of them completed more than six months of service. They were discharged on the basis of the report of the supervisor that they were inefficient and irregular at work.

The dispute came up for hearing on 2nd May 1962 and 3rd May 1962 when both the parties adduced evidence, oral and documentary, to prove their case. After the close of evidence the learned lawyers representing the parties advanced arguments in support of their respective contentions.

The only issue to be decided in the scope of this reference is whether the termination of employment of three workmen as named in the order of reference is justified or not.

A preliminary point of objection has been raised by the Company that the dispute as referred to is in the nature of individual dispute as the general body of workmen engaged in this industry are not members of the Union. It is further alleged that the Union shown to be representing the cause of the workmen is an industrywise Union of the workers apparently engaged in the manufacture of wood products and, therefore, the workmen of this industry which is an engineering concern are not directly and substantially connected with a Trade Union of the kind as coming forward to represent the cause of the workmen engaged in this industry. It is necessary to dispose of this legal objection first.

Obviously a decision on this point would depend upon the particular facts proved in the case by the oral and documentary evidence adduced by the parties. It is now a well-settled principle of law that an individual dispute can not per se be an industrial dispute; but at the same time it can become so if the cause of the individual workman or group of workmen is taken up by the Trade Union of the workmen or a number of workmen engaged in the particular establishment. So before any dispute between the employer and his employee or employees can be said to be an industrial dispute under the Act, it must be either be sponsored by a number of workmen or by a Union representing them. In the case of Messrs. New India Motors (P) Ltd. versus Morris (K.T.), reported in 1960, 1, L.L.J., p. 551, it is stated that it is not necessary that the number of workman of the Union that sponsors the dispute should represent the majority of workmen. It cannot, therefore, be said that there cannot be an industrial dispute unless the cause of an aggrieved workman or a group of workmen is taken up by a majority of the workmen employed in the establishment.

O.P.W. 1, Shri Ojha, the Manager of the Company, stated that this factory was started in 1959 and that in December 1960, when the dismissal of these three persons took place, there were about 60 or 70 workmen engaged in the factory. It is clear from the evidence that this industry is engaged in manufacture of wooden bobins and spare parts used in the jute mills. Naturally, therefore, this industry carries on its business which is connected with the preparation of articles from fibre and wood. The name of the Union, of course, indicates at first sight that the workmen engaged in such concerns wherein products made of wood are prepared, are eligible for membership of the Union. Apparently, this is an industry-wise Union and the workmen engaged in industries connected with wood products are eligible for membership of this Union. In this connection it has got to be mentioned that the Company did not call for rules and Constitution of the Union. Shri Motish Roy, the General Secretary of the Union, was cross-examined at length. There is nothing in his evidence to discredit the claim of this Union to represent the workers engaged in this industry for the type of manufacturing work carried on here. Shri Roy in cross-examination categorically stated that 40 or 50 workmen of this establishment are members of this Union, and about 30 or such workers who are still in the employment under this Company are paying subscriptions to the Union. The Union did not, however, produce the subscription book and the register of membership. But at the same time the Company never called for such papers. I do not think that the Union had any obligation to produce such papers which were never called for inspection by the Company. It can never be said that the representative character of the Union has got to be proved only by documentary evidence. Satisfactory oral evidence, on the point elicited through cross-examination of quite worthy of reliance, may prove a fact. In this case it is clear from the statement of Shri Roy in cross-examination that a substantial number of persons engaged in this industry are members of this Union which is an industry-wise Union, membership to which is open to workmen of all industries wherein wood products are carried on. The learned lawyer for the Union referred to a case decided by the Hon'ble Calcutta High Court as reported in 1959, 1, L.L.J. p. 600 [Express Newspapers (P) Ltd. and First Labour Court, West Bengal and others]. In that case it was found that out of four workmen employed by the Company at the Calcutta Branch only the particular workman over whose dismissal the dispute was referred to, was a member of the Union. No other workman was member of the Union. The industry had a Union of the workmen and that Union did not come forward to represent the cause of the concerned workman. The particular Union made party in the order of reference, i.e., Calcutta Lower Grade Employees' Union was not a Union of the workmen of the employer. Besides that was a Union of durwans, bearers, peons and like menials, belonging to firms, banks, offices etc. in Calcutta. In that case the question arose whether such a Union wholly unconnected with the particular employee or the industry concerned or where no workmen of the employer or industries concerned is a member thereof, or that a very small and insignificant number of its workmen are connected with such Union, could represent the cause of the workmen. It was held that there was no justification for holding that a workman's cause can be taken up by a Union unconnected with the employer or the industry concerned. In this case the position is entirely different. It is clear that this is a Union of workmen engaged in concerns manufacturing wood products. This Company might be manufacturing spare parts which might not be connected with wood products. But a substantial portion of work of this concern is connected with wood products. This Union as made party in the order of reference is a Union composed of workmen engaged in wood manufacturing industry. Besides, the evidence clearly reveals that a large number of workmen in employment in this establishment are members of this Union. The Union produced a letter duly signed by 22 workmen of this concerns addressed to the President of the Union for being enrolled as member of the Union [vide Ext. 1(b), dt. 5-9-60]. There is nothing to challenge the correctness of the statement and signatures contained in this petition. Two of the workmen, i.e., Subal Das and Bimbadhar proved their signature in the petition. Shri Roy stated that all the 22 workmen signed in his presence the petition which was written by him according to the instruction of the workers. Even before this dispute arose, this Union took up another dispute of the workmen, which ended in a tripartite settlement. All these facts and circumstances go to show that this is not an individual dispute of three workmen and that the cause of the workmen had been taken up by a proper Union of the industry and that a substantial number of workmen in this establishment are members of that Union. The legal objection therefore fails.

I now proceed to consider the merits of the case. It is clear from the evidence that out of the three workmen concerned in this dispute Khetra Maharana was appointed on 6th July 1960, Bimbadhar Behara on 22nd June 1960 and Subal Das on 12th September 1960. Khetra Maharana was appointed as Spool Turner while the other two workmen were appointed as wooden Bobin Turners. It appears from the Wage Register that Subal Das was drawing monthly wages at Rs. 90, Bimbadhar Behara at Rs. 105 and Khetra Maharana at Rs. 75 (vide Ext. B). Obviously, they were engaged in such work which is done by skilled man. The Attendance Register, Ext. A, shows the nature of work done by different workers engaged in the concern with reference to designations such as fitter, operator, grinder, labourer, shaper. Some of the workmen are shown as helpers and learners, drawing wages at small rates. I am satisfied that these three workmen had been appointed as skilled workmen, for doing the work of turner.

The question, therefore, arises for consideration as to why the employer dispensed with their services all on a sudden on 22nd December 1960.

The letters, Ext. D series, show the cause of termination of service by way of dismissal. The employer's case is that letters of dismissal, Ext. D series, had been personally served upon these workmen on 22nd December 1960, intimating that they stood dismissed with immediate effect and when they refused to accept the letters such letters were sent by registered post. In the letters of dismissal a general allegation is made that the work done by them was found unsatisfactory. In the case of Subal Chandra Das there is an additional allegation to the effect that he was found irregular at work. Admittedly, the employer did not issue any charge-sheet to any of these three workmen making any allegation that the work done was found unsatisfactory. The allegations made in the letters of dismissal obviously appear to be completely vague and indefinite. It is not mentioned in the letter of dismissal how and when the work done by the workmen concerned was detected to be unsatisfactory. It is absolutely necessary that the employer before taking any action as to dismissal, on the ground of some offence, being committed by the workman should categorically and specifically state the particulars of the alleged acts of commission or omission, amounting to misconduct on the part of the workman and give him sufficient opportunity to explain the same and then proceed in a departmental enquiry following the principles of natural justice. In this case the employer did nothing of the kind.

At the time of hearing the employer wanted to justify the action on the basis of a case that these workmen were found incompetent and unable to do the work assigned to them. Some evidence was led on this point. In the letters of dismissal, however, no such allegation as to incompetency had been made. A workman might be wholely incompetent to do a job. But that is something quite different, from a case when a workman's performances are found unsatisfactory on certain dates with respect to specific work. At the time of hearing the Company for the first time produced and proved some reports, Ext. C series, written by Shri P. C. Prodhan to the Manager. It is contended by the Union that these are manufactured documents created at the sweet will of the Company to serve the purpose of the case. Now, in these reports about defective workmanship, the reporting authority asked the Manager to take action. But it is strange that there is no documentary evidence to show that any action, or even a written warning had been given to the workmen on the basis of such reports. Considering the evidence as a whole adduced by the parties in the light of the circumstances and probabilities of this case, I am inclined to hold that these are manufactured documents. The attendance register shows that Shri Prodhan was a General. Now he says that he was a supervisor. In the reports Ext. C series he describes himself as an Assistant Supervisor. He appears to be an unreliable person and I can not place faith upon his evidences.

As already stated, 22 workmen of this industry joined this Union on 8th September 1960. Presumably after that date some other workers joined. It is alleged by the Union in the written statement that the Company refused employment in this respect to ten workers who are members of the Union on 22nd October 1960. O.P.W. 1 Shri Ojha admitted in his evidences that he signed an agreement before the Labour Commissioner on the question of the dispute arising from such actions. It appears that such tripartite agreement was made on 21st December 1960 [vide Ext. F(2)]. The letter, Ext. F(2), dated 28th December 1960, read as a whole, indicates that the manager took some workmen as loyal workmen apparently meaning thereby those did not join the Union. The employer dismissed these workers just after the tripartite settlement. I am satisfied from the facts and circumstances that these workmen were innocent and that the Company took action against them for their Trade Union activities. It further appears from evidence that these workmen had experience in such work before. Presumably the employer recruited them at decret wages after having been satisfied about their competency. The allegation of unsatisfactory work or incompetency is not believable. Hence, I hold, the action of the employer to be unjustified.

The next point for consideration here is, if in the circumstances of the case an order of reinstatement which is, of course, the normal relief, should be passed.

These workmen had put in six months of service or even less when they were dismissed. An order of reinstatement in the present situation is likely to cause further bitterness between the employer and the workmen and would not lead to restoration of industrial peace. The workmen being skilled hand are expected to secure employment elsewhere. Two of the workmen, who deposed, stated that they are still unemployed. In these considerations I deem it fair and adequate to award a monetary compensation in favour of the workmen which shall be computed at the rate of six months' wages of the workmen. Thus Subal Das would get Rs. 540, Bimbadhar Behera Rs. 630 and Shri Khetra Maharana 450.

It is urged by the learned lawyer for the Company that in view of the fact that Shri Khetra Maharana did not come forward to depose to relief should be given to him. I find no reason to support the contention. The facts and circumstances concerning dismissal, is the same, with respect to each one of these three employees. The evidence adduced by the parties relate to all the three workmen. There may be many reasons why the Union did not examine Shri Khetra Maharana. I do not find any reason why I shall treat the case of that workman in a different manner from the other two.

This is the award.

Annexure

In the matter of an application under section33A of the Industrial Disputes Act filed by Shri Habib, Shri Balchand and Shri Barati of Messrs. Calcutta Landing & Shipping Co. Ltd. against the aforesaid employers (Government order No. 4337-I.R., dated the 10th October 1958) (Case No 355/60.)

BEFORE THE FOURTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present

Shri K. K. MITRA, Judge,
Fourth Industrial Tribunal

For the Union: Shri S. Imam, an official of the Union.

For the Company: Shri S. C. Sen, Advocate.

This is an application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act filed by three workmen, viz., Habib, Balchand and Sk. Barati alleging that their employer Messrs. Calcutta Landing & Shipping Co. Ltd., had dismissed them unfairly during the pendency of the proceedings before the Tribunal. The application was filed on 13th September 1960.

The employer, i.e., Messrs. Calcutta Landing & Shipping Co. Ltd., filed a written objection on 10th February 1961. A preliminary point of objection is raised by the employer that this application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act is not maintainable inasmuch as there was no contravention of the provisions of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act.

In the meantime on 14th March 1962 two of the applicants, i.e., Habib and Barati, filed separate applications stating therein that they do not want to proceed with the case and that they may be allowed to withdraw from the case. The prayer is allowed. As such, I am concerned only with the complaint under section 33A as made by the workman Shri Balchand. Before, however, entering into the merits of the case it is necessary to dispose of the preliminary point of objection raised by the employer. It appears that the employer had already filed on 16th May 1960 an application under section 33(2)(b) of the Industrial Disputes Act making approval of the action as to the dismissal of seven workmen including the three applicant workmen. The application under section 33(2)(b) of the Industrial Disputes Act was filed after issue of the order of dismissal, dated 3rd March 1960. It thus appears that the application for approval of the action under section 33(2)(b) of the Industrial Disputes Act had been filed about two months after issue of the letter of dismissal. Under the law it is necessary that the employer should file an application to the Tribunal before which the proceeding is pending for approval of the action taken by him against the workmen. Such application need be filed without delay. I do not find that there was any undue delay in the matter of filing the application under section 33(2)(b) of the Industrial Disputes Act. It further appears that the employer had offered one month's wages to the workman concerned. In the circumstances, I find that there is no contravention of the provisions of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act. Obviously when a case as to contravention of section 33 is not established, the workman cannot get any relief in the scope of an application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act. I therefore hold that this complaint case is not maintainable.

This is the award.

BEFORE THE FIRST INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present

Shri S. N. GUHA ROY, Judge, First Industrial Tribunal.

Appearances:

For the Company: Shri C. L. Ganguly, Advocate.

For the Union: Shri Sunil Dhar, Advocate.

In this reference under section 10, made by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 2914-I.R./IR/11L-202/61, dated the 5th of June 1961, of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Lily Biscuit Co. (P) Ltd., and their workmen represented by Sett Concern Employees' Union, the only issue is whether the refusal of employment to Shri Pran Krishna Jana is justified and to what relief if any, he is entitled.

The Company filed its written statement first and then the Union filed its written statement. The facts, as far as they are admitted or beyond dispute, are briefly that Shri Pran Krishna Jana, a permanent workman of the Company from about 1950, availed himself of the statutory leave due to him for the years 1958 and 1959 at the beginning of 1960. Ext. 1 is the relevant entry showing this in the Wage Bill Register. Thereafter on the 16th of November 1960 he filed an application, Ext. 2, for one month's leave from the 22nd November 1960 on the ground that his mother was lying on her death-bed. On this leave application there was an order by Shri P. Sett that leave for 14 days was granted without pay. Admittedly Shri Pran Krishna Jana went home on this leave for 14 days. This leave was due to expire on the 5th of December 1960. On the 6th of December 1960, however, the Company received from Shri Pran Krishna Jana a medical certificate, dated the 1st December 1960, Ext. 3, to the effect that Pran Krishna Jana was suffering from paratyphoid and was under the treatment of the doctor issuing the certificate. The doctor advised him absolute rest for two weeks from the date of the certificate, i.e., from 1st December 1960. The Company then wrote a letter, Ext. 4, dated the 6th December 1960, and sent this letter to him under a certificate of posting. Instead of the post office, the police-station was mentioned here and Pran Krishna Jana's case is that he did not receive any communication from the company during the period of his stay at home. This letter told Pran Krishna Jana that his medical certificate was not valid in accordance with Regulation 53 of the Employees' State Insurance Regulation, 1950, and hence no further leave would be granted to him. He was also asked to resume his duty positively within 7 days from the date, failing which he would lose the lien on his appointment under the provisions of the Standing Orders of the Company. It may be stated here at once that as neither the certificate of posting nor the copy of the letter, Ext. 4, shows the post office in the address, the presumption that it reached Shri Pran Krishna Jana would not arise from the mere fact of the posting of the letter under a certificate of posting, because the address could not possibly have been correct without the name of the post office. Other letters, Ext. 5, dated the 19th December 1960, and Ext. 6, dated the 31st December 1960, which were sent in registered covers were admittedly returned unserved. Ext. 5, was sent to his home address in which again the name of the post office is not mentioned but the name of the police-station is mentioned. Ext. 6 however, was addressed to his Calcutta address. Shri Pran Krishna Jana reported himself for duty on the 22nd of December 1960 with a medical fit certificate, Ext. B, dated the 19th of December 1960, and also with an application of his, Ext. A, on which there was a certificate of the same date from the local Surpanch that Pran Krishna Jana, a worker of the factory, was known to him and that he was suffering from typhoid. Admittedly Pran Krishna Jana was not allowed to join, as the Company thought his medical certificate or the certificate of fitness was not in order and he was directed to present the medical certificate and the certificate of the Surpanch to the regional office of the State Insurance Corporation. Pran Krishna Jana went to the office of the State Insurance and was told something there and he refrained from presenting the medical certificate or the certificate of the Surpanch to that office. He again went to report himself for duty to the office and was again told that till the State Insurance Corporation endorsed his medical certificate the company could not take him back and Pran Krishna Jana could take any action he pleased. Pran Krishna Jana then filed a complaint before the Labour Commissioner, and conciliation proceedings started. As a result of those proceedings the Company was asked to take Pran Krishna Jana back and he accordingly appeared at the factory again twice. He was asked to file an application. According to the Company he was directed to file an application for treating the whole period of his unauthorised absence as leave without wages whereas according to the workman he was directed to file an application stating that he had wrongly absented himself and that he had not been ill. Ext. 8, dated the 13th February 1961, is the letter from the Company to Shri Pran Krishna Jana telling him that when he went to the office on 14th January 1961 he was informed of the terms of the settlement and was advised to apply for leave without pay for the period of unauthorised absence from 6th December 1960. Ext. 12 is Pran Krishna's reply to this letter, dated the 20th February 1961. In this letter it is clearly stated by the workman that he was directed by the Company to give an undertaking to the effect that his absence was unauthorised and that he had no claim for any compensation for the period of unemployment because of the management's refusal to employ him. It is also stated in this letter that the production director told him that he could not allow him to resume his duty as the Labour Officer of the Company was absent. He denied in this letter that he had voluntarily left the service of the Company as the Company wanted to mention in some of its letters to Pran Krishna.

The only question now is whether on these facts the refusal of employment to Shri Pran Krishna Jana by the management was justified.

The management's first line of defence is that the medical certificate which Pran Krishna Jana sent namely, Ext. 3, the fit certificate, Ext. B, and the certificate of the Surpanch, Ext. A, which Pran Krishna Jana brought with him were not in order till they were endorsed by the State Insurance Corporation. For this contention it relies on section 72 of the Employees' State Insurance Act and also on section 53 of the Employees' State Insurance (General) Regulation, 1950. Section 73 amongst other things prohibits an employer from dismissing, discharging, reducing or otherwise punishing an employee during the period he is under medical treatment for sickness and section 53 of the Regulations lays down that every insured person claiming sickness benefit and disablement benefit for a temporary disablement shall furnish evidence of sickness or temporary disablement, in respect of the days of his sickness or temporary disablement by means of a medical certificate given by an insurance medical officer in accordance with the regulation in the form appropriate to the circumstances of the case, and there is a proviso to this section under which it is open to the Corporation to accept any other evidence of sickness or temporary disablement if in its opinion the circumstances of any particular case so justify. Evidently neither section 73 of the Act nor section 53 of the Regulation has any bearing on the facts of this case. Section 73 has no application because there is no case here of the workman being punished in any way for his absence during the period when he was under medical treatment for sickness. Section 53 of the Regulations has equally no application to the fact of the case because admittedly Pran Krishna Jana who had been insured under the Act did not claim any sickness benefit or disablement benefit. It is argued by Shri Ganguly on behalf of the Company that although section 73 of the Act or section 53 of the Regulations does not directly apply to the facts of this case, they have an indirect bearing on the Company's attitude because it was open to the State Insurance Corporation in the event of a claim for sickness benefit or disablement benefit to accept other evidence of the workman's illness, and if, therefore, the Corporation endorsed the workman's medical certificate and the certificate he had obtained from the local Surpanch the Company could legitimately accept those certificates. It is undoubtedly true that neither section 73 of the Act and section 53 of the Regulations had no bearing whatever on the question whether the Company would grant the workman leave for the period of his absence or whether it would allow him to resume his duties. The Company might have thought it safe to act on the certificates if the certificates were accepted by the State Insurance Corporation. At the same time, I do not see how the State Insurance Corporation could make an endorsement on these certificates when they had not been filed before it in support of any claim for sickness or disablement benefits. The next line of defence of the Company is that according to paragraph 8 of the Standing Orders, Ext. 10, absence without leave for more than 7 days shall render an employee liable to dismissal without notice and without compensation in lieu of notice unless he offers an explanation to the full satisfaction of the factory manager. It is said that under this clause of the Standing Orders, the workman automatically loses his lien on his employment. I do not think that this is a correct construction of the clause. The liability to dismiss without notice and without compensation in lieu of notice is not absolutely unconditional. There is a condition attached to this liability namely, the failure of the workman concerned to offer an explanation to the full satisfaction of the factory manager. If when the workman turned up on the 22nd of December 1960, for resumption of his duties the Company had taken that stand, one could have understood it but that was not the stand, taken by the Company then, although in an earlier communication, Ext. 5, dated the 19th of December 1960, which admittedly did not reach Pran Krishna Jana because the registered cover came back undelivered, the position taken by the Company was that as Pran Krishna Jana had not resumed his duties within 7 days as he was directed to do in the letter dated the 6th December 1960, he was no longer in the employment of the Company from 13th December 1960, the date of his unauthorised absence in accordance with clause 8 of the Standing Orders of the Company. Ext. 6, dated 31st December 1960, which also did not reach Pran Krishna Jana, though sent to his Calcutta address by registered post, states in paragraph 5 that on 22nd December 1960 Pran Krishna reported for duty with a medical certificate from his native place. He was asked to submit the certificate with proper endorsement from the Regional Office in accordance with Regulation 53 of the Employees' State Insurance (General) Regulation, 1950, but so far he had not reported to the Company's office after endorsement or acceptance of the Certificates from the Regional office and the Company accordingly concluded that Pran Krishna Jana had left the service of the Company of his own accord and he was no longer in its employment from 6th December 1960, the date of his unauthorised absence. Clearly then, on the 22nd of December 1960, the Company had directed Pran Krishna Jana to the Regional Office of the Employees' State Insurance Corporation. Then when the Conciliation Officer intervened, the Company at his instance agreed to take Pran Krishna Jana back and the only reason why he was not taken back appears to have been that Pran Krishna Jana did not comply with the Company's direction to file an application stating that the period of his absence should be treated as leave without wages. Pran Krishna Jana, of course, complained that he was asked by the Company to state in writing that he wrongly absented himself and that he was not ill. In Ext. 12, he did not make such a complaint about the management. All that he stated there is that the Company directed him to give an undertaking that his absence was unauthorised and that he had no demand for any compensation for the periods of his unemployment. There was no suggestion to the Company's officer who was examined before me that the Company had directed him to give any such undertaking. It is, therefore, difficult to accept this statement of his in Ext. 12. Even if, however, it be accepted, it is quite possible that the Company gave such a direction only to safeguard its own interests in the event of a later claim for compensation for the period of unemployment. In any event there is nothing to show that Pran Krishna Jana ever complained to the Company that he had been directed to state in writing that he had wrongly absented himself and that he was not ill. His absence might well have been characterised as unauthorised because it was absence without formal leave. But then, if he was called upon to state that he was not really ill he was called upon to state something which would falsify the medical certificate and the certificate of the Sarpanch on which he relied. Any such direction from the Company could hardly have escaped mention in the rather lengthy correspondence between Pran Krishna Jana on the one hand and the management on the other. Pran Krishna Jana also admits that he never informed the Company in writing that when he went to the office of the Company after the direction by the Labour Commissioner to take him back, he had been told to say in writing that he had wrongly absented himself and that he had not been ill. In the circumstances it is impossible to accept this part of the testimony of Pran Krishna Jana. Then, again, it is clear that Pran Krishna Jana did not report himself for duty immediately after the expiry of the leave recommended in the medical certificate, Ext. 3. There was a certain amount of delay even after the expiry of two weeks. There was a further delay after the Conciliation Officer intervened in the matter and suggested that the workman should be taken back, because Pran Krishna Jana did not comply with the management's direction to file an application that the period of his absence without formal leave should be treated as leave without wages. It is, therefore, obvious that for this refusal of employment to Pran Krishna Jana both the management and Pran Krishna Jana are partially to blame.

My award accordingly is that the refusal of employment to Shri Pran Krishna Jana is not justified in its entirety, both the parties being partly to blame for it, and that Shri Pran Krishna Jana should be allowed to resume his duties, immediately after he files an application before the Company praying for the whole period of his absence from 6th December 1960 onwards till the date of his resumption, being treated as leave without wages, provided he files his application within a month of the publication of the award in the "Calcutta Gazette".

AWARD

By order No. 2475-I.R. IR/11L-275/59, dated 29th May 1959, the Government of West Bengal in the Labour Department referred an industrial dispute between Messrs. Universal Drug House (P.) Ltd. and their medical representatives represented by West Bengal State Medical Representatives' Association regarding the undermentioned issue to the Second Labour Court for adjudication.

Issue

1. Whether the termination of services of Shri S. N. Bhadra is justified. To what relief, if any, is he entitled?

The case of the West Bengal State Medical Representatives' Association (hereinafter referred to as the Union), briefly stated, is as follows: Messrs. Universal Drug House (P.) Ltd. (hereinafter referred to as the Company) are an well established organisation having a network of sales arrangements throughout West Bengal. Shri S. N. Bhadra, the workmen mentioned in the issue of the order of reference, was working as a medical representative of the above Company from 1944. The Company intimated him by a letter, dated 9th June 1959, that it could not maintain his services any longer as he was no longer willing to abide by the terms and conditions accepted and signed by him. But as a matter of fact he never expressed his unwillingness to abide by the above terms and conditions. No charge-sheet was issued against him nor was any enquiry held. So the Union contends that the termination of his service is unjustified.

The Company has raised a preliminary objection to the effect that this is not an industrial dispute on the ground that this dispute has not been taken up by the workmen of the Company or by any Union of which the workmen of the Company are member. As to the merits of the issue, the Company has denied that it is an well established organisation. It says that it was started as a limited concern in the year 1946 and since then has been striving hard to maintain its existence. It denies that Shri S. N. Bhadra was working in the Company from 1944 and states that he was appointed in 1948. It admits that it terminated the service of Shri S. N. Bhadra by a letter, dated 9th June 1959, on the ground that he was not willing to abide by the terms and conditions accepted and signed by him. It however relates the contention of the Union that Shri S. N. Bhadra never expressed his unwillingness to abide by the above terms and conditions. As to the circumstances in which the service of Shri S. N. Bhadra was terminated, the Company states as follows: Shri S. N. Bhadra had been appointed on certain conditions including a certain quota of business to be procured by him. He was allowed an extra allowance, by way of incentive, in case he could fulfil that quota. He was failing to give the agreed quota of business for a long time in spite of repeated warnings. For some time the Company made payments of the above extra allowance; but when warnings were of no avail, the Company stopped the payment of that extra allowance according to the terms of the letter of his appointment. In the meantime acts involving not only irregularity but dishonesty on the part of Shri S. N. Bhadra had been detected. When he found out that his misdeeds had been known to the Company, he came down to Calcutta without obtaining permission of the Company and without giving any intimation. The Company advised him by several letters to resume his duties in the area allotted to him, but to no avail. Thereafter the Company by its letter, dated 28th May 1959, wanted to know from him as to when he would start working. In that letter the Company also was intimated to him that if the Company did not get any reply within seven days, the Company would think that he was unwilling to work any more and that the Company would appoint a new hand in his place. During this time he expressed his unwillingness to abide by the terms and conditions of his service and to serve the Company. The Company by its letter, dated 3rd June 1959, intimated him that it would take a final decision within five days to appoint a new hand, if Shri S. N. Bhadra was unwilling to join. These five days elapsed, but Shri S. N. Bhadra did not join. The above facts already show that Shri S. N. Bhadra left the services of the Company of his own accord. The Company contends that as Shri S. N. Bhadra left the service of the Company of his own accord, the termination of his service is justified.

The Company has raised a preliminary objection to the effect that this is not an industrial dispute on the ground that this dispute has not been taken up by the workmen of the Company or by any Union of which the workmen of the Company are members. Shri Patit Paban Pathak appearing for the Union has argued that the onus to prove that this is not an industrial dispute lies on the Company. His contention seems to be that since the dispute has been espoused by a Union, it is for the Company to prove that this is not an industrial dispute. But this is not the correct statement of law. The law on the point has been enunciated by Mr. Justice Sinha of Calcutta High Court in a case decided by him. He has laid down in that case that the onus to prove in such a matter lies on the parting who would fail, if no evidence were adduced at all. In the present case the Union has not produced any documentary evidence to show whether the employees of the Company are members of the Union. The only evidence adduced in this respect by the Union is the statement of P.W.1 Shri S. N. Bhadra, the workman in question to the effect that to his knowledge at least one of the medical representatives of the Company was a member of the Union. So even if his statement be believed and it be taken that his knowledge in this respect is correct, there is only one other medical representative of the Company who is a member of the Union. The Company on the other hand has adduced evidence to the effect that the Company had 12 sales representatives besides Shri S. N. Bhadra and that none of them was or is a member of the Union. The Company has produced the written statements of the medical representatives to the effect that they are not members of the Union; the statements include that of Shri Govinda Bhattacharyya, who, according to the knowledge of P. W. 1, was a member of the Union. It has been suggested on behalf of the Union that the above statements were obtained from the medical representatives on pain of dismissal. It is not clear what the implication of this suggestion is. Does the Union suggest that these medical representatives are members of the Union and still they have made false statements on pain of dismissal? If that is so, we could expect a definite suggestion to that effect from the Union; but no such suggestion has been made. The Union could easily give a lie to the statement by producing the membership register of the Union; but the Union has not done so. It may be argued that these statements were produced by the Company after the evidence on behalf of the Union was over; but in the second paragraph of the written statement the Company has made a categorical statement that the dispute has not been taken up by any Union of which the workmen of the Company are members. If the Union wants to say that the workmen of the Company are members of the Union it ought to have produced evidence to that effect in view of the above categorical statement of the Company. But the Union has done nothing of the sort. So even if it be conceded that the onus of proving that this is not an industrial dispute lies on the Company, the Company has adduced satisfactory evidence to show that none of the medical representatives of the Company with the possible exception of Shri S. N. Bhadra was or is a member of the Union. Shri Patit Paban Pathak has argued that the Union made correspondences with the Union about the termination of the service of Shri S. N. Bhadra. From this he has wanted to conclude that the Company has recognised the Union. But this conclusion does not follow necessarily. Even if this conclusion be correct that does not affect the question as to the character of the present dispute. A dispute about the termination of service of a workman becomes an industrial dispute, if it is espoused by other workmen under the same employer or by a Union of which at least some workmen under the employer are members. The question of correspondence between the employer and a Union is immaterial for determination of the character of the dispute. In the present case the cause of Shri S. N. Bhadra has not been espoused by the workmen of the Company and as the Union which has espoused his cause is not a Union of the workmen of the Company, I hold that this is not an industrial dispute.

Normally the above finding should put an end to the matter. But as I have heard evidence as to the merits of the issue, I give below my finding as to the issue also.

The Company in its written statement has referred to some misdeeds on the part of Shri S. N. Bhadra; but it does not say that this misdeeds consitute the reason of the termination of his service. In the letter (Ext. 1) terminating his service the Company has stated that it cannot maintain his service as he is no longer willing to abide by the terms and conditions accepted and signed by him. O. P. W. 5 Shri Ranjit Das, a Director of the Company, has deposed in support of the case of the Company. He has been asked to point out the letters by which Shri S. N. Bhadra expressed his unwillingness to abide by the terms and conditions. That witness has referred to letters marked Exts A11, A15 and A18. But on perusal I find that none of these letters contains anything which can be construed as an expression of unwillingness on the part of Shri S. N. Bhadra to abide by the terms and conditions. There is however one letter, dated 8th June 1959 (Ext. A13), of Shri S. N. Bhadra; the last sentence in that letter conveys an impression that he does not like to continue in the service of the Company. But in that letter he has made no grievance about the terms and conditions of service; what he has objected to is the demanding by the Company of a written promise from him. Such a promise is not a part of the terms and conditions proved by the Company. In its written statement the Company has stated that by a letter, dated 3rd June 1959, the Company intimated Shri S. N. Bhadra that it would take a final decision within five days to appoint a new man if he was unwilling to join, that those five days elapsed and that still Shri S. N. Bhadra did not join. The letter of termination of service is dated 9th June 1959. Before that date Shri S. N. Bhadra had written the letter (Ext. A13) mentioned by me just now. It does not appear that the Company paid any heed to that letter. Shri Ranjit Das has stated in the evidence that on coming to Calcutta from the area of his work Shri S. N. Bhadra asked for two weeks' time and later extended that time. But Ext. 1(1) shows that Shri S. N. Bhadra asked for leave for two months before going back to the area of his work. Ext A4 shows that the Company has noted that he wants to remain at home for about two months, i.e., up to the middle of June. The Company has nowhere stated that it will not allow Shri S. N. Bhadra to remain at home till the middle of June. So Shri S. N. Bhadra could naturally expect that nothing would be done about him till about the middle of June. Still the Company terminated his service by a letter, dated 9th June 1959. As I have shown already, the Company has not been able to prove the reason stated in the letter of dismissal. The Company in its written statement has stated that Shri S. N. Bhadra left the service of the Company of his own accord. Shri S. N. Bhadra has denied this contention of the Company. The Company has failed completely to prove its above contention. This is also borne out by Ext. 1 where the Company does not say that Shri S. N. Bhadra left the service of the Company.

The allegations made by Shri Ranjit Das about the misdeeds of Shri S. N. Bhadra are besides the point; because the Company has not stated that these misdeeds constitute the reason of the termination of service by Shri S. N. Bhadra. Shri S. N. Bhadra explained the circumstances which according to Shri Ranjit Das are instances of misdeeds. It cannot be said that the explanations of Shri S. N. Bhadra are unsatisfactory. Moreover, it has been clearly laid down in the conditions of service that if the Company suffers any loss on account of any action of Shri S. N. Bhadra, he will be bound to reimburse the Company for the loss. So if any loss has been caused to the Company, that cannot be a reason of the termination of the service of Shri S. N. Bhadra. Above all, it must be remembered that the Company did not issue any charge-sheet to Shri S. N. Bhadra for any of the allegations now being made by Shri Ranjit Das.

In view of the above considerations, I hold that the termination of the service of Shri S. N. Bhadra is unjustified. But as I have already held that this is not an industrial dispute, I am unable to grant any relief to him.

The "appropriate Government" by an order 4995-I.R./IR 11L-262/57, dated the 26th Novem- 1958, referred to this Tribunal for adjudication industrial dispute between the Bidi Manufactories ned in a list attached to the order of reference their workmen represented by the Zilla Biri zdoor Union, Jalpaiguri.

The issues as framed stand as follows:

1. Whether the closure of the factories with effect from 11th September 1958 is justified?
2. Whether the workers affected by such closure are entitled to any retrenchment compensation and/or any other relief?

AWARD

Upon receipt of the order of reference, notices e issued upon the parties for appearance and for g written statements.

The workmen represented by the Zilla Bidi Mazdur ion (hereinafter referred to as the Union) filed the tten statement on 20th February 1959. It is tended, inter alia, that the workmen represented the Union placed the demands to the proprietors he Bidi Manufacturing concerns on 5th June 1958 ming increase in rates for making of bidi by at t 25 per cent. of the present rates and for ting facilities at the factories regarding latrine, aking water, etc. The Union in their letter, dated h July 1958, written to the proprietors of the i Manufacturing concerns, complained that the kers were not being given full work and that the es of the workers had fallen, as bidis were being ught from outside, as a result of which the kers were being brought deprived from the imum wages fixed by the Minimum Wage Board. matter of dispute was taken up by the Labour cer, Jalpaiguri, who asked the parties to meet at oint conference for arriving at an amicable settle- nt. The employer attended the joint conference d on 29th July 1958 and prayed for time up to h August 1958 which was allowed by the Labour Officer. Ultimately, however, the employers did not attend the conference to be held on 10th August 1958. On the other hand, all the five employers as named in the order of reference issued notices on 23rd September 1958 intimating closure of the establishments. It was mentioned in the notice of closure that even though the workers were not entitled to get any notice, the notification was issued simply for giving information as to closure to the workers. It is alleged by the Union that by the notice of closure the employers actually declared a lock-out and that they had closed the establishment in name only and that they are still running their business by a different system of work. It is therefore claimed by the Union that the closure being a fictitious one, the workers should be paid full wages from 11th September 1958, i.e., the date of closure, till they are given work at the factory or, in the alternative, they should be paid retrenchment compensation as provided under section 25(FFF) of the Industrial Disputes Act.

Four out of five Bidi Manufacturers made parties in the order of reference filed separate written statement on 6th May 1959. Only Hindusthan Tobacco Co. of which Shri Manindra Mohan Saha is the proprietor did not file any written statement. All the written statements as filed are in the same terms and in order to appreciate the case of the employers it would be enough to refer to any one of the same. It is contended by the employers that the bidi makers who worked at the premises of the concerned are not "workmen" within the meaning of the Industrial Disputes Act. It is alleged that the employers had no control with regard to the attendance and the period of work of the bidi makers and that the amount of work to be done by the bidi makers was regulated by the bidi makers at their convenience and that the bidi makers were paid at the rate of Rs. 1-15 per thousand sticks of bidi as remuneration, as contractors doing job. It is further stated that the premises wherein the manufacturing of bidis was carried on was situated by the side of P.W.D. Road and so it was not possible for the Bidi Manufacturers to make any arrangement of latrine there. Nevertheless the proprietors of these concerns received notices from the Inspector of Factories, Jalpaiguri, on 18th July 1958 asking that the concerns should be registered and licensed as factory. As it was found impossible to give the facilities and amenities to the bidi makers as required under the Factories Act, the proprietors were left with no other alternative but to close the business from the premises situated on the P.W.D. Road land. At the same time the bidi makers were requested to continue their work from their respective houses and give supply of the products, i.e., rolled bidis to the Company. Most of the bidi makers agreed to this term and carried on their job accordingly. Some of the bidi makers, on the other hand, cut off all connections with these manufacturers and started a bidi business of their own in the name and style of "Samabaya Biri Factory". It is thus urged by the proprietors that only the system of the business had been changed and there was no closure in the real sense of the term, and that the workers are not entitled to get either wages as claimed or any retrenchment compensation.

In the several written statements the employers gave the number of workers and for that it is stated that Messrs. Master Bidi Factory at the time of issuing the notice of closing the business employed 36 bidi makers, Messrs. Indian National Tobacco Co. employed 36 bidi makers, Messrs. Monoranjan Bidi Factory employed 45 bidi makers and Messrs. S. M. Pandit & Bros. employed 18 bidi workers.

Subsequently the Union filed a supplementary written statement stating therein that after the aforesaid closure the management re-started the work of bidi manufacturing under a Pass Book system whereby the workmen are given Pass Book in which entries are made regarding the supply of tobacco and the return of finished products. Along with the written statement the Union made Annexures "A", "B" and "C" showing the names of the workmen in the different concerns, their period of service and their place of employment after the closure. From the statement it appears that out of 75 workers of Messrs. Master Biri Factory, 39 did not get any employment; out of 42 workmen of Messrs. Indian National Tobacco Co., 25 did not get any employment; out of 18 workmen of Messrs. Hindusthan Tobacco Co., 10 did not get any employment; out of 42 workmen of Messrs. Monoranjan Biri Factory, 15 did not get any employment; and out of 20 workmen of Messrs. S. M. Pandit & Bros., 11 did not get any employment. Rest are employed in different concerns under the Pass Book system.

In reply to the supplementary written statement filed by the Union, the Bidi Manufacturers, in their turn, filed separate statement on 26th October 1961. It is stated by them that the particulars given in Annexures "A", "B" and "C" to the supplementary written statement are not correct and that the persons who are still unemployed did not either accept the offer of the employer to carry on work under the Pass Book system or that they were employed elsewhere.

The case came up for hearing from 27th March 1962 to 29th March 1962 when both the parties adduced oral and documentary evidence in support of their cases. After the completion of evidence the learned lawyers advanced arguments in support of their respective contentions.

Admittedly, all these five establishments are proprietory concerns. Shri Nani Gopal Saha, Shri Satya Mongal Saha, Shri Manindra Mohan Saha, Shri Monoranjan Bhadra and Shri Sashi Mohan Pandit are the proprietors of Messrs. Master Biri Factory, Messrs. Indian National Tobacco Co., Messrs. Hindusthan Tobacco Co., Messrs. Monoranjan Birj Factory and Messrs. S. M. Pandit & Bros. respectively. Four out of five proprietors had been examined in this case. The Union examined one worker from each of these concerns.

It is necessary first of all to decide if the bidi rollers can be said to be workmen governed by the Industrial Disputes Act.

The definition of the word "workman" beings thus: "workman" means any person employed in an industry to do..... any work, for hire or reward .....". The word "employed" is of special significance. Arrangements involving or resembling the status of "contractors" and "job workers" arise because these require no supervision at all.

The bidi manufacturing work was carried on by all these persons following practically the same method with respect to the execution of work of b making. It appears that the bidi manufacturi work was carried on from kutcha structure made Government land situated in the Mahalla known "New town", Hatkhola in Alipur Duar in the distr of Jalpaiguri. The proprietors had no title over t land upon which the structures were erected. It well known that in the process of manufacturi principal ingredients are tobacco, leaves and thre The bidi makers engaged in the preparation of b used to work from the premises of the proprieto and the work of preparation of bidi by the b makers started in the morning and continued up dusk. The employers used to supply bidi leaves the bidi makers at the close of day's work after t rolled biris had been taken delivery of from the b makers who generally used to take the leaves ho for the purpose of cutting the same to appropri size. Tobacco and thread were supplied to the b makers in the morning when the individual b makers commenced work. At the end of the da work bidi makers used to make over the unus tobacco and thread, and leave home with the 're supply of bidi leaves to resume work for the ne day. Thus the process of rolling up of bidis us to be carried on from the premises of the employe by the workers. According to the definition of t word "factory", as given under section 2(m) of t Factories Act, it means that any premises where 20 or more workers are working, wherein a manu facturing process is being carried on without the of power is a factory. A "worker", as defined in the Act, means a person, employed directly through agency, whether for wages or not, in a manufacturing process or any kind of work incident or connected with the manufacturing process. So th element of "employment" is necessary before a perso can be termed a workman, both under th Factories Act and under the Industrial Disputes Ac It appears that the Inspector of Factories, Jalpaigur asked the bidi manufacturers to apply for registratio and grant of license for the bidi factory so that th provisions of the Factories Act might be applicabl there. Apparently the provisions of the Factorie Act were not applied beforehand. According to th version of the employers they had not sufficien financial resources to give facilities and amenities t the bidi makers working in the factory as required under the Factories Act. Under section 42 of the Factories Act, adequate and suitable facilities for washing need be provided for and maintained for the use of the workers according to the standar prescribed by the Government. Besides, the owne of the premises used as a factory is bound to mak provisions regarding urinal and latrine for the us of the workers. It was at the time when the Inspector of Factories, Jalpaiguri, had been insisting upon the employers engaged in bidi manufacturing to have registration and license of the factories owned by them for extending facilities as to latrine urinal, etc., to the workmen, that the owners of those establishmens decided to close down the factories, in the sense, that they decided not to have the work of bidi making done from the kutcha premises wherefrom the work was being done. In the notice of closure [Ext. 1(a)], as issued, the clear intention was expressed by the employers that the work of bidi making from the factory would be stopped from 11th September 1958. It was not stated that the business was being closed. Rather it was stated that no work of bidi making would be done from the factory that is the premises from where the business was being carried on. Prior to that the Union in their letter, dated 5th June 1958, addressed to the proprietors of the different bidi factories made out a grievance that the proprietors failed to make adequate provisions regarding latrine and urinal in spite of promises to that effect as made by them (vide Ext. 10 series). There is nothing to show that such promise had been made. The demand regarding provisions for latrine and other facilities was again made by the Union in their letter, dated 14th July 1958 (vide Ext. 11 series). The proprietors of the concerns informed in clear terms the Union as well as the Labour Officer, Jalpaiguri, in their letter, dated 24th June 1958, that it was not possible for them to erect any latrine on the railway land, over which they had no title, without the permission of the owner of the land. In that letter it was further stated that they had a desire to solve the problem of urinal and latrine if they could get any acquired land, and that they failed to do so when no such land could be acquired presumably under Government assistance. It was in this situation when the owners of the bidi factories were pressed from different quarters regarding extending the facilities in the matter of making provisions for latrine, urinal and washing for the benefit of the workmen which they could not readily do for the main reasons that the so-called factories stood on lands over which they had no title, they took the decision that instead of having the bidi making done in the premises, the workers would do the same job from their home on the basis of the Pass Book system introduced by the proprietors. Clearly when the biri manufacturers had no other use and need of the bidi makers except to have bidis rolled by them done from premises situated on other's land, they found it necessary to have such work done from the premises. It is thus stated by the employers in the written statement that in that situation the bidi makers were requested to continue the work of making bidis by taking all the materials from the Company to their respective houses. It is the common case of both the parties that the bidi makers were paid at the rate of Rs. 1-15 per thousand bidis as prepared by them. It is urged by the learned lawyer for the workmen that these persons so engaged by the manufacturers were piece-rated workers. It is therefore necessary to examine the facts and circumstances of the case from the standpoint as to how the bidi rollers were connected in the actual relationship in doing the work with the businessman. It appears from the evidence of the parties taken as a whole that the work of bidi making was carried on from morning till dusk every day except on Thursday when no work was done. From the side of the Union one bidi maker of each concern had been examined. They stated that they used to attend the factory at about 7 a.m. and took the supply of materials. They then started work at 7-30 a.m. and continued the same up to 11 a.m. There was no work from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. when they enjoyed recess. After that the work continued up to 8 p.m. It is admitted by P.W. 3 Shri Dey a bidi binder of Messrs. S. M. Pandit & Bros. that the employer maintained no attendance register and the attendance of the bidi workers was not recorded. On the other hand the version of the employers is that there was no fixed hour of work prescribed for bidi workers who used to come generally between 7 to 10 a.m. and carried on work up to about 6 p.m. The karikars as they were called could leave at any time. Naturally when there was no system of keeping any record of attendance of these persons there could not arise any question of enforcing attendance in the matter of arrival or departure according to scheduled hours. But at the same time it appears from the evidence that the maliks used to keep records of the production of bidis that is the number of bidi sticks supplied by each worker every day. The different proprietors as concerned in this dispute produced the Accounts Books for the year 1365 B.S. From these accounts Exts. E, F, G and H it is clear that the production of bidis varied in quantity from worker to worker in the several days of work. There is such wide divergence in the quantum of production by a particular worker on the several days in a month that the conclusion is inevitable that the bidi workers did actually work for different periods in the day just as they liked and that they had the fullest liberty to turn out as many bidis as they liked. The management did not regulate the manner in which the work was done.

So it appears that even though the place of work was kept open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. Bidi makers could come at any time during that time and do work as long as they liked. There was also no fixed period during the day when the workers would go outside for taking their meals. The workers must have decided for their own convenience to enjoy a respite for taking meals. This was no concern of the owners of the concerns. The bidi makers who deposed in the case wanted to say that they took permission from the manager or other officer of the employers when they needed go out during the working hours. The employers denied the allegations. Obviously when it was solely the concern of the bidi makers to earn remuneration according to the quantum of bidi rolled, I do not find any earthly reason why such permission for remaining absent for a short period could at all be necessary.

It is also clear from the evidence that there was no system of granting leave to the bidi rollers and they could remain absent according to their own sweet will for any number of days. Had there been any system of granting leave, there must have been a record of the same. Besides, in such situation unauthorised absence must have been penalised. Not a single case could be cited by the Union wherein malik took any action against the bidi roller for remaining absent without permission. Considering the evidence I hold that there was no system of granting any leave. It is also clear from the evidence that the employers maintained no record as to the period when a bidi roller had worked in the factory under a particular manufacturer. I also find from the evidence that no disciplinary action had ever been taken against any worker for being absent without prior intimation or for negligence in work or on any account. It however appears from the evidence of O.P.W. 4, Shri Saha, owner of Messrs. Indian National Tobacco Co., that he had certain employees who used to distribute tobacco to the workers and take delivery of bidi after rejection of defective bidis. The employers also gave direction about the size and standard of bidis to be produced. The only act of supervision done by the bidi manufacturers was with respect to the rejection of defective bidis at the time of delivery of rolled bidis by the bidi makers. The mere fact that the person rolling biri had to roll them according to certain standard specification can hardly be said to be a right to control the manner of work.

In the case of Messrs. Dharangdara Chemical Works Ltd. vs. State Saurashtra and others the Hon'ble Supreme Court held with reference to section 2(s) of the Industrial Disputes Act that the word employed used in the definition of workman implies relationship of master and servant and a distinction was drawn between a workman and an independent contractor. The prima facie test whether the relationship of master and servant or employer and employee existed was laid down as the existence of the rights in the employer not merely to direct what work was to be done but also to control the manner in which it was to be done, the nature or extent of such control varying in different industries and being by its nature not capable of being precisely defined. The correct approach therefore to the question was held to be whether having regard to the nature of the work there was due control and supervision of the employer. The facts of that case indicate that the Company took lease of certain salt work from the State. The entire area was parcelled out into plots called 'Pattas' and these are let out to "aghiaras" and the question arose whether the "aghiaras" were workmen or independent contractors. It was found from the evidence that there was supervision and control exercised by the management in all stages of manufacture from beginning to end. This is practically the leading case wherein the distinction between the contractor and workmen had been shown and the guiding principle to distinguish one from the other was enumerated. The whole question to be answered is if there was contract of service or contract for service. The same question as to how the position of a person engaged to do certain work is to be determined also come up for consideration in the case of Messrs. Chintaman Rao and another vs. State of Madhya Pradesh (reported in 1958 II, L.L.J. p. 252). That case happened to relate to bidi workers. It was pointed out in that case that whether a particular person working the factory was an independent contractor or a worker would depend upon the terms of contract entered into between him and the employer and that no general proposition could be laid down which would be applicable to all cases and the conclusion as to whether a person working in the factory is an independent worker or a contractor would depend upon the fact of each case. In the case of Chintaman Rao and another the bidi manufacturers engaged "satterdar" who undertook to do specific job of work (i.e., the supply of bidis, directly or indirectly through his coolies, by manufacturing them either in their own factory or by entrusting the work to third parties), to be paid for by the management after delivery and approval. They and their coolies neither worked in the factory, nor were they subject to the supervision or control of the manufacturers. The factory employed other workers who worked under the direct control and supervision of the factory management and attended to further process of manufacture. Applying the test laid down in the case of Messrs. Dhrangadhra Chemical Works Ltd. it was held that the "satterdars" in the present case, having regard to the nature of work undertaken by them and the terms whereunder their services were engaged, were not workers within the definition of "workman".

The self-same question as to whether bidi rollers were workmen or petty contractors came up for decision before the Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of Birdhichand Sharma vs. First Civil Judge, Nagpur, and others, reported in 1961, L.L.J. II, p. 86. In that case the facts and circumstances relating to the mode of work done by the bidi roller indicated that a worker was not given any work if he did not reach in the factory before mid-day, and that the worker could be removed from employment if he was absent for eight days continuously and that there were Standing Orders governing the conditions of service of the workmen, and that the attendance of the workers was noted. The Hon'ble Supreme Court upon considering the entire circumstances of the case and particularly the facts stated above came to a decision that the bidi rollers were the workers within the meaning of section 2(1) of the Factories Act. In that judgment, however, there is a reference to another case of bidi rollers as decided by the Division Bench, Bombay High Court, in the State vs. Shankar Balaji Waja (reported in 1961, II, L.L.J., p. 8). The Bombay High Court decided in the particular facts and circumstances of the case that the bidi rollers were workmen and not petty contractors. The decision of the Bombay High Court came up for decision appeal before the Supreme Court and the orders passed by the High Court were set aside by a majority decision of the Hon'ble Supreme Court (A.I.R., 1962, Supreme Court, p. 517). In this case, their Lordships clearly distinguished the facts and circumstances of the case, from the case of Birdhichand Sharma. It is urged by the learned lawyer for the employers that the facts of this case are exactly the same as the facts of the case of Sankar Balaji Waje. The facts established in that case, in sub-paras 1 to 7, are enumerated in para. 8 of the decision at pages 619 and 520 of A.I.R. 1962. The established facts of this case are exactly the same as those stated in the sub-paras 1 to 7 except for sub-paras 3 and 6. In this case no intimation is to be given even when a bidi roller remained absent for more than 10 days. But at the same time the workmen had not the liberty to do the work from home. The mere fact that in this case the bidi rollers had to work from a particular place does not show, in the background of the facts and circumstances of the case, taken as a whole that the bidi rollers were workmen.

It may be mentioned in this connection that there was previous award, in which Messrs. Master Biri Factory, Messrs. Indian National Tobacco Co. and Messrs. Hindusthan Tobacco Co. were the employers and the workmen represented by the same Union were parties wherein the learned Tribunal held that the bidi makers cannot be said to be workmen within the meaning of section 2(s) of the Industrial Disputes Act. The said award was published in the "Calcutta Gazette", dated the 14th March 1958. Even though the rule of res judicata does not apply in industrial disputes, it has got to be seen, how far a different decision can be supported in the light of any change in circumstances so far as these three concerns which were parties in the previous adjudication. When I do not find any evidence to support that the facts and circumstances governing the working of the establishment had undergone any change, I am inclined to hold that the bidi rollers are still in the position of petty contractors.

Considering all facts and circumstances I hold that when the bidi rollers are not workmen, the dispute cannot fall within the meaning of section 2(k) of the Industrial Disputes Act. The question as to whether persons doing a particular job can be termed as "workman", is a question of fact. The legal objection, as to the jurisdiction of the Tribunal, on the point that the dispute as referred to is not an industrial dispute has got to be decided in the light of the facts and circumstances of the case. In this case I uphold the legal objection.

This is the award.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of a complaint under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, filed by Sarbasri Chandra Mohan Debnath, Monindra Debnath, Bachu Sk., employees of Messrs. Bauria Cotton Mills Co. Ltd., against the aforesaid Company. (Case No. 98 of 1960, under section 33A.)

BEFORE THE SECOND LABOUR COURT, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri HEM RANJAN DEB, Presiding Officer, Second Labour Court.

Appearances:

For the Company: Shri R. Goswami, Legal Adviser of Messrs. Bengal Chamber of Commerce and Industry.

For the complainant: None:

The Government of West Bengal in the Labour Department, by their order No. 3424-I.R./IR/8L-34/59, dated the 27th July 1959, referred an industrial dispute between Messrs. Bauria Cotton Mills Co. Ltd., and their workmen, to the Second Industrial Tribunal for adjudication. During the pendency of that dispute Sarbasri Chandra Mohan Debnath, Monindra Debnath and Bachu Sekh, workmen of the above Company filed a complaint under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act against the above Company before that Tribunal, on 19th May 1960. That Tribunal, as authorised by the Government of West Bengal notification No. 1916-I.R., dated the 13th May 1958, transferred the case to this Court on 18th June 1960 for disposal.

Findings

After several adjournments the case was fixed for hearing on 5th April 1962. On that date the Company was present; but none of the complainants or none on their behalf was present. This shows that they are not willing to proceed with the complaint. Hence I hold that there is no complaint under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act in this case.

AWARD

This is a reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, by Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 2879-I.R./IR/7L-4(A)/61, dated the 2nd June 1961. The issue involved in this case is as follows:

Issue

Whether the dismissal of Shri Jagannath Das, Labour Office Clerk, is justified? To what relief, if any, is he entitled?

After usual notices were given to the parties, the Union took time for filing written statement on 29th June 1961, and the case was adjourned to 15th July 1961 for that purpose. On that date both parties remained absent. Next 31st July 1961 was fixed for filing written statement by the Union, which was complied. Thereafter the Union remained absent all through and took no steps on any one of as many as ten adjourned dates till 10th April 1962. Though the Company filed its own written statement on 28th September 1961 and took some steps for filing list of documents on 23rd December 1961, it also remained absent on all other dates including 10th April 1962.

Under the circumstances I proceed to dispose of case under rule 22 of the West Bengal Industrial Disputes Rules of 1958. I presume that the Industrial Dispute under reference is no longer in existence. Hence I pass a "no-dispute" award in this case.

he Government of West Bengal by its Labour partment, order No. 1117-I.R./IR/11L-45/61, ed the 9th March 1961, referred to this Tribunal industrial dispute between Messrs. Wood Craft ducts Ltd., post office and district Cooch Behar reafter referred to as the Company), and their kmen represented by Wood Craft Products zdoor Union, post office and district Cooch Behar reafter referred to as the Union), for adjudication ler section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act.

he issues referred to this Tribunal for adjudication as follows:

(1) Whether the closure of the factory contemplated in the Management's notice, dated the 19th December 1960, is justified in the context of the settlement, dated 22nd September 1960?

(2) Whether the contemplated closure is bona fide? Whether it is beyond the control of the Management and whether in the present circumstances it is justified?

(3) To what relief, if any, are the workmen entitled?

AWARD

Both the parties have stated their respective cases in the written statements filed by them before this Tribunal. Briefly stated, the dispute referred to has arisen in the following way: Messrs. Wood Craft Products Ltd. has been started about 17 years back, and it was engaged in the manufacture of tea chests, and the factory was situated at Cooch Behar, Headquarters of a North Bengal District of the truncated West Bengal. Sometime in 1959, the Company obtained a licence from the Central Government for shifting their factory from Cooch Behar to somewhere in Assam. But when the workers of the factory came to know of this intended shifting of the factory and its machineries, they raised a voice of protest and made agitations also in that connection. The Company's allegation is that it was compelled to obtain a licence for shifting the factory as it was not being able to procure sufficient raw materials for manufacture of tea chest and commercial ply wood. After some negotiation between the workers and the Management, it was agreed on 29th September 1960 that the original factory for manufacture of tea chest would continue to function as before in Cooch Behar, and some heavy machines acquired by the Management for the purpose of manufacture of commercial plywood would be removed to Assam for installation there. On 19th December 1960 however the Management issued a notice declaring their intention to close the factory at Cooch Behar. After this notice was issued, the workmen again vehemently protested against this contemplated closure of the factory, and certain conciliation proceedings were started. On 19th January 1961 the Company by a fresh notice withdrew its previous notice of intended closure and decided to lay off some 99 workmen of the factory on certain grounds. In view of these circumstances, it is contended on behalf of the workmen that the closure of the factory as contemplated by the Management's notice, dated 19th December 1960, was unjustified. It is also urged that this contemplated closure was not necessitated by unavoidable circumstances beyond the control of the employer.

The Company, on the other hand, contends that the dispute regarding the alleged contemplated closure is misconceived, in view of the fact that the right to declare closure of a factory is rather an inherent right of the Management. It is also urged that no dispute can actually be agitated in respect of this alleged contemplated closure, because the notice of closure itself was actually withdrawn long before this dispute was referred to this Tribunal. It is urged that a closure—actual or contemplated—by itself cannot form the subject matter of a dispute. The dispute, if any, may arise in respect of the benefits, if any, due to the workers on account of actual closure. It is, of course, conceded by the Management that the actual closure of the factory did come at a later date.

By the order of reference as it stands at present, this Tribunal has been asked to determine whether there was justification for the contemplated closure and whether it was a bona fide conduct of the Management in the circumstances of the case. The last issue framed by the Government is whether the workmen are entitled to any relief under the circumstances.

Decisions

I have already pointed out above that according to the Management, the workmen have no right to question the authority of the Management to effect a closure of the business. It is definitely urged that to close down the business is an inherent right of the Management. On the other hand, a contemplated closure is only a subjective aspect of the Management's mind in respect of the coming closure before the business has actually been closed. So, it is sometimes premature to consider justifiability and bona fides of a contemplated closure. A contemplation in that respect may not be translated into action. A contemplation once made may be dropped for some time and reconsidered on a future date, and ultimately may lead to an actual closure. The admitted fact is that in the instant case the notice which was issued on 19th December 1960 declaring the Management's intention to close down the business from a certain date was actually recalled by a subsequent notice (vide Ext. 18). It is the settled law by now that the question whether an employer could or could not close down a business permanently or temporarily, falls outside the purview of the Industrial Disputes Act, because the application of the Act assumes the continued existence of a particular industry. There cannot be a dispute between an employer and an employee as regards continuance of the business, and any reference on the question to an Industrial Tribunal will be invalid accordingly. No Government or State can compel an employer to carry on his business, simply because several employees may be thrown out of employment if it is closed. It is not open to any Court or Tribunal to canvas the grounds which prompted the owner to discontinue his business. The ground may be actual loss or apprehended loss or it may be simple disinclination to run the risk of further running the business. So, the Act does not profess to touch the employer's right to close down his business, and, therefore, it does not deal with the consequences arising out of it. In this view of the matter, a closure or a contemplated closure per se cannot be the subject matter of an industrial dispute. An employer may decide not to carry on his business. But this does not necessarily mean that the workmen are automatically thrown out of employment. The question of compensation to the employees discharged as a result of the closure may be considered to be an industrial dispute within the meaning of the Act. So, the law makes provisions for compensation to them and at different rates under different circumstances. Section 25FFF has been enacted for this purpose. It has been laid down that where an undertaking is closed down for any reason whatsoever, every workman..... ..will be entitled to notice and compensation in accordance with the provisions of section 25F as if the workman has been retrenched. It has also been provided that where an undertaking is closed down on account of unavoidable circumstances beyond the control of the employer, the compensation to be paid to the workman..... shall not exceed his average pay for three months. Thus this section also shows the law does not challenge or question the right of the employer to close down his business for any reason whatsoever. But if the closure was under unavoidable circumstances, the compensation payable fo closure will be less. From the scheme of Industrial Disputes Act itself, it is sufficiently that it is not within the jurisdiction of an Indu Tribunal to enquire into the question of justifiat of a closure or a contemplated closure. The dispute that can be urged is what should be benefits, if any, for such actual closure but no a contemplated closure. In this view of the m I am afraid, the issues as framed and referred to Tribunal for adjudication are not competen happily worded. Moreover, the reference itself a sense invalid as the question of granting any r to the workmen does not really arise on accoun an alleged contemplated closure.

However, assuming for argument's sake that real intention of the issues framed was jus ascertain whether the closure which eventu materialised on a later date was on accoun unavoidable circumstances beyond the control of employer, I shall discuss hereafter to see if closure - actual or contemplated—was brought ab by unavoidable circumstances beyond the contro the employer. In this connection, the burden of Management's case is that for some time past it finding great difficulties in getting supply of materials for running its factory at Cooch Behar account of certain policy adopted by the Ass Government in this connection. It is urged t formerly the lion share of these raw materials u to come from Assam, and not from the forests North Bengal. Having failed to get adequate sup of raw materials, the Company had to apply shifting its factory to some place at Assam, wh supply of raw materials might be abundant guaranteed. The contention on behalf of the Uni on the other hand, is that the plea of scarcity paucity of raw materials is rather a camouflage, a the real intention of the Company was to have factory and machineries transferred to Assam other extraneous reasons. It is also urged that view of certain settlement arrived at between t two parties on 22nd September 1960, the Compa had no right to issue the notice of closure. So, the are really questions of facts, and must be decided the light of the facts and circumstances on recor I may at once mention that in the instant cas neither party has adduced any oral evidence wha soever. On the other hand, both the parties ha adduced documentary evidences in support of the respective cases, and all these documents we marked as exhibits on the admission of the oppos party concerned, and there was not much challen with regard to the genuineness or correctness of t recitals of these documents.

So, the real point at issue is whether the Compa was forced to close down its business at Cooch Beha on account of paucity of raw materials for runni its factory. The earliest document in this connecti is Ext. A-46, and this is an extract of the minut of the plywood meeting held in the Divisional For Office at Cooch Behar on 17th July 1958. From recital of paragraph 4 thereof it will be clear th 80 per cent. of the raw materials required by t factory in question used to be imported by it fro Assam, and only the residue of about 20 per cen was obtained from forests of Buxa and Cooch Beha Divisions. It will be clear from this document tha the Company was trying its best to get higher allo ment of raw materials from local forests for its ow factory, but without success. Exhibit A-45 is a letter, dated 17th January 1959, addressed to the Minister-in-Charge, Ministry of Commerce and Industry, Government of Assam, by a Director of the Company. It will be clear from this letter that this Company had a veneer mill in Assam which was established in 1952. It was pleaded in this letter that for some time past the Company was experiencing difficulties in obtaining supply of raw materials for its veneer mill due to restrictions imposed by the Forest Department of the Government of Assam and the Company was pleading for higher allotments of supplies. Exhibit A-44 is a letter, dated 5th February 1959, addressed to the present Company by the Senior Conservator of Forests, Assam. It will be clear therefrom that the Conservator was pleading his inability to supply timber to the present concern on account of the fact that the Assam Government was according preference to those concerns which were located in Assam for manufacture of ply wood and not veneer only. Thus it will be clear that the Assam Government not only put restrictions on supply of timber to the factories in Bengal, but also pleaded its inability to supply timber even for pure veneer mill situate in Assam. From Ext. A-43 which is a letter, dated 2nd April 1959, addressed by the present Company to the Conservator of Forests, Northern Circle, West Bengal, it will appear that previously the demand of timber of this concern was totally met by Cooch Behar State Forest and Buxa Division. But for some years past the timber supply from that region became very poor, and the gap was bridged over by import of timber from the State of Assam and also by opening a veneer manufacturing unit in Assam. But lately it became practically impossible to bring timber from the State of Assam due to sudden change of policy of the Government of that State. It may be at once observed that the Conservator of Forests whom the Company approached for supply of raw materials, could not render much help in this connection. From Ext. A-41, dated 29th April 1959, it will appear that the Management of this concern applied to the President, Ply Wood Manufacturers' Association of India for getting supply of timber for its North Bengal factory from the N.E.F.A. Forests. Exhibit A-39 will show that this Ply Wood Manufacturers' Association also moved the Director of Forests, N.E.F.A., Sillong, Assam, for supplying ply wood to the present Company. But this attempt also was not crowned with success. So, having no other alternative the Company applied to the authorities concerned for issuing a licence for shifting its factory and machineries from Cooch Behar to somewhere in Assam [vide Ext. A-39(a)]. From Ext. A-38 which is a copy of the extract from the Assam Gazette, dated 26th August 1959, it will be clear that the Assam Government was no longer in a mood to supply logs or timbers to North Bengal factories, nay, even to simple veneer mills in Assam. Thus from what I have stated above, it will be sufficiently clear that supply of timber from North Bengal was not sufficient to keep the factory in question running. The Company tried its utmost to get supply of raw materials not only from North Bengal, but also it approached the Assam Government and N.E.F.A. authorities to meet its requirements. But as all these attempts failed more or less, the Company was compelled to apply for shifting of its factories and machineries to Assam. So, it does not lie in the mouth of the Union to say that the intention for shifting the factory was rather a camouflage for extraneous reasons. This conclusion of mine is also supported by Ext. A-36, dated 22nd December 1959, addressed to the Secretary, Government of India, Ministry of Commerce and Industry, New Delhi, by a Secretary to the Government of West Bengal. In this letter it was clearly opined by the Government of West Bengal that it could not assure the present Company of any alternative source of supply of their required materials to run their factory in West Bengal, and so the West Bengal Government recommended the case of the present concern for shifting its factory from Cooch Behar to Assam as applied for. It is not in dispute that the present Company eventually got a licence for transfer of its entire factory from Cooch Behar to Assam and it was actually granted on 18th March 1960. In the circumstances, I am unable to conclude that this licence was obtained with a mala fide intention. From Ext. A-31, dated 24th November 1960, it will appear that for certain reasons the Company sought permission of the Government of India to carry on the work of manufacture both at Cooch Behar and Assam, and I am told that the Government was not pleased to grant permission for continuance of manufacture at Cooch Behar. From Ext. A-26, dated 29th June 1960, it will appear that the workers raised a voice of protest against this proposed shifting of the factory. On 22nd September 1960 there was a settlement between the workers represented by their Union and the Management in presence of the Conciliation Officer (vide Ext. A-23). As per this settlement, it was agreed that the tea chest manufacturing section of the factory would continue to function at Cooch Behar and that for this purpose the Management would endeavour to obtain licence in modification or replacement of the present one; and the Union's co-operation in the matter of obtaining such licence was solicited. It was also agreed that three heavy machineries essential for the manufacture of commercial ply wood only would be transferred to Assam. There were other terms also in this settlement, but we are not directly concerned with those terms in the present case. From Ext. A-21 it appears that the Union also tried to help the Management in securing a fresh licence for running the factory at Cooch Behar, but without success. Under the circumstances, the Management issued a notice on 19th December 1960 (vide Ext. A-20) expressing their intention to close down the factory with effect from 25th December 1960, as the Company failed to obtain licence from the Central Government for carrying on the industry at Cooch Behar in modification or replacement of the licence previously granted to them for Assam. The Union raised objection against this notice also. Exhibit A-18 will show that under certain circumstances, the Company decided to recall its notice of closure, and instead decided to lay off a section of workers. Exhibit A-14 will show that on 13th February 1961 the Company issued a notice to terminate the settlement, dated 22nd September 1960, with effect from the date after the expiry of two months from the date of receipt of this notice by the Union. Exhibits A-13, A-12 and A-11 will show that the Management made further attempts also to obtain a licence for carrying on its industry at Cooch Behar. But Ext. A-47, dated 31st October 1961, will show that the Government of India finally pleaded its inability to grant licence for manufacture of tea chest at Cooch Behar, or to continue to provide even for a few months facilities for inspection of tea chest panels manufactured in the factory at Cooch Behar after July 1961. It may be pointed out that Shri Hemanta Kr. Ghosh, M.L.A., West Bengal, moved Dr. B. C. Roy, the Chief Minister of West Bengal, in this connection. But, even Dr. Roy could not be of any assistance to the Company in this respect. Thus from the brief history of the case as I have narrated above, it will be sufficiently clear that the Management was compelled to close down its industry at Cooch Behar on account of unavoidable circumstances beyond their control. So, it will be futile to challenge this action of the Company as mala fide.

It is urged on behalf of the Union that in view of the tripartite settlement, dated 23rd September 1960, referred to above, the Company had no right to declare closure of the industry by a notice, dated 13th February 1961, because six months had not elapsed by then from the date on which the agreement was signed in view of the provisions of section 19 of the Industrial Disputes Act. In this connection, I may at once refer to clause (b) of the terms of settlement. From a reading thereof, it will appear that the Company expressed a pious wish to make every attempt to obtain a licence for continuing its industry at Cooch Behar, and the Union also agreed to co-operate with the Management in this respect. The fact remains that honest attempts were made by both the parties for getting such a licence for continuing the industry, but without any success. So, this is not really an agreement which can be enforced and said to be irretrievable binding on the Company. The Company by this clause did never intend to contract itself out of its inherent right to close the factory under unavoidable circumstances also. So, I am unable to hold that the Management is guilty of violation of the terms of agreement, simply because they were forced to declare a closure under circumstances beyond their control. So, my considered opinion is that in spite of the settlement, dated 22nd September 1960, the Management had sufficient justification for contemplating a closure in terms of its notice, dated 19th December 1960. This contemplated closure was certainly bona fide, and the decision was taken under certain circumstances beyond the control of the Management. But the fact remains that this notice of contemplated closure also was withdrawn, and the present reference is premature. So, the workmen are not entitled to any relief in the present case.

This is my award.

By Order No. 1506-I.R./IR/11L-212/60, dated the 5th April 1960, the Government of West Bengal in the Labour Department referred an industrial dispute between Messrs. Samuel Fitze & Co. (Private) Ltd. and their workmen represented by Shop Assistants' Association of Bengal relating to the undermentioned issue to the Second Labour Court for adjudication.

Issue

1. Whether the termination of service of Shri Bijoy Krishna Mukherjee is justified? To what relief, if any, is he entitled?

The Shop Assistants' Association of Bengal (hereinafter referred to as the Union) and Messrs. Samuel Fitze & Co. (Private) Ltd. (hereinafter referred to as the Company) have filed written statements in support of their respective cases. The Company in its written statement raised a preliminary objection to the effect that this was not an industrial dispute. At the instance of the Company this preliminary objection was heard first. By my Order No. 19, dated the 17th November 1961, I decided that preliminary objection and held that this was an industrial dispute. Accordingly by that very order I fixed 11th December 1961 for hearing about the merits of the issue. On 11th December 1961 the Company filed a petition praying for an adjournment on the ground that it would prefer an appeal before the Hon'ble High Court against my above order. Accordingly the case was adjourned to 6th January 1962. Thereafter on the petitions of the Company the case was adjourned for five times more, and ultimately the case was fixed for heairng on 17th May 1962. The Union appeared on that date but none was present for the Company. So the case was heard ex parte.

The case of the Union, briefly stated, is as follows: Shri Bijoy Krishna Mukherjee, the workman mentioned in the issue of the order of reference, entered the service of the Company in 1918. He rendered meritorious service to the Company for about 41 years and the Company appreciated his service. This is evidenced by the certificates given to him by the Managing Directors and other officers of the Company. On 31st January 1959 the Company served on him a notice terminating his service with effect from 28th February 1959 on the ground of necessity for reorganisation and on consideration of his age and state of health. On receipt of the said notice he wrote a letter to the Company on 2nd February 1959 and a subsequent letter offering to serve the Company till the end of his life. But the Company did not allow him to continue his service. The Company gave him notice pay and his provident fund amount minus the interest. He did not avail of privilege leave during the last two years of his service. In 1952 the Company allowed a bonus of one month's pay to each of its employees and paid one half of the bonus, the other half being still due. The Union contends that Shri Bijoy Krishna Mukherjee is of good health and is able to do his work properly. So the ground of ill-health does not stand. If the Company terminated his service on account of the necessity of reorganisation, this would mean that he has been retrenched. So the Union demands that Shri Bijoy Krishna Mukherjee should be paid retrenchment compensation and also outstanding dues such as interest of the provident fund, pay in lieu of privilege leave for the last two years of service and one-half of the bonus referred to above.

The Company in its written statement has denied that Shri Bijoy Krishna Mukherjee was retrenched. Its contention is that his service was terminated as he was not able to do his work properly on account of his age and ill-health and that this has been made clear in the letter terminating his service. The Company has a scheme of provident fund and has no other scheme of retiring benefit. The Company has paid to him the entire amount of his provident fund. The Company also denies that it did not pay the interest on the provident fund or the half of the bonus for 1952. The Company also denies that any leave was due to Shri Bijoy Krishna Mukherjee at the time of the termination of his service.

FINDINGS

The Union has examined only one witness, viz., Shri Bijoy Krishna Mukherjee, in support of its case. He says that he is of good health and is still able to do his work properly. He also says that the Company never issued to him any prior notice that he was not being able to do his work properly on account of age or ill-health. He has also deposed about the outstanding dues mentioned in the written statement of the Union. There was none on behalf of the Company to cross-examine him. So his evidence remains unchallenged. According to his evidence the contention of the Company that he was not being able to do his work properly on account of age or ill-health is not true. So this lends support to the inference that the termination of his service is due to the other reason, viz., necessity of reorganisation mentioned in the letter terminating his service. The Company has not adduced any evidence as to the circumstances necessitating reorganisation. Even if it be held that the Company had good reason for reorganisation, the termination of the service of Shri Bijoy Krishna Mukherjee would be a retrenchment. In that view the Company cannot escape the responsibility of paying the retrenchment compensation to him. But according to his own admission his present age is 69. So retrenchment in his case has not produced the same baneful effects which would be caused to a younger man by retrenchment. So I do not allow him full retrenchment compensation for the 41 years of his service. So I order that the Company shall pay him retrenchment compensation equal to one year's pay which comes to Rs. 3,660 (Rs. 305×12). The Company shall also pay him the following outstanding dues:

(1) Rs. 285 in lieu of privilege leave for 28 days which accrued to him during the last two years of his service;

(2) Rs. 152.50 nP. being the unpaid half of the bonus for the year 1952;

(3) Rs. 164.32 nP. being the interest which accrued to his provident fund.

The above order shall be carried out within a month of the publication of this award in the "Calcutta Gazette."

AWARD

By order No. 2531-I.R./IR/4L-46/60, dated 23rd May 1960, the Government of West Bengal in the Labour Department referred an industrial dispute between Messrs. Md. Suleman Motor Service and their workmen represented by Bus Workers' Union relating to the undermentioned issue to this Court for adjudication:

Issue

Whether the termination of service of the twelve workmen named in the list attached is justified?

To what relief, if any, are they entitled?

1. Shri Ramnath Saha.
2. Shri Jagadish P. Sah.
3. Shri Badry Tewry.
4. Shri Lalit Gopal.
5. Shri Md. Jan.
6. Shri Attab Hossain.
7. Shri Amin Ahmen Khan.
8. Shri Indrodeb Pandey.
9. Shri Prabhu Singh.
10. Shri Gulchagul Khan.
11. Shri Md. Suleman.
12. Shri Md. Siddique.

In this case the Bus Workers' Union (hereinafter referred to as the Union) filed its written statement on 17th August 1960. After four adjournments Messrs. Md. Suleman Motor Service (hereinafter referred to as the Company) filed their written statement on 23rd December 1960. After several adjournments, mostly on the prayers of the Company, the case was fixed for hearing on 9th April 1962. On that date the Union appeared ready for the hearing. None appeared for the Company. There was no prayer on behalf of the Company for adjournment. So the case was heard ex parte on that date.

The case of the Union, briefly stated, is as follows:—

The 12 workmen mentioned in the list attached to the order of reference were workmen under the Company. Of them Jagadish Prosad Saha, Gulchagul Khan and Md. Siddique, named under serial numbers 2, 10, and 12 respectively in the list of workmen were drivers, and the remaining workmen were conductors of buses owned by the Company. The Company had three buses in which the workmen were employed. Two of the buses had been plying in route No. 13 and one had been plying in route No. 10 in Calcutta. After the above two routes were nationalised, the Government of West Bengal allowed to the Company bus routes in moffusil. The Company took one bus to Gomoh-Habra to Gobardanga route and two buses to Diamond Harbour to Raydighi route. The 12 workmen mentioned in the list worked in the new routes for 2/3 months. Thereafter the Company terminated their services on 4th April 1959 without showing any reason. So the Union contends that the termination of services of the above 12 workmen is unjustified.

The Company in its written statement has raised a preliminary objection to the effect that the order of reference is not maintainable on the ground that the Union in question has got no representative character. As to the merits of the issue the case of the Company is that the workmen mentioned in the order of reference were contracted hands on daily rate basis and that there was no relation of employer and employee between the Company and them. The Company denies that it dismissed them. It states that they had been laid off, as after the shifting the buses to mofussil routes the plying of those buses was kept suspended under Government order. So the Company contends that it was not in any way responsible for the involuntary unemployment caused to the above 12 workmen.

The Company has not adduced any evidence in support of its preliminary objection. On the other hand P.W. 1 Jagadish P. Saha has stated in his evidence before me that all the 12 workmen mentioned in the order of reference are members of the Union in question. So it cannot be contended that the Union in question has got no representative character. Hence I reject the preliminary objection of the Company and proceed to consider the merits of the issue.

The Company has denied any relation of employer and employee between it and the 12 workmen mentioned in the order of reference. The reason stated by it is that they were contracted hands on daily rate basis. The Company has not adduced any evidence as to the nature of contract between it and the workmen. It is true that the workmen were paid at a daily rate, but this is no reason for holding that there was no relation of employer and employee between the Company and its workmen. P.W. 1 has stated in his evidence that the workmen had fixed hours of duty and that they were subject to the control and supervision of the proprietor of the Company. So clearly the workmen were the employees of the Company. Hence there is no substance in the contention of the Company that there was no relation of employer and employee between it and the workmen; hence I reject the contention.

It is clear from the written statement of the Company that it admits that the services of the 12 workmen mentioned in the order of reference were terminated; the only contention of the Company is at it had to do so for reasons beyond its control. ıe Union on the other hand contends that the ɔmpany intentionally terminated the services of the ɔove 12 workmen. As has been stated already, the ıse was heard ex parte. The Company has not ıduced any evidence in support of its contention ıentioned in its written statement. The Union as examined one witness in support of its case. le is P.W. 1 Shri Jagadish Saha. He has stated efinitely that the Company terminated their ser- ices. He has denied the contention of the Com- any that it laid them off on account of the tem- orary suspension of plying of the buses. His evi- ence remains unchallenged. It is clear from his vidence that the Company dismissed the 12 work- ɪn without any reason. Hence I hold that the ermination of their services is unjustified. So I rder that the Company shall reinstate them and ay them wages from 4th April 1959 until the date f re-instatement at the daily rates mentioned elow. Shri Jagadish Prosad Saha has proved a hart showing the daily wages of the 12 workmen. As this chart has not been challenged, I accept it and order that the Company shall pay wages at the rates mentioned in the chart. The following are these rates:—

Name	Daily Rate Rs. nP.
1. Ramnath Sah	... 3.50
2. Jagadish P. Sah	... 6.50
3. Badry Tewry	... 3.50
4. Lalit Gopal	... 3.50
5. Md. Jan	... 3.50
6. Attab Hossain	.. 3.50
7. Amin Ahmen Khan	.. 3.50
8. Indrodeb Pandey	... 3.50
9. Prabhu Singh	.. 3.50
10. Gulchagul Khan	.. 6.50
11. Md. Suleman	.. 3.50
12. Md. Siddique	.. 6.50

The above order shall be carried out within a ionth of the publication of this award in the Calcutta Gazette."

AWARD

The above dispute over the issue given in the order of reference and reproduced below was referred for adjudication to this Tribunal by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 7262-I.R./IR/11L-496/61, dated the 25th November 1961.

Issue

Whether the termination of employment of Shri Howsila Prosad Misra is justified? To what relief, if any, is he entitled?

The case put forward by the Union on behalf of the concerned worker in the written statement filed by it may be very briefly summarised as follows. The concerned worker, Shri Howsila Prosad, served under the employer in his office at 20/1 Ratan Sarkar Garden Street, Calcutta, on the stipulated monthly wages of Rs. 49, but he was never regularly paid his wages and so, he used to make takids for the unpaid wages and finally on 23rd March 1961 when the concerned worker demanded payment of his due wages for a period of five months, he was summarily dismissed and driven out from the office without payment of any wages. The termination of his service by the employer in the aforesaid circumstances was absolutely unjust, mala fide and opposed to all principles of natural justice and amounted to victimisation. So, the concerned worker is entitled to be reinstated to his old post under the employer and to be paid all back wages including arrear wages for five months.

The case put forward on behalf of the employer in reply to the aforesaid case of the Union is briefly as follows. The concerned worker worked for a period of about five months, from 7th Kartick to 30th Falgoon 1367 B.S. and his monthly wages were Rs. 49 in all including Rs. 2 as dearness allowance. The concerned worker was not removed from his service by the employer, but he voluntarily left his job. He was paid all his due wages for the aforesaid period of actual service, but he subsequently returned the wages received for the last month of Falgoon 1367 B.S. So, it was a case of voluntary relinquishment of service by the concerned worker after serving for about five months and not a case of unjust and mala fide termination of service by the employer, as alleged by the Union. The concerned worker is, therefore, not entitled to reinstatement, as claimed. He is, however, entitled to get wages for the last month of service (Falgoon 1367 B.S.), which was returned by him subsequent to acceptance after he voluntarily relinquished his service under the employer.

A preliminary objection that it is not a case of industrial dispute was also raised in the written statement, but it was not pressed at the trial.

It is to be decided upon the evidence produced before this Tribunal which of the two conflicting versions about the termination of the service of the concerned worker and payment of his due wages is to be accepted. The only evidence in support of the substantive case put forward on behalf of the worker regarding his alleged illegal and unjust termination of service by the employer and non-payment of his due wages for five months consists of the uncorroborated oral testimonies of the concerned worker himself. As against this evidence, there is the evidence of the employer's Manager, O.P.W. 1 Shri Tarapada Thakur, who has testified that the worker voluntarily relinquished his service after serving for a period of about five months, from 7th Kartick to 30th Falgoon 1367 B.S. and he was paid all his due wages for the aforesaid period of service, but subsequently he returned the last month's wages. He is fully corroborated in regard to the payment of wages to the concerned worker as testified to by him by the entries in the Jabeda book (Exts. A series and B series). The Jabeda book has been proved to have been kept regularly in due course of business and I am satisfied that it is a correct and bona fide account book. As between the oral testimonies of the aforesaid two witnesses, I prefer to accept the testimonies of the employer's Manager, O.P.W. 1 Shri Tarapada Thakur, who has impressed me as more liable and trustworthy than the concerned worker and whose evidence in respect of the payment of wages is fully supported by the entries in the duly kept Jabeda account book. The concerned worker is fully contradicted by the entries in the account book in the matter of the alleged non-payment of his due wages for five months. I have no hesitation to accept the evidence of the employer's Manager corroborated by the entries in the account book (Exts. A and B series) in this respect. I also accept the evidence of the employer's Manager that the concerned worker really relinquished his job voluntarily on 30th Falgoon 1367 B.S. after serving from 7th Kartick 1367 B.S. and it was not a case of his removal from service or termination of his service by the employer. Necessarily, the concerned worker is not entitled to any relief on the ground of his alleged unjust termination of his service by the employer. On the question of payment of wages also, I hold upon the evidence discussed above that he was paid and he duly received the wages for the period of his service from 7th Kartick up to the end of Magh 1367 B.S. and he also at first accepted the wages for the month of Falgoon 1367 B.S., but subsequently returned it. The employer is ready and willing to pay the wages for Falgoon 1367 B.S., which were returned by him in the aforesaid circumstances. So, this will be the only relief admissible to him in this case.

Upon the above decisions and for the reasons given above, I award that there was no termination of employment of the concerned worker, Shri Howsila Prosad Misra, by the employer, but the concerned worker voluntarily relinquished his service under the employer on 30th Falgoon 1367 B.S. and so, he is not entitled to reinstatement to his old post under the employer and that nothing is due to him on account of the wages for the period of his actual service from 7th Kartick to Magh 1367 B.S., but he is entitled to receive from the employer the wages for the month of Falgoon 1367 B.S., which he first accepted but subsequently returned to the employer. I direct that the employer shall pay this amount to the worker within 15 days from the publication of the award in the "Calcutta Gazette".

Issue

Is the termination of services of—

(a) Shri Ganesh,

(b) Shri Gouri Shankar, and

(c) Shri Brijo Mohan Chowdhury

justified? To what relief, if any, are they entitled?

I proceed at once to take up the case of each worker one by one.

(1) Shri Ganesh

The undisputed facts regarding the case of this worker are as follows: He was employed as a weaver in the mill. He applied for leave on medical grounds from 14th October 1960 with a medical certificate granted by an outside doctor and endorsed by the mill doctor (Ext. C). The Company granted him leave for 15 days from 14th October 1960 upon the medical certificate. He was unable to join his duties on 29th October 1960 after the expiry of this leave. He again applied for leave for three weeks from 29th October 1960 on 5th November 1960 (Ext. A) with a medical certificate granted by the same outside doctor who gave him the previous certificate and dated 29th October 1960 and also endorsed by the mill doctor on 3rd November 1960 (Ext. 1). This application for further leave was refused and the Company by its letter, dated the 10th November 1960 (Ext. 2), informed him that no further leave could be granted to him, as he had already availed of all leave due to him and further that, he might, on recovery from his illness, register his name as a budli hand in the mill. This was treated as virtual termination of his employment by the Company and it is this action of the Company which has been called in question by the Union on behalf of the concerned worker as illegal, unfair, unjustified and mala fide and his reinstatement to his permanent service under the Company with back wages by way of compensation has been claimed. The Company has taken up the position that as this worker had exhausted all leave due to him in 1960, he was not entitled to any further leave and in these circumstances the Company was entitled to terminate his lien on permanent service and ask him to register in the budli list in accordance with section 9(c) of the Standing Orders framed in respect of the Cotton Mills, including the present mill, by the Omnibus Award made by Shri M. C. Banerji, Judge, First Industrial Tribunal, on the 22nd May 1958 and published in the "Calcutta Gazette", Extraordinary, dated the 10th June 1958. Section 9(c) of the Standing Orders stands thus:

> "If the workman remains absent beyond the period of leave originally granted or subsequently extended, he shall lose his lien on his appointment unless (a) he returns within eight days of the expiry of the leave and (b) explains to the satisfaction of the Manager his inability to return before the expiry of his leave. In case the workman loses the lien on his appointment, he shall be entitled to be kept on the 'badli' list."

It is now to be decided whether upon the undisputed facts recorded above the Company was justified in virtually terminating his permanent appointment by cancelling his lien on such appointment and asking him to register as a badli hand.

I am satisfied from the evidence produced before me that this worker had exhausted all the leave admissible to him under the rules when he applied for extension of leave from 29th October 1960. This position is satisfactorily proved by the entries in the Leave Register, Ext. E, and the evidence of O.P.W. 1 Shri Debabrata Chakrabarty, the Labour Welfare Officer of the Company. It appears from the entries in the Leave Register that this worker had only 12 days leave to his credit by virtue of his work in the preceding calendar year (1959) and no leave had been brought forward to his credit on account of his work for the year or years preceding 1959 and that he not only enjoyed leave for 12 days due to him but also other leave totalling 43 days in all. When no leave was due to him at the time when he applied for extension of leave after the expiry of his original leave for 15 days from 14th October 1960, the Company was not bound to grant him any further leave and in these circumstances, the Company must be held to have acted justifiably in accordance with the spirit of the provisions of the Standing Orders in cancelling his lien on permanent service and asking him to be registered as a badli hand. He might have been really ill and thereby incapacitated from work, but on that ground the Company was not bound to grant him extraordinary or ex-gratia leave beyond the leave duly admissible to him according to the rules and in these circumstances he could not continue as a permanent worker of the Company. When this was the position after 29th October 1960, the Company may be said to have acted quite reasonably in allowing him the option of being registered as a badli worker by terminating his lien on permanent service. It is to be noted that there is no evidence to prove that the Company had any bias or prejudice against the concerned worker or any reason to victimise him by terminating the lien on his permanent service. In the above view of the facts and circumstances of the case, I hold that the termination of this worker's lien on permanent service and offer of having him registered as a badli hand in terms of the letter of the Company, dated the 10th November 1960 (Ext. B), was justified. The worker may still have his name registered as a badli hand in the mill. In the peculiar circumstances of the case, I also direct that he shall be granted permanent appointment at the earliest vacancy available if he registers as a badli immediately. I award accordingly in his case.

(b) Shri Gouri Shankar

At the opening of the case, it was submitted by the learned lawyer appearing for the Union that the case of this worker was not pressed and the worker himself was not found. As the case of this worker was not pressed, it is to be presumed that the dispute in respect of this worker was given up and had thereby ceased to exist. So, at present there is no dispute concerning this worker and accordingly I make a "no dispute" award in his case.

(c) Shri Brijo Mohan Chowdhury.

In the written statement filed by the Union, the case of this worker has been briefly stated to be a case of his summary dismissal by the Company on 23rd March 1961 without assigning any reason (vide paragraph 13 of the Union's written statement). The Company's case, on the other hand, is that he was a durwan in the mill. On 23rd March 1961 he was on night duty but during his duty hours he was found sleeping and on being questioned as to why he was sleeping he refused to give any explanation and gave irrelevant replies in an evasive manner. It is further the Company's case that thereupon he was asked to leave the place for the night and go to his quarters within the mill compound and next morning he was found to have left his quarters with his belongings without asking or informing anybody and thereafter he never turned up for his duty. On the above allegations, it is contended by the Company that this worker is not entitled to any relief on the basis that he was unfairly or unjustifiably dismissed. The evidence regarding the case of this worker is wholly oral on both sides. Though there is no mention in the written statement of the Union of any incident having taken place during the duty hours of this worker on the night of 23rd March 1961, it is admitted by this worker in his evidence (P.W. 2) that on 23rd March 1961, he was on night duty from 9-30 p.m. to 1 a.m. and at about 11-15 p.m. one Sunil Babu, bhagina of the millowner, came to him and asked him where his dress was and he replied that no dress was supplied to him and at this Sunil Babu at once asked him to clear out saying that he was immediately discharged. He has also stated that Sunil Babu caught him by the hand and brought him to the outer gate and he was not allowed to go to his quarters and on the next day he was called inside the mill at about 10 a.m. and asked to take his due wages and in spite of his pleading that he had not committed any offence he was turned out of the mill and all his belongings were thrown out. He has also denied that he was asleep during his duty hours that night. Curiously enough, there is absolutely no mention of the above story regarding the occurrence which took place on the night of 23rd March 1961 and then on the next morning in the written statement filed on behalf of the Union. There is no corroboration of the story as given by the concerned worker in his evidence at the hearing. On the other hand, we have the evidence of O.P.W. 2, Mangilal, on the side of the Company. The concerned worker has admitted in his evidence that Mangilal is a Night Jamadar and on that night he came out on round duty to his place of duty. This Mangilal has stated in his evidence that in course of his round duty that night, he came to the place where this worker was on duty at about 11-30 p.m. and found him sleeping sitting on a stool and told him that it was not proper while on duty and on the next morning he made a report about the matter to the Burra Sahib at about 6 a.m. He has further stated that this worker did not come for duty on the night of 24th March 1961. He has denied that this worker was sitting at the outer gate in the morning. I have been favourably impressed by the evidence of this witness, Mangilal, and I am fully satisfied from his evidence, considered along with the other evidence and circumstances of the case, that what really happened was that this worker, Shri Brijo Mohan Chowdhury, was found sleeping while on duty as a Durwan on the night of 23rd March 1961 by the Jamadar and this was reported to the Management and after this this worker left the mill premises of his own accord on the next morning and did not turn up for duty any further. This case is substantially pleaded in the written statement of the Company. This worker has, therefore, been proved to have been guilty of a gross misconduct in the performance of his duties as a Durwan on night duty. Sleeping in course of duty falls within the list of misconduct given in section 14(c) of the Standing Orders and it is provided in clause (b) of section 14 that for such a misconduct a worker may be dismissed without notice. So, even if it was a case of dismissal by the Company for the misconduct committed by the worker, as indicated above, it was fully justified. It does not matter that there was no charge-sheet regarding the misconduct and no explanation was taken from him and no enquiry held after giving him opportunity to defend himself according to the principles of natural justice. The misconduct has been very satisfactorily proved by the evidence produced before this Tribunal and it is well settled that in a case of dismissal for misconduct when there is no charge-sheet and enquiry, the Tribunal can and should go into the merits of the dismissal upon the evidence produced before it and decide whether the misconduct really took place and whether dismissal for such misconduct was justified. The evidence however, discloses that this worker did not give any occasion to the Company to dismiss him for his gross misconduct, because he left the Company's service and the mill premises on the very next morning with his belongings and this indicates that he went away relinquishing the work of the Company. On the findings and for the reasons given above, I hold that this worker was guilty of a gross misconduct justifying his summary dismissal without notice and the misconduct was that he was sleeping in course of his duty at night and that he slipped away from the mill premises with his belongings on the next morning without any notice and so there was no occasion for the Company to formally dismiss him and he practically relinquished the Company's service of his own accord before formal dismissal and so he is not entitled to any relief in the present case. I award accordingly in his case.

The Government of West Bengal by its Labour Department, order No. 993-I.R./IR/11L-5/61, dated 28th February 1961, referred to this Tribunal an industrial dispute between Messrs. Standard Paint Works (P.) Ltd., 3 Gopal Ram Pathak Road, Lillooah, Howrah (Head Office at 44 Beadon Row, Calcutta-6) (hereafter referred to as the Company), and their workmen represented by Howrah Paint Workers' Union, 4 Panchkari Mohanto Lane, Salkia, Howrah (hereafter referred to as the Union), for adjudication under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act.

The following issues have been referred to this Tribunal for adjudication in this case:

Puja Bonus for 1960.

Whether the workmen are entitled to wages for the strike and lock-out periods.

AWARD

Both the parties have filed their written statements stating their respective cases on the points at issue. The case of the workmen in short is this: The present Company is a manufacturer of paints, colours, varnishes, etc., employing about 50 workmen, most of whom are skilled workers. Though the Company is making huge profits, the pay range of the workmen has not yet exceeded Rs. 60/65 per month even after two increments granted in 1958 and 1960. Due to this low wage structure prevalent in the Company, the Management started paying Puja bonus from 12/13 years back as a method of pacifism, and thus the payment of Puja bonus has become customary or traditional in this concern. Accordingly, a demand for Puja bonus for 1960 also was placed by the Union before the Management. But the Management turned down the claim without any reason whatsoever. It is also urged that the payment of Puja bonus is an implied term of contract of service in this Company. The Union tried to persuade the Management to give Puja bonus for 1960 and after failure of all methods of persuasion the workmen had to resort to a strike ultimately on 14th September 1960. The strike was peaceful all along and no provocation whatsoever was given to the Management. As soon as this peaceful but concerted action was taken by the workmen, the Management declared a lock-out, and on the intervention of the local Assistant Labour Commissioner the Management was compelled to withdraw the lock-out by a notice, dated 1st November 1960. There was a tripartite settlement also on 2nd November 1960 and all the workers agreed to resume their duties with effect from 7th November 1960. It was further agreed that in terms of that settlement, the matter of Puja bonus for 1960 and wages for the period of strike and lock-out would be referred to a Tribunal for adjudication and hence this dispute.

The Company's case, on the other hand, is briefly as follows: It is a fact that various correspondences passed between the Company and the Union in respect of the claim for bonus for the years 1958, 1959 and 1960. But at no point of time the Union regarded bonus in this Company as a customary payment or payment as a condition of service. Though the Company is a very old one, the Management paid some bonus to the workmen only in the years 1958 and 1959 and at no other year. In fact, for financial difficulties and other reasons the Company was never capable of paying any profit bonus or bonus of any other kind to the workmen, and despite this financial incapability the Management made some payment of bonus in those two years just to pacify the workers and maintain industrial peace. But in 1960 the workers resorted to various unfair tactics to force the hands of the Management to make further payment of bonus for the year 1960, though it was utterly incapable of making any such payment. Ultimately, the workers at the instigation of the Union declared an illegal stay-in strike on 14th September 1960 and resorted to violent methods also. They threatened and intimidated the office staff on 14th September 1960 at about 4 p.m., encircled the office and kept the Managing Director and the entire office staff confined there till 9/10 p.m. of the following day. In fact, the police rescued the Managing Director and the office staff only in the following night and the Management had to declare a lock-out by a notice, dated 15th September 1960, on account of the said unlawful activities of the workmen. Sometime in the middle of October 1960 some workers approached the Management for re-opening the factory and assured that the majority of the workers had understood the consequences of their illegal action. So, on the advice of the Assistant Labour Commissioner, the Management recalled the notice of lock-out and declared that the factory would be re-opened with effect from 7th November 1960. It is also conceded that there was a tripartite agreement on 2nd November 1960 and in pursuance of that settlement the present dispute has been raised, because the parties could not agree on the point of bonus for 1960 and wages for the period of strike and lock-out.

Other facts will appear from the body of the award that follows:

Decisions

Issue No. 1—Puja Bonus for 1960

The point for adjudication is whether the workmen of the present Company are entitled to Puja bonus for the year 1960. It goes without saying that Puja is a special festival in Bengal and it has become usual with many firms to give bonus to the workmen before the Pujas. Accordingly, it is urged on behalf of the workmen concerned that they have been getting Puja bonus from their employer since 1950 and in spite of it their claim for Puja bonus for 1960 was unjustly refused by the Management and hence this dispute. On the contrary, the Management alleges that Puja bonus was never paid to the workmen of this Company in pursuance of any implied agreement creating a condition of service or in pursuance of any custom or tradition prevalent in the Company. The Company denies that any bonus was paid to these workmen from 1950 to 1957. It is simply conceded by the Management that some bonus was paid to the workmen for the years 1958 and 1959 only just to pacify the workers and it is urged by the Company that such payment was never intended to be customary or traditional. Thus it is clear that the parties differ on points of facts also. While the workman allege that they have been receiving payment of bonus without break since 1950, the Management alleges that the payment of bonus was made only in 1958 and 1959, though the Company was born about 5/6 decades ago. So, before I discuss other points involved in this issue, let me scrutinise the evidence adduced by the parties on this point. P.W. 1 Shri Manmatha Nath Mukherjee, a workman of this concern, states that he got Puja bonus every year from 1950 to 1959 but at different rates. Similarly, P.W. 2 Shri Durbar Kahar also alleges that he was receiving payment of such bonus since 1952, the year of his joining the service of the Company till 1959. On the other hand, O.P.W. 2 Shri Matilal Basak, Managing Director of the Company, swears that no bonus was actually paid to the workmen before 1958. It is urged that the workers formed a union in 1957 for the first time and started various acts of indiscipline. So, the Management just to pacify them gave them some bonus in the years 1958 and 1959. There is only oath versus oath on this point, and there is no documentary evidence to show that any bonus was actually paid before 1958. It may be pointed out that in the written statement of the Company it was categorically stated that bonus was paid to the workmen only in the years 1958 and 1959 and in no other year. As against this, the statement of the workers in their written statement was rather vague. Their simple allegation was that the Management started payment of Puja bonus from 12/13 years back as a method of "pacifism." It was never their categorical case that the Management really started payment from 1950 and continued till 1959. Had there been payment of Puja bonus every year before 1958, this would have surely found place in the account books maintained by the Company. Under the circumstances if the allegation of the Union or the workmen would be correct, they would have called for the account books of the Company, but no such attempt was made by them except at a very late stage of the hearing. Evidently, the intention of the workmen in making a belated prayer was just to make a show of attempt. Thus after carefully looking into the evidence on record and the circumstances of the case, I am unable to believe the contention of the workmen that the Company actually paid Puja bonus to the workmen before 1958. The Company has been in existence for a few decades, and there is no reliable evidence to show that any Puja bonus was actually paid before the year 1958. It is also in a sense conceded by the Union that this payment of bonus was never intended to be customary or traditional or in pursuance of any implied term of agreement but by way of "pacifism." So, without entering into further discussion on this point, I may at once conclude without any hesitation that the allegation of payment of Puja bonus before 1958 is not correct. Of course, the fact remains that the Management paid some Puja bonus for the years 1958 and 1959. So, the question arises whether the workmen are entitled to Puja bonus for 1960 also in view of the payment of bonus in the previous two years.

The claim for Puja bonus in Bengal is based on either of the two grounds. It may either be a matter of implied agreement between the employers and the employees creating a term of employment for payment of bonus, or secondly even though no implied agreement can be inferred it might be payable as a customary bonus. The question of implied agreement for granting of such Puja bonus was first considered by the Labour Appellate Tribunal in the case of Mahalakshmi Mills Ltd., Calcutta (1952 II L.L.J. 635), and the learned Judges laid down certain tests for inferring an implied agreement. These tests were considered by their lordships of the Supreme Court also in the case of Ispahani Ltd., Calcutta vs. Ispahani Employees' Union (1959 II L.L.J., page 4). Their lordships of the Supreme Court have confirmed the principles laid down by the Labour Appellate Tribunal and it has been finally settled that the following tests must be satisfied before an implied agreement for bonus is inferred:

(i) The payment must be unbroken,

(ii) It must be for a sufficiently long period, and

(iii) The circumstances in which the payment was made should be such as to exclude that it was paid out of bounty.

From the tests mentioned above, it will be clear that the workmen concerned in the instant case will not be entitled to any Puja bonus as a term of implied agreement, unless it is proved that Puja nus was paid for a sufficiently long period in an broken chain. But I have shown above that Puja nus was paid only for two years, i.e., for 1958 and 59, even though the Company was established veral decades ago. Of course, the length of period eceiving such Puja bonus would depend on the mstances of each case. But from the fact of ment of Puja bonus for two years only, it is cult for anybody to conclude that it was paid for fficiently long period as an implied condition of ice. So, without further discussion, I at once that the workmen concerned are not entitled uja bonus in this case as an implied condition of ice.

ext it is urged on behalf of the workmen that bonus is payable on the ground of custom or ition. This point also has been considered by lordships of the Supreme Court in the case of ams Trading Co. (India) Ltd. and their work- (1959 II L.L.J. 393). While deciding this case, r lordships considered the decisions of the our Appellate Tribunal in the case of Mahalakshmi ton Mills and Ispahani Ltd. as referred to above. deciding the case ultimately, their lordships have down that the Tribunals will have to consider ollowing points before they determine customary ditional bonus:

(i) Whether the payment has been over an unbroken series of years.

ii) Whether it has been for a sufficiently long period, though the length of the period might depend on the circumstances of each case. Even so the period may normally have to be longer to justify an inference of traditional and customary Puja bonus than may be the case with Puja bonus based on an implied term of employment.

ii) The circumstances that the payment depended upon the earning of profits would have to be excluded and therefore it must be shown that payment was made in years of loss.

v) The payment must have been at a uniform rate throughout to justify an inference that payment at such and such rate had become customary and traditional in the particular concern.

m the tests laid down by their lordships, it e sufficiently clear that to base a claim for onus on custom and tradition, the period of nt should not only be unbroken, but it should e for a longer period that what could justify nt as an implied term of employment. But I lready pointed out that in this particular case, riod is not long enough to justify Puja bonus implied condition of service also. So, the on of establishing customary or traditional onus by such period of payment does not arise I may also point out that even according to orkers themselves, the payment of Puja bonus s particular Company was not really uniform rough. Be that as it may, in view of the ns referred to above, I may at once find that orkmen of the present concern have utterly o establish the claim for Puja bonus either mplied condition of service, or on the ground om or tradition. Accordingly, I find that the en concerned are not entitled to Puja bonus year 1960. The issue is decided accordingly.

The point for adjudication is whether the workmen concerned are entitled to wages for the strike and lock-out periods. The dispute arises in the following way. Sometime in June 1960 the workmen preferred a claim for Puja bonus for 1960 before the Management and they started some agitation also on occasions in this connection. However, all on a sudden and without any previous notice, the workmen started a stay-in strike or sit-down strike from 4 p.m. on 14th September 1960 and continued the same till 8/9 p.m. of the following day. According to the Management, the workmen not only launched a stay-in strike, but kept the Managing Director and the members of the clerical staff confined also within the factory premises throughout the period of strike, and they were rescued by the police only at the last moment. At about the time when the Managing Director and the members of the staff were rescued, the Management declared a lock-out of the factory and this lock-out actually continued for about 45 days. On the request of some of the workers, the Management recalled the lock-out on 1st November 1960 and there was a tripartite settlement on 2nd November 1960. Amongst others, the following two terms were there in the settlement:

(a) All the workmen will resume their duties on 7th November 1960 as per Company's notice, dated 1st November 1960. They will work peacefully and shall maintain strict discipline and give normal production. There will be no victimisation for the strike.

(b) The issue of bonus and whether the workers are entitled to wages for the strike and lock-out periods will be referred for adjudication by a Tribunal.

In fact, the present reference is in pursuance of the above settlement. So, the question arises whether the workmen concerned are entitled to their wages for the strike and lock-out periods. According to the Management, the strike being unjustified and illegal, the workmen are not entitled to any wages for the period of strike. Similarly it is also urged on behalf of the Management that the lock-out also being on account of the said unjustified and illegal strike, the workers are not entitled to any compensation for the lock-out period also. The learned representative for the workmen contends that in terms of the said settlement, the Management is not entitled to victimise the workers for the strike and so it cannot deprive the workers of their wages for the strike period. But I am afraid the intention of the settlement does not lead us to that extent. Had it been so, the second term of the settlement referred to above would be redundant or meaningless. The parties could not agree as regards wages or compensation for the strike and lock-out periods and hence this reference. Evidently, the intention of the settlement was that the Management should not take any disciplinary action against any worker on account of the said strike. So, this argument of the learned representative of the Union makes no impression on me. Now I am to consider whether the strike in this particular case was legal or justified leaving aside the question of the said settlement. In this connection, I may at once observe that there is no dispute between the parties that it was a case of stay-in strike or sit-down strike. In fact, both the witnesses examined by the Union before this Tribunal unequivocally admit that it was a case of stay-in strike and that the workers continued to sit down in the factory premises throughout the night of 14th September 1960 and till 8/9 p.m. of the following day. There is no longer any dispute that an ordinary strike—peaceful and non-violent in pursuance of a bona fide claim—per se is neither illegal nor unjustified. The workers have every right to withhold their service in pursuance of their concerted action. Rather, it has been lately accepted as a valuable instrument in the hands of the workers for improving their service conditions. But this principle does not apply to stay-in strike or sit-down strike. A stay-in strike is not simply a strike but something more. Even without violence, a stay-in strike or sit-down strike is an invasion on the rights of the employers, and there can be no justification for such a strike. By staging a stay-in strike, the workers commit wrong and put themselves out of court, even though they might not have actively committed acts of violence or sabotage. By remaining on the property, they practically deprive the employer of his property and also practically stop him from carrying on business with the help of others. There is undoubtedly an element of trespass upon the property of the employer. Accordingly, such sit-down strike or stay-in strike must be held to be unjustified. So, it has been held in numerous cases that the workers participating in such a strike could not claim any wages for the strike period simply on the ground that the strike was not for justified reasons. In the present case, however, as I have pointed out above, the stay-in strike was staged on a claim for Puja bonus. I have already found above that the claim for Puja bonus for 1960 was not valid. So, it cannot be said in the present case that this strike was for any justifiable reasons. So, without further discussion, I hold that the workers concerned are not entitled to wages for the strike period.

The next question is whether the workers concerned are entitled to any compensation for the lock-out period. It is more or less settled by now that if the employer declares a lock-out for no fault of the workers, the workers are entitled to compensation for the lock-out period. But it has also been decided that when a lock-out is declared by way of security measures against the illegal acts of the workers, the lock-out would be justified and the workers would not be entitled to wages during the period of lock-out. It has also been held that where the closure of a factory was due to a bona fide apprehension on the part of the Management of danger to life, and even when the gates were kept open for a few days but the workmen did not report for work, the lock-out could be justified, and the workmen would not be entitled to any relief for the period thereof. So, it is required to be considered in the present case also whether there was sufficient justification for declaring a lock-out by the Management. This is more or less a question of fact. I have already pointed out that the workmen without any previous notice started a stay-in strike or sit-down from 4 p.m. on 14th September 1960 and this strike continued till 8 9 p.m. of the following day when the police actively interfered and rescued the Managing Director and the members of the staff who were kept confined inside the factory premises all the time during the strike. I have also pointed out above that a stay-in strike by itself is unjustified and illegal. But in the present case, the matter does not remain there. It is the definite case of the Management that the Managing Director and all the members of the staff were kept confined against their will and threats of violence were held out by the striking people. It is not at all in dispute that the police had to intervene and rescue the Managing Director in the night of 15th September 1960. It is also in evidence that the police was informed on 14th September 1960 also and despite the Management's request the police did not venture to rescue the Managing Director and others, because the police had not sufficient force under its control. The police kept itself satisfied by posting pickets outside the factory premises and the Managing Director and the members of the staff were nevertheless kept confined all the time. In the following evening only, the police mustered strong and rescued the Managing Director and others. As against this the evidence of the workmen is that the Managing Director and other members of the staff did not come out of the factory premises, even though they could easily do so in spite of the stay-in strike. I am unable to attach any importance to this statement of the Union's witnesses. It is nobody's case that the Managing Director or the members of the staff had any other reason to remain inside the factory premises voluntarily throughout the strike period and without any compulsion. Shri Matilal Bose, Managing Director, swears that his office was surrounded by the workers from outside and they were giving slogans. They took menacing attitude and abused the Management in filthy language. It is also in the evidence that the workers kept gathering around his office and these workers were armed with rods and lathis. From the deposition of Shri Gauranga Chandra Sarkar (O.P.W. 1), Central Enquiry Inspector, it is clear that the workers assembled near the office of the Managing Director at about 4 p.m. on 14th September 1960 and were shouting slogans. According to this witness also, the situation became very tense, and the witness left the factory premises under some apprehension. In view of the facts and circumstances, I have no doubt in my mind that the workers not only launched a stay-in strike but they also kept the Managing Director and other members of the staff confined within the factory premises for at least 28 hours against their will. This is conceded by the Managing Director that he declared lock-out of the factory at about 8.9 p.m. on 15th September 1960 when the police rescued him as above. So, there is hardly any scope for doubt that the lock-out was declared for justifiable reasons. Evidently the Managing Director was confined under threats of violence and physical injury and he and the members of the staff did not venture to come out in the face of this threatening situation. Even the police did not venture to rescue them from inside the factory premises for about 28 hours. So, one can easily imagine that the lock-out was declared by way of security measures against the illegal acts of the workers. There is reason to believe that the Management had bona fide apprehension about the safety of their life and property. So, without further discussion, I find that the lock-out in question was fully justified, because the Management was compelled to do so on account of the illegal acts of the workers themselves. In this view of the matter, I think, the workers have no right to claim any compensation for the period of lock-out also.

In the result, the workers are not entitled to any relief whatsoever in the present case.

This is my award.

The Government of West Bengal by its Labour Department Order No. 959-I.R./IR/10L-162/60, dated 25th February 1961, referred to this Tribunal an industrial dispute between Messrs. K. P. Das & Co. (P.) Ltd., 163 Netaji Subhas Road, Howrah (hereafter referred to as the Company), and their workmen represented by Howrah District Engineering & Metal Workers' Union, 4 Panchkari Mohanto Lane, Salkia, Howrah (hereafter referred to as the Union), for adjudication under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act.

The issues referred to this Tribunal for adjudication in this case are as follows:

1. Wages increment.
2. Whether the workmen are entitled to wages for Sunday falling on 17th July 1960?

AWARD

Both the parties have filed their written statements stating their respective cases on the points at issue. The case of the workmen, in short, is this: Messrs. K. P. Das & Co. (P.) Ltd. was incorporated as a Private Limited Company in May 1948 and there are now six shareholders. This Company took over the running concern of Messrs. Howrah Engineering Company, 43 Circular Road, Howrah, in January 1949 with all its assets and liabilities including its good will, trade mark, stock in trade, furniture, fittings, fixtures, plants and machineries, etc. This Howrah Engineering Company was started in 1922 and some workmen of the present Company were actually working in the predecessor concern also since its very inception. Though this engineering concern has been running for the last few decades, the wage structure of its employees has not changed for the better during all these years. In 1959 the Company was pleased to grant an increment of As. 2 only per diem as dearness allowance at a flat rate. But the employees failed to secure any further increment in wages in spite of their best efforts. Hence, this claim for increment of wages.

As regards wages for 17th July 1960 referred to in issue No. 2, the case of the workmen is this: The workmen of this concern get Sunday wages as a condition of their service. But in spite of it, the Management arbitrarily withheld the payment of wages for 17th July 1960 a Sunday though. The fact is that 16th July 1960 was declared a hartal day all over Bengal for some Assam affair, and the employees of this concern also participated in the said hartal. The Management withheld the wages of the said date on the plea that the workmen failed to report for duties on 16th July 1960. Accordingly, it is urged that the Management has no right to withhold the payment of wages for 17th July 1960, simply because there was hartal on 16th July 1960, a Saturday.

The Company's case, on the other hand, is briefly as follows: The Company gave increase in wages and/or dearness allowance successively on several occasions in terms of different tripartite settlements. The said settlements are still in force and as such the employees have no right to ask for wage increase without terminating the said agreements. It is also urged that in the present economic conditions of the Company, it is not capable of bearing further wage load. The wage structures of similar concerns of the region are not better and thus compares quite favourably with that of the present concern and no injustice is actually being done to the workers concerned.

As regards wages for 17th July 1960, the Company's case is that payment of wages for Sunday is strictly conditioned by the attendance of the workers on the Saturday preceding and the Monday following. In case, any employee fails to report for duties on either of these two days, he is not entitled to Sunday wages as per established service conditions. Hence their absence on 16th July 1960 deprived them of the wages of 17th July 1960.

Other facts will appear from the body of the award that follows:

Decisions

Issue No. 2

The question is whether the workmen concerned are entitled to wages for Sunday, the 17th of July 1960. There is no dispute over the fact that under certain circumstances the workers of this concern are entitled to Sunday wages also, even though they do not actually work on Sunday. It is also not in dispute that the Management refused to pay wages for 17th July 1960, a Sunday. There is also no dispute that 16th July 1960, a Saturday, was observed by the workers as a hartal day for certain reasons and the employees of this concern did not report for duties on that date. It is also not in dispute that they reported for duties as usual on 18th July 1960. It is urged on behalf of the workmen concerned that the employees did not absent themselves on 16th July 1960 with any mala fide motive or wilfully. The hartal was declared all over Bengal for certain reasons and they followed suit with all the workers of that region and the general public. Hence, it is urged that the Company should not have withheld their wages for 17th July 1960. On the other hand, the contention of the Management is that wages for Sunday, a rest day, is actually payable on certain definite and inflexible conditions. A worker can claim wages for Sunday only when he works both on the Saturday preceding and the Monday following. In this connection, I may refer to the evidence of P.W. 1 Shri Bhim Chandra Hazra. He also admits that the ordinary service condition of this Company is that if a worker works both on Saturday and Monday, he is entitled to wages for Sunday also. But if he fails to work on either of these two days, he does not get Sunday wages. If there be any paid holiday on Saturday or Monday this rule is released and they are no doubt entitled to Sunday wages. Thus it is the common case of both the parties that regular work by an employee both on Saturday and Monday, if not a holiday, is a condition precedent of his getting Sunday wages. In the present case, there is no dispute that the workers did not attend their duties on 16th July 1960, a Saturday. So, under ordinary rules and circumstances the employees are not entitled to Sunday wages according to the established practice. The question is whether this rule will apply in the present case when 16th July 1960 was a hartal day. In this connection, I may point out that it has been conceded by both the parties that if a worker attends his duties on Saturday and Monday but fails to attend his duties on other weekdays, he is still entitled to Sunday wages. Evidently, the intention of the Management for paying Sunday wages is a sort of allurement to the workmen for regular attendance and still in view of this inflexible practice they are required to pay three days' wages, even though the workers worked for two days only in a week under certain circumstances. To this extent, it may be said that the rule works rather hard on the Management. On the contrary, it is urged on behalf of the Management that if a worker works throughout the week but fails to work on either Saturday or Monday he loses his Sunday wages. Of course, this may work hard on the workmen concerned. Nevertheless, this position has been accepted by both the parties under normal circumstances. Admittedly, the rule has become more or less inflexible. In view of these circumstances, I think, the workmen concerned cannot claim wages for 17th July 1960, because they failed to attend their duties on 16th July 1960. Admittedly 16th July 1960 was not a paid holiday. The hartal was observed evidently voluntarily by the employees and for no fault of the Management. When the workmen joined the hartal, they surely did it voluntarily, and it may mean sacrifice as well. If such hartal entails loss, it cannot be argued on behalf of the workmen that the entire brunt of it should be borne by the Management alone and not at all by the employees. The workers were not under compulsion not to attend their duties on 16th July 1960. However laudable their purpose may be, the joining of a hartal on a particular day was evidently a voluntary conduct on the part of the employees themselves. So, I do not think, any exception can be made in the said inflexible rule, simply on the plea that 16th July 1960 was declared a hartal day by some extraneous body. So, my considered opinion is that circumstanced as they were and the service condition as it was at the relevant time, the workmen concerned cannot ask for payment of wages for 17th July 1960 as of right. If the Management be pleased to grant wages for 17th July 1960 in view of the hartal presumably declared for a laudable purpose, I would personally be happy. But when the Management is not pleased to oblige the workmen by this payment, the Tribunal cannot direct payment of wages for 17th July 1960 lawfully. Accordingly, I answer the issue in the negative.

Issue No. 1: Wage increment

Though this issue is not very happily worded, it is evident that the Tribunal is intended to consider whether the workmen of the present Company are entitled to any wage increment. The term "wage increment" is flexible enough to include many things. Accordingly, it is urged on behalf of the workmen that a wage structure following the scheme and principles laid down in the Major Engineering Tribunal Awards should be framed for the workmen of the present Company also. The learned representative for the Company raises a technical objection in respect of this demand for wage increment. It is urged that the Management granted several increases in wage and dearness allowance in pursuance of different tripartite settlements and that these settlements are still in force and have not been terminated lawfully before the present dispute. Hence, it is urged that this demand of the workmen is invalid and not sustainable in view of the provisions of section 19 of the Industrial Disputes Act. This dispute has been referred to this Tribunal on 25th February 1961. On 5th April 1961 the Union served a notice on the Management purporting to terminate all previous settlements between the employer and the employees (vide Ext. 2). Thus it is evident that this notice was served long after the reference was made, and so this notice by itself is not sufficient to cure the defect, if any, under the law. So, I am required to look into the history of the different settlements referred to by both the parties.

Ext. A will show that there was a tripartite settlement between the employer and the employees on 17th May 1958, and by that settlement a production bonus scheme was introduced in this Company for the first time. There is nothing in this settlement to show that the parties intended to settle any dispute hereby in respect of wage or dearness allowance due o the employees. The next tripartite settlement was entered into on 4th March 1959 (vide Ext. 1). By this sttlement, the Company agreed to grant an increment in dearness allowance at a flat rate of As. 2 only per diem to the workmen with effect from February 1959. By this settlement, it was further settled that the Company would consider the cases of "deserving workmen by the test of merit of individual workmenship and quantum of production." It was also settled that the question of increment in the emoluments of such workmen will be taken up individually at such times as will be considered meet and proper by the Management. The next tripartite settlement between the parties took place on 5th September 1959 (vide Ext. 1-A). By this settlement, certain outstanding disputes regarding incentive bonus scheme were settled. But as regards increment of wages it was simply settled that the "parties will negotiate with Re: to increment, etc.", evidently meaning that the matter of increment of wages was left unsettled to be negotiated in future. This shows that the matter of increment, etc., was left open even at the time of this settlement. The next settlement between the parties took place on 22nd March 1960 (vide Ext.) From the recital of the memorandum of settlement, it will be clear that the Union submitted a charter of demands comprising increased wages and dearness allowance, permanancy... ....., wages, etc. As regards wages and dearness allowance, the settlement was that the issue of wage increase and length of service of a section of workmen would remain open for conciliation. Thus it is clear that the parties failed to reach any agreed settlement regarding wage increment even on this occasion. It is nobody's case that this matter of wage increment was set at rest by any other valid agreement between the parties. So, from what I have stated above, it is sufficiently clear that the matter of wage increment is hanging for the last few years, and the parties failed to come to any definite settlement in his respect. Some dearness allowance was no doubt allowed in early 1959. In spite of this slight increment in dearness allowance, the matter of wage increment was agitated again and again and the parties failed to come to a settlement and left the matter open. So, it is idle to argue on behalf of the Company that the matter of wage increment has been settled by any valid agreement and that the agreement is still binding. So, the question of bar under section 19 of the Act does not really arise in the present case. Therefore, the previous settlements are not really required to be terminated at all for dressing the demand for wage revision. In this view of the matter, I think, the objection of the learned representative of the Company cannot be accepted.

So, the next point to be considered is whether in the facts and circumstances of the present case, the workmen of this concern deserve any increment in wages and dearness allowance as prayed for. The learned representative for the workmen urges before me that the present Company is really an engineering concern, and so the Tribunal should follow the wage structure formulated by the Major Engineering Tribunal Awards, though the present concern was not a party to that award. I may simply point out that that the Major Engineering Tribunal Awards related to those engineering concerns only which used to employ more than 250 workmen. But the strength of the present concern is roughly 100 only. The capital invested by this Company is admittedly not very big. It is also not very much in dispute that the financial condition of the present concern is not very good. Rather, it may be said this concern is passing through financial difficulties for a pretty long time. From the statement of total loss shown in the audited balance-sheet up to 31st December 1959 certified by Chartered Accountants, it will be clear that the Management suffered heavy loss up to 1954. The Company made some profit thereafter, but it was rather poor in comparison with the loss previously suffered by it. The Company has filed its audited balance-sheets also for several years, and these will confirm my above observations. So, without further discussion, I may at once observe that the financial condition of the Company is not certainly very happy, and the Improvement, if any, made by the Company during the last few years is not appreciable enough for my formulating a wage structure with incremental scales of pay. I may also point out that there is an incentive bonus scheme in this Company which was introduced in 1958, and this scheme is still in force. It is also admitted by the workmen that they can augment their income by their own efforts and labour, and thus they earn something in addition to their normal or standard wages. Be that as it may, the question is whether the rate of standard wages and dearness allowance should be revised as prayed for. There is no prayer for revision of incentive bonus scheme, and nothing like that has been referred to this Tribunal. The workmen's case is that their standard wages fall below the minimum wages and so the rate should be revised irrespective of the question of existence of any incentive bonus scheme. The Management no doubt seriously urges that it is not capable of bearing further wage load in view of its straitened financial circumstances, and so it is not a fit case for revision of wages at all. The Management has filed a statement showing existing rates of basic wages and dearness allowance of the workmen employed by the Company. It is pointed out that at least half a dozen persons are still getting less than Rs. 60 per month as their total emoluments (excluding incentive bonus). Of course, it is settled by now that the Management is bound to pay minimum wages to its employees in spite of its financial incapacity. It is urged that the minimum wages should be at least Rs. 70 per month in view of the standard laid down by the Major Engineering Tribunal Awards. But I have already pointed out that the yard stick of the Major Engineering Trbunal Awards should not be applied to the present Company, as its financial capacity is not surely satisfactory. It is clear from the statements filed by the Management that this Company grants dearness allowance at a flat rate of 94 nP. per diem to each workman. It is also clear from this statement that in a few cases the minimum daily basic wages are .87 nP. only. The Union urges that in view of the present high cost of living, the basic wages or the dearness allowance paid to the lowest grade of employees are hardly sufficient for keeping their body and soul together. On the other hand, it is urged on behalf of the Management that the rate of basic wages and dearness allowance prevalent in other similar concerns of the region is not higher than the rate of the present concern. The Management places reliance on certain statemnts marked Exts. X-series. But I may point out that even according to these statements filed by the Management, the minimum daily basic wage for an unskilled worker is Re. 1 at least in most cases. Of course, the rate of dearness allowance is different in different concerns. There are also certain concerns where the consolidated wages (including basic wage and dearness allowance) are similar to those of the present concern. On the other hand, from Ext. Y which is a statement filed on behalf of the Union, it appears that in some similar concerns the minimum consolidated wages per diem are Rs. 2-5-6. So, after carefully considering the facts and circumstances on record, my considered opinion is that the minimum basic wages for the unskilled workers of this concern should not be below Re. 1. As regards dearness allowance, it is clear that the rate was last fixed in early 1959. It is more or less undisputed that there has been rise in the cost of living index during the last few years. Dearness allowance is evidently meant for neutralising the rise in the cost of living, and in this view of the matter, I think, the workmen of the present concern can surely ask for revision in the rate of dearness allowance also. There is some force no doubt in the contention of the Company that its financial capacity will not justfy any big increase in the rate of dearness allowance also. One cannot forget that a Company must thrive before it can grant higher emoluments to its employees and no such condition should be laid down which may wipe out the very existence of the Company itself. The Company must thrive and prosper, and for such prosperity the co-operation of the employees is also essential. At the same time ,it cannot also be forgotten that despite its financial stringency, the Company should try to maintain industrial peace and keep the employees in good humour, so that they may exert themselves for earning more. So, though under the present pecuniary circumstances of the Company, I would rather be reluctant to increase the rate of dearness allowance in this particular case, but in view of the persistent agitation of the employees for improvement of their basic wages and dearness allowance, on account rise in the cost of living, I direct that for the present and until the Company attains better financial condition, dearness allowance should be allowed at a flat rate of Re. 1 also instead of 94 nP. per diem. So, in conclusion I direct that the employees who are getting less than Re. 1 as basic wage per diem should be paid Re. 1 as such, and that all the employees shall get Re. 1 as dearness allowance per diem at a flat rate; and these recommendations will come into force within one month of the date of publication of this award. May it be stated here that all other existing service conditions prevalent in this Company will remain as they are.; This order is not intended to reduce anybody's existing wages or income.

This is my award.

AWARD

This is a reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act of 1947 by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 6641-I.R./IR/11L-429/61, dated 8th November 1961.

The issue for determination in this case is "Is the termination of the service of the following workmen justified? To what relief, if any, are they entitled? (1) Shri Bhim Chandra Das, (2) Shri Asoke Das, (3) Shri Ajit Mondal and (4) Shri Anil Das?"

On receipt of the reference from the Government, usual notices were given to the parties. The Union, representing the case of the four workmen concerned, took some adjournments both before and after the filing of its written statement. The Company, however, refused to accept the notice and has remained absent all through. Ultimately the case was fixed on 28th April 1962 for ex parte hearing under rule 21 of the West Bengal Industrial Disputes Rules of 1958 in the absence of the Company.

The case of the Union may be briefly stated as follows. The employer, Messrs. Haradhan Nath, Biri Merchant of Hasnabad, manufactures biri through workmen engaged in the concerned. But the employer is specially vindict towards the workmen for their allegiance to the Union. The four workmen mentioned in the above issue were workmen under the Company and were active members of the Union. They were suddenly dismissed from service on the 1st of April 1961 without notice to show cause and without there being any charge-sheet or enquiry against them. The action of the Company was mala fide and arbitrary in contravention of principle of natural justice. On these allegations Union prays for reinstatement of four workmen with all back wages, etc.

One of the workmen concerned, namely, Anil Das, deposed for himself and on behalf of other workmen. According to him there were only four biri rollers under the Company including deponent himself. He says that the malik discharged these four persons on and from 1st April 1961 by saying that he was unable to pay wages at the increased rate of Rs. 2.12 nP. per 1,000 biris and would not keep them in his factory. It is also said that the malik gave no notice to these workers nor did he pay anything in lieu of notice.

The evidence on record is that the previous rate of wages for biri roller was Rs. 1-12 as. per 1,000 finished biris and this rate was increased to Rs. 2.12 nP. which was given effect to from a fortnight prior to the time of dischage of these persons. Anil Das has further said that about 4 or 5 days after that discharge the malik gradually engaged 10 or 12 new workers on wages at the old rate of Rs. 1-12 as. per 1,000 biris. It appears, therefore, that the malik discharged the four concerned workmen to avoid payment of increased rate of wages, and as such this action on his part was arbitrary and mala fide.

From the evidence of Anil Das it appears that they were regular workmen under the malik who used to exercise the control and supervision over the workers and manners of work and used to supply all sorts of raw materials for preparation of biris. So there is nothing to suggest that these workers had worked on contractual basis. In fact the relationship of employer and employees existed in regard to these particular workmen and the reference is good in law. Even though the case is heard ex parte still I consider this point for the sake of justice. According to Anil Das's evidence, minimum average daily earning of their was Rs. 2.50 nP.

In view of the above facts and circumstances I hold that the termination of services of the four workmen mentioned in the issue is quite unjustified and hence they are entitled to reliefs prayed for. Accordingly, the employer is directed to reinstate these four workmen to their former jobs with continuity of service and to pay them compensation at Rs. 2.50 nP. to each of them for every working day for the period of their forced unemployment, within one month from the date of publication of this award in the "Calcutta Gazette".

Award is passed accordingly.

AWARD

This is an application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act by one Shri Bimalananda Mukherjee against the Company styled Messrs. Oriental Research Chemical Laboratory Ltd. The petitioner's case is that he, along with other employees of the Company, made a complaint in writing to the higher authorities about maladministration of the present Managing Agency of the Company. For that reason the Company on some pretext summarily dismissed the petitioner along with some other workers by a notice, dated 21st September 1960, during the pendency of a dispute before the Tribunal. It is alleged that there was no formal charge-sheet or domestic enquiry and the Company contravened the provisions of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act. On these allegations petitioner prayed for setting aside the order of dismissal and for his reinstatement with back wages, etc. The Company put in its written statement challenging the allegations of the petitioner.

After several adjournments of the case, both parties came to terms on 10th April 1962 and put in a joint petition of compromise, praying for an award in terms of settlement contained therein. I have gone through the terms of compromise and heard both parties' legal representatives regarding this compromise. I am quite satisfied that the compromise is genuine and the terms are quite fair and reasonable. Hence the amicable settlement is accepted. Accordingly I pass award in terms of the petition of compromise which shall be made an Annexure to this award.

The schedule

Whether the dismissal of Shri Abbas Sardar is justified? To what relief, if any, is he entitled?

This reference is in respect of dismissal of a workman named Md. Abbas who was working as a Sardar in the Spinning Department of the Fort William Jute Mills at Sibpur, district Howrah (hereinafter referred to as the Company).

The facts of the case are as follows:—

One Sew Pujan, a workman in the Spinning Department of the Jute mills, complained to the Manager some time before 21st January 1959 that the Sardar of the Spinning Department Md. Abbas (the workman under reference) was constantly demanding and realising bribes every week from him and that he was not in a position to pay any further amount to the Sardar. At this the Manager signed a five-rupee currency note and gave it to workman Sew Pujan to hand over the same to Md. Abbas when the latter would demand any bribe on any future occasion. Sew Pujan handed over the five-rupee currency note to Abbas on 21st January 1959 at about 11 a.m., and immediately after that the currency note was recovered by the Manager from Md. Abbas in presence of the Departmental Overseer Shri S. N. Mukherjee and one Ram Aggya Sardar of the Wasp Winding Department. A charge-sheet was given to Abbas and a preliminary enquiry was held on 21st January 1959 at about 11-30 a.m. The departmental enquiry was held on 27th January 1959 and Abbas being found guilty of demanding and accepting bribe from a permanent worker was dismissed from service by a letter of dismissal, dated 29th January 1959.

The Howrah Chatkal Mazdoor Union representing the workman under reference alleges that the five-rupee note which was handed over by workman Sew Pujan to the Sardar Abbas at about 11 a.m., on 21st January 1959 was, in fact, a part repayment of the loan given to Sew Pujan by Abbas some months before January 1959. The Union alleges that Abbas gave a loan of Rs. 40 to Sew Pujan in time of his necessity and on 21st January 1959 Sew Pujan paid Md. Abbas Rs. 5 towards part satisfaction of the debt. The Union further alleges that in the departmental enquiry that was held on 27th January 1959 Md. Abbas was given no opportunity to cross-examine the Company's witnesses or to get his own witnesses examined. It is contended that the dismissal was wrongful as there was clear violation of the principles of natural justice inasmuch as Md. Abbas was denied the right of cross-examining Company's witnesses or examining his own witnesses. It is further contended that the alleged occurrence was on 21st January 1959, that he was suspended from that date and in his letter of dismissal no date was mentioned as to from which date he was dismissed from service.

The Company alleges that workman Sew Pujan complained to the Manager that the Sardar of the Spinning Department Md. Abbas (the workman under reference) was constantly demanding and realising bribes from him under threat of giving him troubles if no bribe was paid to him regularly every week, that in order to verify the truth of Sew Pujan's allegations against the Sardar, the Manager signed a five-rupee currency note and gave it to Sew Pujan for handing over the same to Md. Abbas when the latter would demand any bribe, that Sew Pujan handed over that particular five-rupee currency note to Md. Abbas at about 11 a.m., on 21st January 1959 and that immediately afterwards the Manager in presence of two witnesses recovered the currency note from Md. Abbas for the possession of which, the latter could not give any satisfactory explanation, that Md. Abbas was given a charge-sheet and was placed under suspension forthwith, that an enquiry was held by the Labour Officer of the Company in presence of Sew Pujan and two members of the Works Committee, that Md. Abbas declined cross-examination of Company's witnesses or to examine any witness of his own, that the enquiring officer having found Md. Abbas guilty of the offience of accepting bribes from a workman dismissed him from service on 29th January 1959.

Decision

It is admittedly a fact that Md. Abbas was a Sardar of the Spinning Department of the Company and that Sew Pujan was a permanent worker working under him in the same department. It is also admittedly a fact that at about 11 a.m., on 21st January 1959 Md. Abbas was caught red-handed by the Manager in presence of two witnesses when he accepted a five-rupee currency note from Sew Pujan inside the Spinning Department of the Mills. The Company alleges that Sew Pujan complained to the Manager previously that Md. Abbas was demanding and realising illegal gratifications from Sew Pujan every week and that in order to verify the truth of his allegations the Manager signed a five-rupee currency note which Sew Pujan handed over to Md. Abbas and the latter was caught red-handed by the Manager when accepting the currency note from Sew Pujan. The Union, on the other hand, states in the written statement and Md. Abbas also stated in his reply to the charge-sheet and also in his evidence here that the sum of Rs. 5 paid by Sew Pujan to him at 11 a.m. on 21st January 1959 was, in fact, paid by Sew Pujan in part satisfaction of the debt that he owed to Md. Abbas. Md Abbas states that he gave a loan of Rs. 40 to Sew Pujan, that the latter had paid Rs. 15 in all including Rs. 5 that was received by him from Sew Pujan on 21st January 1959. Md. Abbas stated in his reply to the charge-sheet (Ext. A) that he was in the habit of granting loans to Sew Pujan and also to Mr. Mukherjee whenever they wanted loans but in his evidence before me he states "this was the first time that I advanced loan to an emplovee of the Mill. Sew Pujan was the first man whom I advanced a loan and he also never took any other loan from me". It therefore appears that he makes conflicting statements regarding advancing loans to the employees of the mills. It appears from the statement of one Ram Aggya Sardar of the Wasp Winding Department who was present at the time of recovery of the currency note from Md. Abbas by the Manager, that Md. Abbas did not say at the time of the recovery of the currency note that he had advanced any loan to Sew Pujan or that the payment of Rs. 5 by Sew Pujan was towards part satisfaction of any outstanding debt. If this is true, then the story of giving loans to Sew Pujan was an afterthought. Md. Abbas the workman under reference has nothing to prove that he ever gave any loan or that he gave a loan of Rs. 40 to Sew Pujan. P.W. 4 Shri Abdul Razzaq who is a Sardar working in the Cop Winding department says that a sum of Rs. 14-6 was given by Abbas to one Sew Pujan, an employee of the Mill but he again says "I never saw Abbas giving any loan to Sew Pujan on any occasion including the disputed occasion". O.P.W. 3, Shri S. N. Mukherjee, the Departmental Overseer, who gave the charge-sheet to Abbas says that a Sardar can take bribe from permanent workers for various reasons, such as, giving temporary promotions, giving light work or overlooking late attendance. I have no reason to disbelieve Shri S. N. Mukherjee (O.P.W.3) that the Sardars can, if they so want, realise bribe from the workmen under threat or on inducement. I have considered the testimony of P.W. 2 Md. Abbas P. W. 4 Abdul Razzaq, O.P.W. 3 Shri S. N. Mukherjee and I find that the sum of Rs. 5 paid by a five rupee currency note by Sew Pujan to Md. Abbas was a bribe demanded by the latter.

Now the Union alleges that no proper departmental enquiry was held and that the workman under reference was denied his right to cross-examine the Company's witnesses or to examine his own witnesses. It appears from the records of the proceedings that at the very outset it was submitted by Abbas that he did not want to examine any witness or to cross-examine any of the Company's witnesses or to have the enquiry held in presence of a number of persons. I have considered the testimony of the O.P.Ws. and I do not see anything to disbelieve them that Md. Abbas declined cross-examination of the Company's witnesses. It is alleged by the Union that Md. Abbas had two witnesses of his own named Tarak Nath Kanji, one of the Sardars of the Spinning Department, and Abdul Razzaq, a Sardar of the Cop Winding Department whom he was not permitted to examine. These two persons were examined before me as P.Ws. 3 and 4 respectively. P.W. 3 Tarak Nath Kanji says that he was not aware of the reason of dismissal of Md. Abbas from service. He admits that Md. Abbas cited him as witness at the enquiry but he says that he did not attend the enquiry to give evidence. He further says that Md. Abbas never asked him to attend the enquiry on any particular day or at any particular time and that, although he was taken to the Union, the Union never asked him to give evidence at the enquiry. P.W. 4 Shri Razzaq makes conflicting statements in his evidence. He says in the examination-in-chief -"I do not know of any enquiry held against Abbas on the strength of the charge-sheet ". It is the case of the Union, or for the matter of that of Md. Abbas, that his two witnesses Tarak and Razzaq were not examined at the departmental enquiry but P.W. 4 Razzaq says that he did not know of any enquiry held against Abbas, but he again says —"I gave evidence at the enquiry in presence of the enquiring officer". So, this witness can hardly be believed. Considering the facts and circumstances discussed above, I find that the enquiry was properly held and that Md. Abbas was not denied any opportunity to cross-examine the Company's witnesses or to examine his own witnesses if he had any, and that there was no violation of principles of natural justice.

It is argued by Mr. Banerjee appearing for the Union that the letter of dismissal does not mention as to the date from which Abbas was dismissed from service. The occurrence is dated 21st January 1959. Md. Abbas was charge-sheeted and he gave his reply to the charge-sheet on the same day, i.e., on 21st January 1959. A notice was given to Abbas on 22nd January 1959 informing him that an enquiry would be held on Tuesday, the 27th January 1959 at 7 a.m. and he was requested to be present at the enquiry (Ext. D). It appears from the letter of dismissal (Ext. F) that the order of dismissal was passed on 29th January 1959. It must be held that Abbas was dismissed from service from 29th January 1959, i.e., the date when the order of dismissal was passed. I therefore hold that Abbas was dismissed from service on and from 29th January 1959.

In view of the facts and circumstances discussed above, I find that the dismissal of Md. Abbas is justified and that he is not entitled to any relief. This is my award.

For employers Nos. 1 to 8: Shri N. K. Mukherjee, Advocate, with Shri Damodar Das, Secretary of South Calcutta Dal Mills Association.

For employer No. 9: None.

For the Union: Shri Lenin Roy, Advocate, with Shri Ram Chandra Pandey, Assistant Secretary.

AWARD

The above dispute over the issues given in the order of reference and reproduced below was referred for adjudication to this Tribunal by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 3567-I.R./IR/11L-353/60, dated the 13th July 1960, as amended by subsequent order No. 5464-I.R./IR/11L-353/60, dated the 28th October 1960.

Issues

(1) Overtime wages.

(2) Working hours.

(3) Leave (privilege, medical, festival and casual leave).

(4) Whether the dismissal of Shri Kalipada Mistry, a workman of Kamdhenu Dal Mills, is justified? What relief, if any, is he entitled to?

(5) Grades and scales of pay.

After service of notices of this reference on all the parties except employer No. 9, Messrs. Tollygunge Food Products, the Union appeared and filed its written statement on behalf of the concerned employees. Thereafter, written statement was filed on behalf of employers Nos. 1, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7 and 8. There was no appearance by employers Nos. 2 and 9. It appears from the record that the notice issued to employer No. 9 was returned undelivered with the final remark of the Postman, "Not known". After that, no further step was taken. The case proceeded on the basis of the written statements filed by the Union and employers 1, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7 and 8. After the case became ready for hearing, the parties took quite a number of adjournments on the ground that a talk of settlement was going on and there was a reasonable chance of settlement. After the adjournments, the case was finally fixed for hearing on 6th April 1962. On that date, a joint petition was filed by all the employers, except employer No. 9, Messrs. Tollygunge Food Products, and the Union representing the employees. In this joint petition, the terms upon which the dispute between the compromising parties was amicably settled were set out and an award according to these terms was prayed for. Employer No. 2, who did not join in the written statement filed by the other employers except employer No. 9, also joined in the compromise. So far as employer No. 9 was concerned, the dispute was not pursued as against him and no mention was made regarding this employer. The dispute concerning this employer should, therefore, be deemed to have been given up and consequently, it is to be deemed to have ceased to exist. Accordingly, a 'no dispute' award is to be made as between this employer and its employees on the footing that the dispute between them has ceased to exist. Accordingly, I at once made a 'no dispute' award as between employer No. 9, Messrs. Tollygunge Food Products of 2 Chanditala Main Road, Calcutta-38, and its employees. The reference in respect of them is thus disposed of.

I now take up the compromise petition jointly filed by employers 1 to 8 and the Union representing their employees. I have heard the representatives of the parties and considered the terms of settlement set out in the petition of compromise. The terms appear to be lawful and fair and I am satisfied that there has been a bona fide settlement of the dispute between these parties upon the terms set out in the joint petition. Accordingly, there is to be a compromise award on the basis of the joint petition filed by the aforesaid parties in respect of the dispute between them. In the result, I make a compromise award in respect of the dispute between employers 1 to 8 and their employees on the basis of the terms of settlement embodied in the joint petition of compromise filed by the parties. A copy of the said petition is made a part of the award as an Annexure.

I should here refer to an apparent discrepancy in the name of employer No. 3 as between the order of reference where it is given as "Messrs. Satyam Sundar Milling Industry" and the compromise petition in which it is given as "Messrs. Shyam Sundar Milling Industry". It appears from the record that after service of notice of the reference upon this employer, it appeared as "Messrs. Shyam Sundar Milling Industry" and it also filed written statement in that name along with employers 1, 4, 5, 6, 7 and 8. From the above facts, I am satisfied that the name of employer No. 3 is really "Messrs. Shyam Sundar Milling Industry", but it was incorrectly typed in the order of reference as "Messrs. Satyam Sundar Milling Industry" by an accidental mistake. It is significant to note that the address of this employer as given in the order of reference and in the joint petition of compromise is the same, viz., 3 Bura Shibtolla Main Road, Calcutta-38. In the aforesaid circumstances, I hold that Messrs. Shyam Sundar Milling Industry of 3 Bura Shibtolla Main Road, Calcutta-38, is really a party to the present dispute and this compromise award will be binding upon it notwithstanding the incorrect typing of its name in the order of reference as "Satyam Sundar Milling Industry".

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. Present

Appearances

For the Union: Shri N. N. Gupta, Counsel.

For the Company: Shri S. C. Sen, Advocate and Shri P. K. Nandy, Advocate.

An industrial dipute between Messrs. Chaya Cinema, 122 Upper Circular Road, Calcutta, and their workmen represented by the Bengal Motion Picture Employees' Union, 126/A Dharamtalla Street, Calcutta-13, has been referred to this Tribunal for adjudication, over the following issue, by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 4647-I.R./IR/11L-357/60, dated the 28th July 1961.

Issue

Whether the termination of employment of Shri Jagadish Prosad Gupta is jutified? To what relief, if any, is he entitled?

AWARD

Upon receipt of the order of reference on 4th August 1961, notices were issued upon the parties for appearance and for filing written statements.

After service of notice, the workmen represented by the Bengal Motion Picture Employees' Union (hereinafter referred to as the Union), filed the written statement on 7th September 1961. The dispute is concerning a single workman. It is contended by the Union that Shri Jagadish Prosad Gupta was appointed as an Operator in a permanent vacancy and by virtue of his efficient service over six months he was to be made permanent. It is alleged that the employer arbitrarily and illegally dispensed with the services of Shri Gupta, with effect from 30th December 1960. Messrs. Chaya Cinema (hereinafter referred to as the Company) filed the written statement on 4th December 1961. It is stated by the Company that, Shri Gupta was appointed as a temporary Assistant Operator on 4th July 1960, on the basis of a written application submitted by Shri Gupta and that the workman had been clearly told at the time of his appointment that he was being appointed as a temporary hand to meet emergencies and that his services would be terminated at any time without any notice. So, it is alleged that according to the terms of employment the Company could dispense with the service of Shri Gupta at any time and thus discharged him as the work was essentially of a temporary nature.

After the conclusion of the preliminary stages, the dispute was taken up for hearing on 5th January 1962. The Union examined Jagadish Prosad Gupta, the workman concerned and Shri P. S. Kundu, as Operator. On the other hand, the Company examined Shri C. R. Kundu, the Assistant Manager of the Cinema House. Besides, the parties proved some documents which are marked as exhibits. After the conclusion of the evidence the parties advanced argument in support of their respective contentions. I shall refer to the evidence as necessary in course of my decision.

The simple case here is whether the termination of employment of Shri Jagadish Prosad Gupta was justified. The issue is in general term and I am to determine how and why the employer terminated the services of the workman.

It is the common case of both the parties that Shri Gupta was appointed by this Company on 4th July 1960. The Company gave an advertisement in a local Hindi daily newspaper "Sanmarg" on the 3rd July 1960, notifying vacancies in the posts of Operator, Electrician and Motor Drivers in the Cinema House. In the advertisement it was not mentioned that the posts adevertised were of temporary nature. The pay attached to the posts advertised was mentioned in the advertisement In response to such advertisement Shri Gupta approached the management offering himself for the post of an operator. It appears that he had previous experience as Operator at a Cinema House in the district of Ajamgarh. Now, it is the version of Shri Gupta that he offered himself as a candidate for the post without submitting any written application. The Company stated in paragraph 2 of the written statement that a written application was submitted by Shri Gupta and on that basis he was appointed. The original application said to have been submitted by Shri Gupta, would not, however, be marked as exhibit in this case. The Company produced for inspection as per direction of the Tribunal, on the basis of the Union's prayer, some documents on 1st May 1962, including the application for appointment, dated 4th July 1960, with orders of appointment, endorsed thereupon. It is curious that while other documents as then filed were found in the record, this particular document was found missing. An affidavit is sworn by the Company's lawyer on 7th May 1960, that such document in original had been filed. I am satisfied that the original document got lost from the record under circumstances beyond the control of the Company and as such I allowed secondary evidence of the document to be furnished. A true copy of the same duly proved is thus marked Ext. A. From the contents of Ext. A, considered in the light of the evidence adduced in the case, I am satisfied that Shri Gupta applied for appointment as a temporary Assistant Operator in this Cinema House. There is nothing to show how the vacancy for that post in the concern, at the time of Shri Gupta's appointment arose. The Company's Officer stated that Shri Gupta was appointed as an extra hand so that he might work as and when a permanent hand might be going on leave. P.W. 2, Shri P. S. Kundu, stated that before Shri Gupta joined there were three operators and with his appointment the number became four. Shri Gupta, however, wanted to say that with his appointment the number of operators came to be five. Presumably his statement on the point is not true. In fact he contradicted himself in cross-examination. It appears from the evidence that almost a month after Jagadish joined one of the operators went away on long leave being attacked with Tuberculosis. He has not as yet joined and presumably he had left the service for good. Naturally, therefore, the Company carried on with three operators after that operator went away on long leave. At this state of things when there were three operators, the Company dispensed with the services of Shri Gupta on the ground that his services were no longer required. There is no reason to think that Shri Gupta became surplus to the requirement on 30th December 1960 and that the emergency became non-existent when the letter of discharge was issued. It is very significant to note that the Company appointed one Chanchal Roy Chowdhury as operator just after terminating the services of Shri Gupta. Obviously therefore the termination of service of Shri Gupta cannot be justified on the ground of retrenchment. It is not as well the case of the employer that the termination of service was by way of retrenchment. Besides, it is not the case of the employer that Shri Gupta was dismised for any fault on his part. So, when the termination of service of Shri Gupta arose neither out of an action as to retrenchment, nor for any misconduct on the part of the employee, it is necessary to examine, if the epmloyer could give any justified ground in support of the action initiated by him, as to the discharge of Shri Gupta.

The case of the Company is that just because of the fact that they appointed Shri Gupta as a temporary workman, it is their liberty and choice to dispense with his service at any time without assigning any reason. For that the Company abondon the so-called reason given in the letter of dismissal to justify the action taken against Shri Gupta.

There is no Standing Order or any set of rules of service governing the conditions of service of workmen. It is clear from the evidence that the employer appointed Shri Chanchal Roy, an operator, just after dispensing with the services of Shri Gupta and again dispensed with the services of that man and appointed a new hand in this place. There are at present four operators, two of whom were appointed after 30th December 1960. Admittedly, there was no letter of appointment given to Shri Gupta. It is clear therefore that there was no contract of service governing the terms and conditions of service of Shri Gupta when the facts and circumstances reveal that there was a post of a permanent nature, the mere description of the appointment as temporary cannot give a special right in favour of the employer. It is established by evidence that the appointment was not for a limited period or for an emergency likely to last for a short period. Even if there had been any contract of employment, the Tribunal is not fettered by the terms thereof and should create new obligation between the parties or modify contracts, in the interest of industrial peace to prevent unfair labour practice. Of course, the Tribunal cannot ignore altogether an existing agreement or existing obligation for no rhyme or reason whatsoever. What transpires in this case is that the Company appointed Shri Gupta when there was permanent need for engaging an operator. The need for retaining the operator remained even when Shri Gupta was discharged. Evidently, therefore, the Company had been following an unfair labour practice in recruiting and in dispensing with the services of workmen without any justifiable ground. In these considerations I hold that the termination of service of Shri Gupta was completely unjustified. I accordingly direct that he should be reinstated in service within a month from the date of publication of the award in the "Calcutta Gazette". Considering however the circumstances of the case I do not think it appropriate to give any compensation to the workmen in the shape of wages for the period of his unemployment.

This is the award.

NOTIFICATION

No. 6188/1H-28/60.—4th July 1962.—In supersession of the rules published in the "Calcutta Gazette", dated 20th April 1961, the Governor is pleased to make the following rules for the purpose of governing the sale by hire-purchase system of houses built by Government to individual persons under Middle Income Group Housing Scheme, namely:—

The Rules

1. An individual who does not own any residential house anywhere in the Indian Union and whose individual income exceeds Rs. 6,000 per annum but does not exceed Rs. 15,000, is eligible to apply for allotment of a house built by Government for purchase by hire-purchase system under the Middle Income Group Housing Scheme, for the residence of himself and the members of his family.

The provision of the above rule may be relaxed in exceptional cases where the Government is satisfied that the additional house is necessary for the applicant for bona fide residential purposes of the applicant and of the members of his family.

2. The price of the house will be about Rs. 25,000 but the amount may be more on final determination of the actual price of the house after construction of the house is completed.

3. The house will be allotted to the applicant, in the following manner:—

(a) The possession of the house will be delivered to the allottee on hire-purchase basis on the allottee's depositing with the Governor the ascertained price of the house minus Rs. 20,000.

(b) The balance of Rs. 20,000 will be paid in equal annual instalments by the allottee not exceeding 20 in number, the first of such instalments being payable within one year from the date of delivery of possession of the house and the subsequent instalments in the successive subsequent years respectively.

4. (i) Interest at the rate of 6½ per cent. per annum will be payable on the said sum of Rs. 20,000 or the part thereof for the time being remaining outstanding along with each such instalment in repayment as provided in rule 3(b).

(ii) A rebate of 1 per cent. per annum will be allowed in case the annual instalments together with the interest on the outstanding price are paid within the date prescribed in rule 3(b).

An allottee may pay more than one instalment of the outstanding price in a year or the entire amount of outstanding price with interest up to the date of payment earlier than the due date of repayment of outstanding price but no change in the rate of interest will be allowed.

NOTE.—If the due date of repayment of the annual instalment and interest falls on a Sunday or a Gazetted holiday, the allottee will get the benefit of rebate if the dues are paid on the day immediately following the Sunday or holiday.

5. Application for the purchase of the house should be addressed to the Governor through the Development Commissioner, Development Department, Government of West Bengal, Raj Bhavan, Calcutta-1, and such application must be accompanied by a fee of Rs. 25 which in any case, will not be refunded, even if no house is allotted to the applicant.

6. Allotments of the houses will be dealt with by the selection committee appointed for the purpose to scrutinize the application for loan under the Middle Income Group Housing Scheme.

7. The Government reserves the right to refuse to sell the house to any applicant without assigning any reason.

8. The allottee will not be able to transfer or in any way alienate any right, title or interest in the house and property before the entire dues of the Government are paid up, without first obtaining the written consent of the Government in that behalf nor will he/she be allowed to make any addition or alteration in the house and property without such written permission of the Government:

(a) The allottee shall have to execute an Indenture of lease on hire-purchase basis on the terms and conditions mentioned in the form prescribed in Appendix II at his/her costs.

(b) The Government upon the request and at the cost of the allottee will execute a deed of conveyance in his/her favour at any time after all the dues of the Government have been fully paid.

9. Government may enforce its rights, in addition to the rights accrued under the Indenture of lease on hire-purchase basis referred to above, including the appointment of a Receiver in respect of the house and property held by the allottee for the realisation of the balance dues or may recover the balance dues as a public demand under the Bengal Public Demands Recovery Act if the allottee fails to pay two successive instalments:

Provided that Government may, in such cases as it considers fit, grant extension of time for payment:

Provided further that these rules may be modified at any time without notice.

AWARD

The Government of West Bengal in the Labo Department by their order No. 2260/I.R./IR/4L-2 58, dated the 3rd June 1958, referred an industr dispute between Messrs. A.R. & B. Kalower and th workmen to this Court for adjudication. Duri the pendency of that dispute Shri Amarjit Singh, workman of the above Company, filed this compla under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes A before this Court. In spite of several adjournmen the Company did not file any written statement i this case. So the case was heard ex-parte.

The case of the complainant, briefly stated, i follows:—

The Company dismissed him on 8th May 1 without showing any reason and without issu any charge-sheet to him. The Company did not p for the approval by this Court of the action ta by the Company. So the complainant contends t the Company has violated the provisions of sect 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act. Shri Ambar R Kalower, proprietor of the Company, had asked complainant to depose falsely in favour of Company in the case between it and its two workm viz., Sarbashri Birendra Nath Ghosh and Avinan Jha. The complainant refused to give such fa evidence. So the proprietor became angry with h and dismissed him. Hence the complainant conten that his dismissal is unjustified.

As I have already stated, the Company did not fi any written statement in this case. The Compa has not also adduced any evidence in this case. S it is not possible to know what the case of th Company is.

The complainant has examined himself in this case He has stated his case in this evidence. There is no evidence that the Company applied for approval b this Court of its action in dismissing the complainant So I hold that the Company has violated section 3 of the Industrial Disputes Act, and that as such the present complaint is maintainable. None appeared on behalf of the Company to cross-examine the complainant. So his evidence remains unchallenged It is clear from his evidence that the proprietor o the Company dismissed him, as he refused to depos falsely in a case.

Hence I hold that the dismissal of the complainan Shri Amarjit Singh is unjustified. So I order that h shall be reinstated and paid back wages from th date of dismissal, i.e., 8th May 1960 until the date o reinstatement. It appears from the evidence of the complainant that his daily wages at the time of his dismissal was Rs. 3-8. So he should be paid wages at the daily rate of Rs. 3-8 from 8th May 1960 until the date of reinstatement.

The above order shall be carried out within a month of the publication of this award in the "Calcutta Gazette".

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act filed by Shri Sambhu Nath Mukherjee, 1 Kali Krishna Tagore Street, Calcutta-7, against the employers Messrs. Ramkanai Jamini Ranjan Paul (Private) Ltd., 213 Mahatma Gandhi Road, Calcutta. (Government order No. 1384-I.R./IR/11L-59/60, dated 18th March 1961.) (Case No. 60/61.)

BEFORE THE FOURTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri K. K. MITRA, Judge, Fourth Industrial Tribunal.

For the Union: Shri Hiralal Roy, Advocate

For the Company: Shri K. K. Guha, Advocate.

This is an application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, filed on 28th August 1961 by Shri Sambhu Nath Mukherjee, a workman under Messrs. Ramkanai Jamini Ranjan Paul (Private) Ltd., on the allegation that the employer without filing any application for approval as to the action of his dismissal, had dismissed him from service, with effect from 24th July 1961. The applicant worker filed along with the petition the letter, dated the 24th July 1961, written by the management conveying the decision taken by the management to dismiss him with immediate effect, as a result of a domestic enquiry.

The employer filed a written objection on 7th December 1961 stating inter alia that the application is not maintainable in law inasmuch as that the provisions of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act had not been contravened.

It appears that the employer had filed an application before this Tribunal under section 33(2)(b) of the Industrial Disputes Act, which had been registered as a case on 31st July 1961. But Shri K. K. Guha, who is a lawyer as well as the Labour Advisor of this concern, had solemnly affirmed by an affidavit on 12th October 1961, to the effect that the application under section 33(2)(b) of the Industrial Disputes Act was actually filed in Court on 22nd July 1961. I hold that the application under section 33(2)(b) of the Industrial Disputes Act had actually been filed in Court two days before the letter of dismissal had been sent. Under section 33(2)(b) of the Industrial Disputes Act an employer must file an application to the Tribunal before which the proceedings is pending for approval of the action taken by him against the workman. There is much controversy on the point as to whether the application for approval should be filed by the employer before issuing the letter of dismissal or after that. Be that as it is, in the instant case the application for approval had been filed before issuing the letter of dismissal. As such, it is crystal clear that there was no contravention of the provisions of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act. Evidently, the Tribunal would proceed to hear and decide the complaint made under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act provided the primary condition is fulfilled, that there was a contravention of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act, no matter what is the grievance of the workman. As I find that there was no contravention of the provisions of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act, I hold that this application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act is not maintainable.

This is the award.

And whereas during the pendency of proceedings before the said Tribunal, a complaint under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), was filed by Shri Dilram Koiri, a workman of Messrs. Kesoram Cotton Mills Ltd., 42 Garden Reach Road, Calcutta-24, against the said Company;

And whereas in pursuance of the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, notification No. 1916-I.R./IR/3A-1/58, dated 13th May 1958, the said complaint was transferred by the said First Industrial Tribunal to the Second Labour Court constituted under Notification No. 1727-I.R./IR/3A-1/58, dated 26th April 1958, for adjudication;

And whereas the said Second Labour Court has adjudicated upon the said complaint and submitted its award to the State Government;

AWARD

By order No. 4100-Dis./D/8L-14/56, dated 12th September 1956, the Government of West Bengal in the Labour Department referred to the First Industrial Tribunal a dispute between some Cotton Mills including Messrs. Kesoram Cotton Mills Ltd. and their workmen for adjudication. During the pendency of that dispute Shri Dilram Koiri, a workman of Messrs. Kesoram Cotton Mills Ltd., filed a complaint under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act before that Tribunal on 9th August 1957. That Tribunal, as authorised by the Government of West Bengal Notification No. 1916-I.R./IR/3A-1/58, dated 13th May 1958, transferred the above complaint to the Second Labour Court on 9th June 1959 for disposal. After transfer to the Second Labour Court the case had to be adjourned on several occasions on account of the absence of th parties. Ultimately the case was heard on 8th April 1962 and 4th May 1962.

The case of the complainant Shri Dilram Koiri, briefly stated, is as follows: He was a permanent worker in the Weaving Department of Messrs. Kesoram Cotton Mills. He was engaged in Trade Union activities and his membership of Garden Reach Textile Workers' Union was not looked upon with good grace by the Management. On 3rd August 1956 he was handed over to the police on a false allegation and a police case was started against him. On 7th August 1956 he wrote a letter to the Company asking it to allow him to resume his duty; but he got no reply. He was acquitted by a Magistrate at Alipore in the police case started against him. After acquittal he wrote three letters to the Company in April 1957 informing the Company of the fact of his acquittal and requesting it to allow him to resume duty. But he did not get any reply. He was not allowed to resume his duty. So this is virtually a case of dismissal. No charge-sheet was issued to him nor was there any enquiry. So he contends that his dismissal is unjustified.

The Company has raised a preliminary objection that this complaint under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act is not maintainable on the following grounds: The order of the Government of West Bengal by which the dispute between the Cotton Mills including the present Company and their workmen was referred to the First Industrial Tribunal is dated 12th September 1956. According to the complainant he was dismissed either on 3rd

August 1956 or on 7th August 1956; both these dates are earlier than 12th September 1956 when the reference of the original dispute was made. So no proceeding was pending before the First Industrial Tribunal on either of the above two dates. Hence there was no question of the Company seeking the approval of the above Tribunal to the dismissal of the complainant.

But the complainant has not said that he was dismissed on 3rd August 1956 or 7th August 1956. He only says that he was handed over to the police on 3rd August 1956 and he got no reply to his letter, dated 7th August 1956. He was not on the impression then that he had been dismissed. He expected that after the disposal of the criminal case against him he would be allowed to resume work. When he got no reply to his letters of April 1957 after his acquittal, he got the impression that he had been dismissed. The Company has not produced any letter of dismissal to show on which date it dismissed the complainant. O.P.W. 2 Shri Sudhir Kumar Sen, the Factory Manager of the Company who was then one of the Labour Officers of the Company, says that Shri B. K. Rana, the then Factory Manager, showed him the counterpart of the letter of dismissal issued to the complainant bearing the latter's L.T.I. But this significant matter has not been mentioned in the written statement of the Company filed by the above O.P.W. 2. No suggestion has been put to the complainant who is P.W. 1 in this case that any letter of dismissal was handed over to him. On the other hand a suggestion has been put to him that O.P.W. 2 told him on 4th August 1956 that he had been dismissed; but O.P.W. 2 has given a complete lie to his suggestion by saying that the complainant never approached him over any matter. So it is clear that the Company did not intimate to the complainant verbally or in writing before April 1957 that he had been dismissed. So it is clear that the dismissal took place during the pendency of the original dispute. As the Company does not contend that it sought the approval of the First Industrial Tribunal to the dismissal of the complainant, it has clearly violated the provision of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act. Hence this complaint under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act is clearly maintainable.

As to the subject matter of the complaint, the case of the Company is that the complainant was seen coming out from his department in the morning of 3rd August 1956 and while he was walking in a suspicious manner near the gate he was stopped and on search of his body three ball bearings were found tightly tied in his underwear. He was accordingly handed over to the local police and was eventually prosecuted before a Magistrate at Alipore. The Company being satisfied that the complainant was caught red-handed with the ball bearings which are the property of the Company dismissed him. The fact that he was acquitted in the criminal case cannot stand in the way of the Company dismissing him in view of the fact that he was caught red-handed. The Company has denied any knowledge of the trade union activity of the complainant. So the Company contends that the dismissal of the complainant is justified.

The Company has not stated that it issued any charge-sheet to the complainant or held any enquiry in the matter. According to the Company this is a case of instant dismissal. So the whole case is at large before me.

The complainant who is P.W. 1 in this case has stated in his evidence that on 3rd August 1956 he worked up to 10-30 a.m., came out of the gate and purchased three ball bearings from a person named Jahid for Rs. 8; he paid Rs. 6 to Jahid and came back to the gate with the ball bearings to borrow Rs. 2 from the gate durwan. At that time Shri Ojha, Security Officer of the Company, caught him and detained him for a long time. Shri Ojha had his photograph taken forcibly and handed him over to the police. There was a police case. He was acquitted in that case. The complainant has not adduced any evidence in support of his statement as to the circumstances in which he was caught and his photograph was taken. His main contention seems to be that since the Company did not issue any charge-sheet to him nor held any enquiry and since he was acquitted in the criminal case arising out of the incident, his dismissal is unjustified. The Company has not adduced any direct evidence as to the circumstances in which the complainant was caught. It is the evidence of the Company that Shri Ojha is no longer in the service of the Company. So the Company could not produce Shri Ojha who could be the best witness in the matter. The Company has however adduced the evidence of two witnesses, viz., O.P.W. 1 Shri A. N. Chandra and O.P.W. 2 Shri Sudhir Kumar Sen. Shri A. N. Chandra is the photographer who took the photograph of the complainant soon after he was caught. The photographer has proved the photograph (Ext. A). That photograph shows the complainant and Shri Ojha. That photograph shows some things inside the underwear of the complainant. O.P.W. 2 has proved an entry dated 3rd August 1956 (Ext. B), in the theft case register of the Company. That entry is in the hand of Shri Ojha; so that entry can be taken to be a statement of Shri Ojha at the relevant time. There it is stated that Shri Ojha searched the person of the complainant and recovered three ball bearings tightly tied in his underwear. It has been suggested to O.P.W. 1 that he did not take the photograph. Whatever may be said as to who took the photograph; there is no doubt that Ext. A is a photograph of the complainant and of Shri Ojha. The complainant has admitted that a photograph was taken; his contention is that the photograph was taken forcibly. O.P.W. 1 has denied that the photograph was taken forcibly. The photo itself does not show that the photograph was taken forcibly, in that it does not show that anybody caught the complainant tightly for being photographed. The photograph shows certain things in the underwear of the complainant. The complainant has not even suggested that certain things were planted in his underwear before the photograph was taken. The story of the complainant that he purchased the ball bearings for Rs. 8 and then went to the gate to borrow Rs. 2 from the gate durwan is hard to believe. On the other hand Exts. A and B together with the oral evidence of O.P.W. 1 clearly support the case of the Company that the complainant was caught with the ball bearings in his underwear. These circumstances and Ext. B clearly lead to an inference that the complainant had stolen the ball bearings from the possession of the Company. It is true that the complainant was acquitted in the criminal case arising out of the incident. There are certain principles which a criminal court is bound to follow under the law. These principles are not equally applicable in an industrial adjudication. The question before me is whether in the circumstances described above the Company was justified in dismissing the complainant. As I have already held above, the Company was justified in coming to the conclusion that the complainant had stolen the ball bearings which were the property of the Company. So the Company was justified in dismissing the complainant.

In view of the above considerations I hold that the dismissal of the complainant Shri Dilram Koiri is justified; as such he is not entitled to any relief.

AWARD

The above dispute over the issues given in the order of reference and reproduced below was referred for adjudication to this Tribunal by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, Order No. 4933-I.R./IR/11L-152/61, dated the 11th August 1961.

Issues

(1) Categorisation of workmen and fixation of wage structure.

(2) Permanency of workmen.

(3) Introduction of Provident Fund Scheme.

I proceed to take up the issues one by one.

Issue No. 1—Categorisation of workmen and fixation of wage structure

At the hearing, it was testified to by P.W. 1 Shri Patit Paban Pathak, the President of the Union, that there are altogether 13 permanent workmen in the Company. He has submitted a chart of these 13 workmen (Ext. 1) and has further stated that in his estimation, all these 13 workers are skilled workers. No evidence has been adduced on behalf of the Company. So, there is no material before me upon which I can discard or reject the aforesaid statement of Shri Pathak. I hold accordingly that there are 13 skilled workmen and they are persons named in the chart, Ext. 1. As to the remaining workers, there is no sufficient material before me upon which I can sub-divide them into the two categories, semi-skilled and unskilled. In these circumstances, I hold that the rest of the workers are all unskilled workers. On the above findings, I decide that there are only two categories of workers in this Company, skilled and unskilled, and the 13 workers named in the chart, Ext. 1, are skilled workers and the rest are unskilled workers. This is my award on the point of categorisation.

I now come to the second part of the issue. It relates to fixation of wage structure. It appears from the evidence on the record and also from the statements made before me by the representatives of both parties that the Company is a rather small concern and having regard to this position, and to other facts and circumstances appearing in the evidence, I do not consider it necessary to fix any regular wage structure involving scale and grade of wages for the workers. Moreover, no sufficient materials have been placed before me upon which I can fix such a wage structure. There is no evidence regarding the wage structure of workers in similar concerns in the locality which can be accepted as comparable units in relation to the present Company. The Omnibus Award relating to the engineering industry made by Shri G. Palit on the 13th October 1958, and published in the "Calcutta Gazette, Extraordinary", dated the 5th November 1958, has been produced on behalf of the Union and it has been faintly contended by the representative of the Union, Shri Pathak, that there should be fixation of wage structure in the present case on the basis of this award. This contention was not, however, seriously pressed. I have seen the award. There is no evidence to show that the present Company is an engineering concern of the type and nature of the Companies covered by the award. So, I do not consider it fair and proper to fix wage structure of the workers of this Company on the basis or on the lines of this award. In these circumstances, I would only fix the minimum wages for the two categories of workers as decided above.

It is in evidence that previously in 1959, there was an agreement between the Company and the Union regarding the conditions of service of the workers of this Company and in this agreement, there were some provisions about the wages of only unskilled and semi-skilled workmen. It was agreed that the wage of unskilled workmen would be Rs. 61 per month and that of semi-skilled workmen would be Rs. 66 per month with effect from 1st December 1958. The Union's grievance is that this portion of the agreement was never strictly acted upon by the Company. The chart, Ext. 1, shows that even there are some workers who are getting less than the minimum wages of unskilled workers. I find upon the evidence that the agreement was not strictly acted upon by the Company in regard to the minimum wages and I further find that in the present circumstances, there should be some modification of the minimum wages fixed in that agreement. After considering the entire facts and circumstances, I fix the minimum wages as follows:—

Unskilled workers—Rs. 68.50 nP. (all inclusive).

Skilled workers—Rs. 71 (all inclusive).

The 13 workers named in the chart, Ext. 1, who have been categorised as skilled workers, shall get increment of Rs. 10 each on his existing wages, subject to the condition that in the case of those workers whose increment of present wages by Rs. 10 will not carry the increased wages to the minimum of Rs. 61, the increments shall be by such amounts as to make their increased wages not less than Rs. 71.

The aforesaid minimum wages and the increased wages for the 13 skilled workmen of the chart, Ext. 1, shall come into force from 1st June 1962.

I award accordingly under this issue.

Issue No. 2—Permanency of workmen

The Union has demanded that the workmen should be made permanent after six months' service and workers who have already put in six months' service should be declared permanent. There is no opposition to this claim of the Union at the trial. I would, however, add one condition of permanency to six months' service and that is the service must be satisfactory. In the result, I award under this issue that every worker shall be made permanent after he has put in six months' satisfactory service and among the present workmen those who have already put in such service shall be declared permanent with effect from the expiry of the period of six months' service.

Issue No. 3—Introduction of Provident Fund Scheme

It is admitted by both sides at the hearing before me that the Company shall introduce provident fund for the workers according to the provisions of Employees' Provident Funds Act, 1952, as amended up-to-date in accordance with the Government Service Rules 346, dated the 17th March 1962, whereby the Provident Fund Scheme under the Act has been made applicable to every trading and commercial establishment employing 20 or more persons with effect from 30th April 1962. It is not disputed that this Company employs 20 or more persons in its business. In the agreement (Ext. 2) there is provision for introduction of Contributory Provident Fund (clause IV). Accordingly, I award under this issue that this Company shall introduce provident fund for the workers in accordance with the provisions of the Employees' Provident Funds Act, 1952, as amended up-to-date, and the scheme of Provident Fund according to the Act should be given effect to from 30th April 1962.

And whereas during the pendency of proceedings before the said Industrial Tribunal Shri Anil Kumar Shyam, a workman of the said Company, made a complaint in writing to the said Industrial Tribunal against the said Company alleging that the said Company had dismissed the said workman concerned in such dispute;

And whereas in exercise of the powers conferred by section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the said Industrial Tribunal has adjudicated upon the said complaint and submitted its award to the State Government;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act filed by Shri Anil Kumar Shyam, 31/B Bagmari Road, Calcutta-11, against the employers Messrs Ramkanai Jamini Ranjan Paul Private Ltd., 213 Mahatma Gandhi Road, Calcutta (Govt. Order No. 1384-IR/IR/11L-59/60, dated 18th March 1961, Case No. 57/61.)

BEFORE THE FOURTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri K. K. MITRA, Judge, Fourth Industrial Tribunal.

For the Union: Shri Hiralal Roy, Advocate.

For the Company: Shri K. K. Guha, Advocate.

This is an application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act filed on 23rd August 1961 by Shri Anil Kumar Shyam, a workman under Messrs. Ramkanai Jamini Ranjan Paul (Private) Ltd. It is alleged by the applicant that the employer, in contravention of the provisions of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act, dismissed him from service, with effect from 24th July 1961. It is further alleged that the action of the employer in dismissing him was completely unjustified in the circumstances stated in the petition.

The employer filed a written statement on 7th December 1961. It is stated by the employer that this application is not maintainable in view of the fact that there was no contravention of the provisions of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act.

Before entering into the merits of the case it is necessary to decide the preliminary point of objection as to whether there was any contravention of the provisions of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act. It appears that the employer had filed an application under section 33(2)(b) of the Industrial Disputes Act seeking approval of the dismissal of this workman. The application is dated 20th July 1961 though the case was registered on 1st February 1961. Shri K. K. Guha, the Labour Adviser of this concern, had solemnly affirmed by an affidavit that the application was filed before the Tribunal on 22nd July 1961. It also appears from the letter of dismissal issued to the workman, dated 24th July 1961, that the management clearly mentioned therein that an application under section 33(2)(b) of the Industrial Disputes Act had already been made. Considering the facts and circumstances of the case I am inclined to hold that there was no contravention of provisions of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act in view of the fact that the employer had already filed before issuing the letter of dismissal an application for approval of the action as to the dismissal of the workman. I therefore uphold the legal objection taken by the employer and find that this application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act is not maintainable.

This is the award.

(Government Order No. 6889-I.R./IR/11L-369/59, dated 18th December 1959.) (Case No. 80/61.)

BEFORE THE FOURTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri K. K. MITRA, Judge, Fourth Industrial Tribunal

r the Union:

r the Company: Shri K. K. Maitra, Advocate.

This is an application under section 33A of the lustrial Disputes Act filed by Shri Ram Narain gh alleging that the Opposite Party employers in ntravention of the provisions of section 33 of the lustrial Disputes Act dismissed him from service hout taking prior approval of this Tribunal before ich a proceeding was pending between the emyers and the workmen. It is stated that the petiner was a workman under the Opposite Parties and t he was appointed on 9th June 1959. It is also ged that in dismissing him the employers proceedwith a spirit of victimisation and held a sham nestic enquiry, in complete violation of the princis of natural justice. He challenges the order of missal passed by Messrs. Asiatic Soap Company, posite Party No. 1.

Messrs. Asiatic Soap Company, the Opposite Party 1, filed the written statement on 2nd December 51 contending, inter alia, that this application der section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act is maintainable in law in view of the fact that there been no contravention of the provisions of sec- 33 of the said Act.

Messrs. Soorajmull Nagarmull, the Opposite Party No. 2, filed a separate written statement contending therein that the workmen made this Company unnecessarily a party in this application inasmuch as Messrs. Soorajmull Nagarmull was not the employer of the applicant and that the applicant was an employee of the Opposite Party No. 1.

It appears that Messrs. Asiatic Soap Co. filed an application under section 33(2)(b) of the Industrial Disputes Act on 11th August 1961 praying for approval of the action as to the dismissal of this workman. Obviously there cannot arise any question of entering into the merits of the case made out in an application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, unless it is shown, first of all, that there had been contravention of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act. In this case the employer had filed an application under section 33(2)(b) on the very date, i.e., on 11th August 1961, when the letter of dismissal had been issued. In paragraph 2 of the petition the workman alleged that the application under section 33(2)(b) had been filed after his dismissal. As a matter of fact, however, the record of the case under section 33(2)(b) clearly indicates that the same was filed simultaneously with the issue of letter of dismissal. It is clear therefore that there was no delay in filing the application under section 33(2)(b) by the employer seeking approval of the action of the dismissal taken against the workman concerned in the dispute pending before the Tribunal. In the facts and circumstances as disclosed, I hold that there was no contravention of the provisions of section 33(2)(b) of the Industrial Disputes Act and, as such, this application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act is not maintainable.

This application fails and I award accordingly.

By order No. 1013-I.R. IR/11L-57/59, dated 16th March 1959, the Government of West Bengal in the Labour Department referred an industrial dispute between Messrs. Pragjee Brothers and their workmen represented by the Calcutta Rangkal Mazdoor Congress, regarding the undermentioned issues to the Second Labour Court for adjudication.

Issues

(1) Increase in dearness allowance,

(2) leave and holidays,

(3) permanency of workmen.

Messrs. Pragjee Brothers (hereinafter referred to as the Company) are a dealer in paints. At present there are three employees in the Company. Each of them gets a dearness allowance of Rs. 25 per month. They also get 30 days' privilege leave and 15 days' casual leave with full pay in a year.

They also get five festival holidays with full pay in a year.

The Calcutta Rangkal Mazdoor Congress (hereinafter referred to as the Union) has demanded that the employees of the Company should get Rs. 40 per month as dearness allowance, 12 festival holidays and annual sick leave of 15 days with full pay. The Union has also demanded that workmen should be made permanent after six months' work.

Findings

Issue No. 1—Increase in Dearness Allowance

It appears that in June 1949 there was an agreement between Calcutta Dye and Chemical Dealers' Association of which the dealers in paints are members and their workmen. It was provided in that agreement that the workmen should be paid Rs. 20 per month as dearness allowance. Messrs. Pragjee Brothers, the present Company, carried out that provision of the agreement and began to pay its workmen dearness allowance of Rs. 20 per month. Thereafter in 1958 in pursuance of a letter of an Assistant Labour Commissioner the present Company and some other Companies in the trade increased dearness allowance by Rs. 5, i.e., the dearness allowance became Rs. 25. The Company is now paying that amount as dearness allowance. This is admitted by the Union. The Union now demands Rs. 40 as dearness allowance. Normally a demand for an increase in dearness allowance so soon after an increase should not be entertained. But it is common knowledge that the price index specially that relating to the cost of living of working men has been on a continuous increase since 1958. There was also a reference of an industrial dispute between three other Companies dealing in paints and their workmen about dearness allowance. That dispute ended in an agreement in August 1959; that agreement provided for a further increase of dearness allowance by Rs. 5 per month, i.e., the dearness allowance became Rs. 30 per month. If these Companies can afford to pay Rs. 30 as dearness allowance to their workmen, there is no reason why the present Company should not be able to do so. The Union has urged another reason for the increase of dearness allowance. That reason is that the workmen of this Company have to work longer hours than the workmen of other Companies in the line. The Union has not been able to prove this contention. Even if it were true that the workmen of this Company have to work longer hours, this can be no reason for increase of dearness allowance which is determined on other considerations. The Union ought to have raised a separate issue as to working hours, if it had any grievance as to the hours of work of the workmen of this Company. But as the other Companies in the trade are paying Rs. 30 as dearness allowance, I order that Messrs. Pragjee Brothers should pay dearness allowance at the rate of Rs. 30 per month. I also order that they should pay this increased dearness allowance with effect from January 1962.

Issue No. 2—Leave and Holidays

It is the case of both sides that the Company grants leave for one and half months and festival holidays for five days on full pay in a year. These leave and holidays must be deemed to be fair. The Union has not adduced any evidence that any other Company in the trade grants more leave and holidays on full pay to its workmen. It is also in evidence that the present Company gives bonus and other facilities to its workmen. It would be too much for the Union to demand for more facilities in the shape of extra leave and holidays. So I reject the demand of the Union on this issue and hold that the present leave and holidays prevalent in the Company should continue.

Issue No. 3—Permanency of workmen

It is in evidence that there are only three employees in the Company; all of them are permanent. So this issue does not affect any one of them. But the Union is naturally interested not only in the present employees but also in the future employees of the Company. So I take up this issue also for decision. The Union has demanded that all workmen should be made permanent after six months' work. But a period of six months may not always be sufficient for an employer to decide whether a post should be made permanent or whether a present incumbent is suitable for being made permanent. Hence I order that in future workmen of the Company should become permanent after continuous service for one year.

The above is my award in respect of the three issues mentioned in the order of reference.

The Government of West Bengal by its Labour Department, Order No. 2421-I.R./IR/7L-31(A)/61, dated the 10th May 1961, referred to this Tribunal an industrial dispute between Messrs. Shree Lachminarain Jute Mfg. Co. Ltd., 107 C. S. Mukherjee Street, post office Konnagar, district Hooghly (hereafter referred to as the Company), and their workmen represented by the Bengal Chatkal Mazdoor Union, Konnagar Branch, C. S. Mukherjee Street, post office Konnagar, district Hooghly (hereafter referred to as the Union), for adjudication under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act.

The only issue referred to this Tribunal for adjudication in this case is as follows:—

Whether the dismissal of Shri Md. Islam is justified? To what relief, if any, is he entitled?

AWARD

After receipt of this reference, notices were issued by this Tribunal to both the parties. Both the parties entered appearance and filed their written statements stating their respective cases.

Briefly stated, the workman's case is that he was a permanent weaver in this Company, that a charge-sheet was issued by the Management against him on 25th December 1960, that he submitted a reply denying the charge, and that yet he was arbitrarily dismissed with effect from 3rd January 1961 without any enquiry and without affording him any opportunity to defend him. It is alleged that he was thus victimised with a false charge for his Union activities alone.

The Company's case on the other hand is that a fair and impartial enquiry was held in respect of the charges after giving the charge-sheeted workman full opportunity to defend himself. He was given opportunity to cross-examine the Company's witnesses and also examine his own witness in defence. There was, it is alleged, no mala fides or victimisation. He was found guilty of serious misconduct and accordingly punished by dismissal.

Other facts will appear from the body of the award that follows:—

Decisions

The question is whether the dismissal of Shri Md. Ismail is justified. The fact of dismissal by the Management is not in dispute. The Company's case is that Shri Ismail was charged with misconduct under rule 14C(1) and 14(C)(ix) of the Company's Standing Orders, and that after a proper and bona fide departmental enquiry against him wherein he was given full opportunity to defend himself, he was found guilty and punished by dismissal. It is alleged that he was given full opportunity to cross-examine the witnesses produced by the Management and also to examine witnesses in defence. The workman concerned contends that he was not guilty of the charges levelled against him, and that there was no enquiry at all in his presence and that he did not attend any such enquiry as alleged.

The charge levelled against him runs as follows:

"You gave low production continuously on week-endings 1st October 1960, 15th October 1960, 22nd October 1960, 5th November 1960, 19th November 1960 and during this week also you were continuing to give low production (3¾ units instead of 4 units at least during the last two days) When you were told about the low production this morning, you plainly told to the in-charge that you will not be able to give standard production. You paid no heed to the lawful and reasonable order of the superior. Your behaviour and temperament was very offensive and you misbehaved with your superior inside the department in presence of the Sirdars Rajadube and Pryag Singh. Show cause why disciplinary action should not be taken against you."

The charge-sheet (Ext. A) was no doubt sent to the workman concerned and he gave a reply stating that the allegation of low production against him was not correct, that the fall in production, if any, was general; and it was due to bad yarn supplied by the Management and for no fault of the workers (Ext. B). It is no body's case that the workers or this particular workman resorted to wilful go-slow tactics at the relevant time with a motive. Thus it is clear that the workman concerned did not accept the charges to be true, and so he was not liable to be punished without a fair and impartial enquiry. The Management, however, contends that such an enquiry was actually held in presence of Shri Islam on 2nd January 1961 by Shri A. D. Singh the Manager, and witnesses were examined by the Management to establish the charges. Shri Islam examines himself before this Tribunal and swears at there was in fact no enquiry as alleged. The t. C is purported to be the departmental enquiry oceedings. But these proceedings do not bear the gnature or thumb-impression of the charge-sheeted orkman. The Weaving-in-Charge, the de facto mplainant and another witness—a weaver now orking as Line Sardar, try to say that Shri Islam fused to sign the proceedings in spite of request. he proceedings are said to be in the handwriting of e then Labour Officer, Shri K. N. Mukherjee, hough the enquiry is said to have been made by the Manager—Shri A. D. Singh. But neither Shri Mukherjee nor Shri Singh has been examined before me. It is alleged that the whereabouts of Shri Mukherjee are not known. But Shri A. D. Singh is admittedly serving in a different mill in this part of he country. This document, Ext. C, was filed on he date of hearing only, i.e., on 11th May 1962 hough the Company was directed to produce all its locuments by the last week of August 1961. The Union contends that this Ext. C is really a fabricated document created for the purpose of this case, and for that reason only the Management feels shy to produce any responsible person purported to be connected with the enquiry. Be that as it may, there is not a scrap of paper to show that Shri Islam was given any notice to appear at any such enquiry. Shri Subedar Singh, the complainant witness, alleges in his examination-in-chief before me that Shri Islam was sent for at the time of enquiry, his residence being very near to the mill premises. But in his cross-examination, he admits that he cannot say who actually went to call Shri Islam at the time of enquiry. But he introduces a new story, rather an absurd one according to the Union, in support of his contention that Shri Islam had due notice of the enquiry. He tries to say that though no letter was issued to Shri Islam for attending the enquiry, he was informed of the date and hour of the enquiry at the time he submitted his reply to the Labour Officer. But this story rather appears to be improbable to me. The charge-sheet, it is alleged, was drawn up by the Labour Officer, though it was issued under the signature of the de facto complaint Shri Singh. The reply was handed over to the Labour Officer, and Shri Singh was not present there at the time. It is alleged that Shri Singh was sent for by the Labour Officer when the reply was handed over. The enquiry was to be held by the Manager, and I find no sufficient reason for Shri Singh's being sent for. When the enquiry was to be held neither by the Labour Officer nor Shri Subedar Singh, I fail to see how they could at once fix the date and hour of the enquiry and intimate the same to the charge-sheeted person. Thus the story of a verbal notice at the time of submission of reply by the workman concerned, makes no impression on me. Shri Subedar Singh adds that he went to the Manager's Office for the purpose of attending the enquiry, and saw Shri Islam at the time in front of the Manager's Office. Of course, O.P.W. 2 Shri Pravag Singh also alleges that Shri Islam was present at the time of enquiry. But considering all the circumstances and in view of the categorical denial of Shri Islam, I am not fully satisfied that there was an enquiry in presence of Shri Islam, and that he was given full opportunity to defend himself. As regards materials before the so-called Enquiring Officer in support of the charges, the simple statement of Shri Prayag Singh was that the work of Shri Islam was not satisfactory. It is also recorded that one Balai Das saw Shri Islam—presumably from a distance—talking in an angry mood waiving his hand. He did not, however, hear any thing. The departmental proceedings show that according to Shri Subedar Singh, Shri Islam gave low production in weeks ending 1st October 1960, 15th October 1960, 22nd October 1960, 2nd November 1960, 9th November 1960 and 30th December 1960. But there was no charge of low production in the week ending 9th November 1960, and to this extent it is a new story at the time of the alleged departmental enquiry. Exhibit A shows that an enquiry report was attached to it. But this report, if any, does not see the light of the day and is not produced before this Tribunal for reasons best known to the Management. So, I am unable to accept the contention that there was a fair and impartial enquiry in this particular case, and hence it is difficult for me to rely on the proceedings (Ext. C) which are not above suspicion.

Moreover, I may point out that the materials before the enquiring officer were not at all sufficient to establish the charges levelled against Shri Islam. One of the charges is under 14(c)(ix) of the Standing Orders and the offence under this rule is habitual negligence or neglect of work. But except the allegation of low production in some weeks—evidently not in successive weeks there is no material to prove habitual negligence or wilful neglect of work. Even during the relevant period, there is no allegation of low production in some of the intermediate weeks. Other workmen also gave similar productions and they were not charge-sheeted. There was no case whatsoever of go-slow tactics by the worker. From the Register produced by the Management (Ext. D) to show that Shri Islam gave low production inasmuch as he did not reach a certain standard of production. I may point out that such standard was reached by a few only, and standard of production of 12 cuts a week at the relevant time was rather an exception than a rule. Many a worker gave production similar to that of Shri Islam. Shri Subedar Singh also admits before me that at the relevant time, other weavers also gave lower production. So, there is no reason for discrimination against him, while others remain untouched. Moreover, low production is rather a relative term, and there was no evidence to show what was the normal standard or norm of production for earning standard wages. There is no evidence also of wilful negligence or habitual neglect of work Quantum of production may rise or fall to a certain degree for various reasons in spite of absence of negligence. It is sought to be argued that 12 cuts in a week was the norm. But it is also admitted that there is a scheme or system of incentive bonus in this Company, and production of 12 cuts entitles a worker to earn such incentive bonus. Thus 12 cuts a week is a prize achievement and not a norm for standard wages. The Company has admittedly such scheme, and yet this scheme is not produced to show what was the norm, and that the work of the workman concerned systematically fell below the norm. So, the charge under rule 14(c)(ix) of the Standing Orders found no basis on the materials produced at the enquiry.

The other charge is said to be under rule 14(c)(i) of the Standing Orders which means an offence of wilful insubordination or disobedience to lawful orders of the superior. But there is no material to establish the charge at the departmental enquiry. If the Weaving-in-Charge simply insisted on still higher production without any rhyme or reason, or sufficient justification, and if the worker pleaded inability to do it, it was not certainly wilful insubordination or disobedience. The worker was a piece-rated weaver, and he would earn more if he could produce more. When he had admittedly no evil design to go-slow or produce less purposely, his mere incapacity to produce more for earning production bonus is not by itself an offence. Where he was not the only person to give such low production, the charge becomes all the more meaningless or baseless. If the pressure on the part of the Weaving-in-Charge in this respect annoyed the worker and if he wanted to leave the job, that by itself cannot be considered an act of insubordination pure and simple. So, I am afraid, the charge as framed was baseless.

As the departmental enquiry was not a proper one as found above, the Tribunal is entitled to decide for itself whether the misconduct alleged is proved or not from the evidences adduced before it (vide A.I.R. 1960 S.C. 47). In such a case, the point about exercise of managerial functions does not arise at all. Following the principle laid down by the Supreme Court in the case of Indian Iron & Steel Co. (A.I.R. 1958 S.C. 130), the Tribunal is entitled to interfere under certain specified circumstances. Jurisdiction of the Tribunal is no doubt limited, and it cannot interfere with the management function except under certain definite circumstances as stated in the above case. Disciplinary action is no doubt a management function. But when this function is arbitrarily exercised, the issue about the merit of the impugned order becomes at large. Here, as I have pointed out above, there was no proper enquiry. Moreover, there were no materials before the domestic Tribunal for establishing the charges framed. The principal witness—the de facto complainant gives different versions at different stages. The charge of disobedience was coushed in a very vague language. The evidence at the so-called departmental enquiry was neither here nor there. The evidence adduced before me on this point materially differs from the previous story. It is now alleged that Shri Islam wanted to assault him with a shuttle. But this was not the previous story, and this is not the charge also. So, it deserves no credence. There is also no basis for the allegation of habitual low production or negligence against this workman. So, I find no substance in the allegation that the workman concerned was guilty under rules 14(c)(i) or 14(c)(ix) of the Standing Orders. So, the order of dismissal cannot be supported or justified on merit. The issue is decided accordingly.

In view of my above finding, it is directed that the workman concerned be reinstated forthwith, and in any case before expiry of one month from the date of publication of this award. His services will be deemed to have continued without break. The Company shall pay him compensation equal to six months' wages for the period of his forced unemployment, and this should be paid within one month of the publication of this award. For the purpose of compensation, the average wage of the last month his service will be the yard stick.

This is my award.

AWARD

The present reference has been made under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act of 1947 by Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 918-I.R./IR/13L-5/61, dated the 23rd February 1961, for adjudication upon the following issue: -

Issues

Bonus for 1959.

The Union's case is that the wages of the workmen in the Press is very low and much below the level of mere subsistence. The minimum wage paid to the workmen in this hard days is only Rs. 35 a month, there being no system of payment of dearness allowance at all. After the formation of the Union, it wrote to the Management on 27th August 1960, demanding Puja Bonus for 1959 but the management did not care to give any reply to that letter. The correct accounting for the financial year 1959 would reveal, it is stated, that the Company earned sufficient profit in that year. The Conciliation Officer was referred to but the Management did not care to attend the conciliation meetings. There was sufficient surplus to meet the demand of one month's wages to be paid to the workmen as profit bonus for the financial year 1959.

In the written statement of the employer it is alleged that the balance-sheet of the relevant year would show no available surplus and would rather establish the desirability of reducing the wage rates. It is, therefore, stated that the claim for bonus of the workers for the year in question is quite untenable.

In the present case no oral evidence was adduced by any party. The Union had put in a chart of calculation showing available surplus (Ext. 1). The Company put in its balance-sheet for 1959 (Ext A), Income Tax demand notice (Ext B), Assessment Order (Ext. D-1) and two calculations in respect of available surplus (Exts. C and C-1). The decision in the present case is to be made in reference to these papers only.

The duty imposed on the Union is to establish available surplus, according to the Full Be Formula for purpose showing the justifiability of ground for bonus as claimed. The balance-sheet the Company has been taken to be correct state things in regard to the matter of accounting. B parties' calculations are based on this balance-she The Union calculated as follows:—

		Rs.
Net Profit	...	178
Depreciation	...	11,484
Contribution to Provident Fund		2,513
Provision for Taxes	...	1,800
Sales Tax	...	10,326
Replacement of types	..	6,500
		32,801
Less 6 per cent. on paid up capital		15,160
Less Notional Normal Depreciation		Nil Not prove
Less Income Tax

It appears that the chart of the Union is no complete that the amounts of prior charges o account of Notional Normal Depreciation and Incom Tax have not been shown in this chart. The Unio has by this chart shown adjusted gross profit to th extent of Rs. 32,801 The Company disputes th additions of the amounts relating to contribution t Provident Fund, provision for taxes, Sales Tax an replacement of type. But I do not see any good reason to uphold the objection of the Company this respect. Accordingly I accept the portions the Union's chart showing the adjusted Gross Pro of Rs. 32,801.

Now comes the question of deduction on accou of prior charges with reference to the item of depr ciation (Notional Normal). The Company has in i chart (Ext. C-1) shown the amount of Rs. 12,516 wit reference to the Assessment Order (Ext B-1 According to the contention of Shri Saha on beha of the Union, this is the total depreciation whic ought not be accepted as the correct figure for deduc tion from the gross profit. Shri Maitra for the Com pany has stated in course of argument that the correct amount of this item would be Rs. 10,000 odd if not more. Shri Saha has nothing to challenge this view of Shri Maitra, and therefore, I accept the amount of Notional Normal Depreciation to be th round sum of Rs. 10,000. If from the total gross profit of Rs. 32,801, the sum of Rs. 10,000 is deducted, the balance of Rs. 22,801 is the amount of Taxable income. Income-tax on this amount and 45 per cent. works out to be Rs. 10,260. This is one of the items for deduction as a prior charge. There is no evidence as to any working capital being utilised by the Company during the year in question. So, nothing is to be deducted as return on working capital. From the balance-sheet, the paid up capital is to the extent of Rs. 2,52,675. The Company is certainly entitled to deduction of 6 per cent. of this paid up capital by way of return, and the figure of this return at the said rate becomes Rs. 15,160. This is the figure of this particular item as admitted by both parties. Again, in the second chart of the company, an amount of Rs. 30,914 has been shown as a prior charge on account of Rehabilitation costs. But no details have been furnished as to how this amount has been worked out. Of course, this amount finds mention in the first chart of the Company (Ext. C) where some imaginary multipliers and divisor appear to be used. The Company has failed to prove by proper and adequate evidence as to what should be the correct amount of cost of Rehabilitation. Though it cannot be gainsaid that there must have been some Rehabilitation, yet in the above circumstance I am unable to make any deduction regarding this particular item in the absence of proof on the side of the Company. But this would not matter at all and would not affect the Company in any way inasmuch as the figures relating to Notional Normal Depreciation, Income Tax and Return on the paid up capital would themselves sufficiently show that there would be no available surplus. The following calculations will justify this remark.

		Rs.
Adjusted Gross Profit	...	32,801
Deduct Notional Normal Depreciation	...	10,000
	...	22,801
Deduct Income Tax	...	10,260
	...	12,541
Deduct Return on paid up capital	...	15,160

No Available Surplus.

From what has been seen above, it is found that there is no Available Surplus even if no deduction of any amount is made on account of Rehabilitation costs. Thus there is nothing to be paid to the workers as bonus for the year in question. Hence the claim of the Union stands rejected. This is my award.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Calcutta Club Ltd., 241 Lower Circular Road, Calcutta-20, and their workmen represented by the Calcutta Club Ltd. Employees' Union, 249 Bowbazar Street, Calcutta-12. (Case No. VIII-123 of 1961.)

BEFORE THE FIRST INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri S. N. GUHA ROY, Judge, Industrial Tribunal.

Appearances:

For the Calcutta Club: Shri K. B. Bose, Counsel, with Shri N. Das Gupta, Advocate.

For the Calcutta Club Ltd. Employees' Union: Shri Parimal Das Gupta, Advocate, with Shri Rabin Chakraborty, General Secretary of the Union.

By its order No. 1700-I.R./IR/11L-117/61, dated 4th of April 1961, the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, referred under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act an industrial dispute between Messrs. Calcutta Club Ltd. and their workmen represented by the Calcutta Club Ltd. Employees' Union on the two following issues, viz., (1) dearness allowance and (2) working hours and overtime allowance.

The Union in its written statement claimed dearness allowance at the rate at which the Bengal Chamber of Commerce pays it to its subordinate staff. It claimed that the working hours should be limited to eight hours a day and that every workman should be given one and half days off every week with full wages. It claimed overtime allowance at double the ordinary rates of wages for working beyond the normal working hours, i.e., eight hours a day and 48 hours in a week.

The Club, however, objected to payment to the subordinate staff of dearness allowance according to the scale laid down by the Bengal Chamber of Commerce because that rate is too high. It also says that any reduction in the working hours from 10 hours per day to eight hours as claimed on by all would be unfair and as regards the Union's claim for overtime allowance the case of the Club is that there is hardly any occasion for working overtime beyond the normal working hours and if any overtime allowance is fixed at all this should start after the expiry of half an hour of the normal working hours and no overtime should be paid for working less than half an hour in excess of the working hours on any particular day.

Issue No. 1: Dearness allowance

Admittedly the Club pays its subordinate staff dearness allowance on a sliding scale. The minimum dearness allowance payable up to Rs. 40 a month as basic wages is Rs. 45; from Rs. 41 to Rs. 60 the dearness allowance is Rs. 55; and from Rs. 61 to Rs. 80 it is Rs. 60; from Rs. 81 to Rs. 100 it is Rs. 65; and above Rs. 100 it is Rs. 70. This scale appears from Ext. C. It further appears from Ext. C that this scale was fixed at a time when the working class cost of living index compiled by the Labour Commissioner was from 355 to 379. The scale was lower in earlier years when the cost of living index figures was lower. It does not appear from Ext. C itself when the present scale were actually fixed. But the index as on March 1960 and April 1960 were shown as 322 and 333 respectively. Obviously therefore the existing scale was fixed sometime after 1950, when the cost of living index figure had risen from 333 to between 355 and 379. Shri Bose representing the Club conceded during his arguments that the present cost of living index figures 403 and I actuali found in an earlier case that 403 is the present cost of living index figures. The cost of living index has thus risen by 24 points so as to entitle the workers on Shri Bose's with showing to a rise of Rs. 5 in the dearness allowance. In other words, on the basis of the cost of living index figures at 403 the dearness allowance would be Rs. 50 for the basic wages up to Rs. 40; Rs. 60 for the basic wages from Rs. 41 to Rs. 60; Rs. 65 for the basic wages between Rs. 61 and Rs. 80; Rs. 70 for the basic wages between Rs. 81 and Rs. 100; and Rs. 75 for the basic wages above Rs 100. The dearness allowance claimed by the Union, as I have already stated, is, according to the scale laid down by the Bengal Chamber of Commerce. But no documentary evidence has been produced by either side to show what the present scale of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce is. According to Shri Rabindra Nath Chakraborty General Secretary of the Union, P.W. 1, the Saturday Club pays its workmen a minimum dearness allowance of Rs. 61 and the maximum is Rs. 67 a month and this minimum dearness allowance is payable up to a wage level of Rs. 50 per month. But he does not say how the dearness allowance rises to the maximum of Rs. 67. The Head Clerk of the Saturday Club examined on behalf of the Calcutta Club Ltd. is Shri Girija Bhusan Banerjee, S.P.W. 4; he has been the Head Clerk of this Club ever since 1929. His evidence is that the Saturday Club pays dearness allowance at the rate of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce which is a fluctuating rate but he also says that for all members of the subordinate staff the dearness allowance is Rs. 61 per month irrespective of their wages. It was the duty of the Union which claims dearness allowance according to the scale laid down by the Bengal Chamber of Commerce to produce documentary evidence of what that rate is but it has not chosen to do so. One has, therefore, to choose between the evidence of Shri Girija Bhusan Banerjee, the Head Clerk of the Saturday Club working there since 1929 and the General Secretary of the Union, who is also a Joint Secretary of the Saturday Club Employees' Union and naturally one prefers the Head Clerk's evidence to that of the General Secretary of the Union, first, because the Head Clerk has been long associated with the Club and secondly because he is more likely to know things at first hand than the General Secretary of the Union who as an outsider can obtain information only at second hand. The award of Shri P. K. Sarkar as far back as the 9th of March 1949 in an industrial dispute between as many as nine clubs like the Saturday Club and the Bengal Club and their workmen shows that the minimum dearness allowance for the subordinate staff was Rs. 49 per month and then there was a scale which of course is hardly applicable to the subordinate staff because their pay rarely exceeded Rs. 100. Thus from the materials before me, the scale fixed by the Bengal Chamber of Commerce in 1949 appears gradually to have risen from Rs. 49 to Rs. 61. But I have already said the Calcutta Club has been paying dearness allowance to its subordinate staff on a graduated scale and not at a flat rate. Ext. B is a chart of the different workmen of the Club showing, amongst other things, the amount of dearness allowance payable at present to each workman. It appears from this list that there are three workmen, namely, Shri R. C. Chatterjee, Shri Dilip Kumar Chatterjee and Alex Francis who receive dearness allowance at the rate of Rs. 70 per month at present and there are two, namely, Md. Iddris and Anthony Gomes who receive at present a dearness allowance of Rs. 65 per month. In other words, there are five who receive more than what the Saturday Club pays to its workmen according to the scale laid down by the Bengal Chamber of Commerce. Evidently, therefore, if the Calcutta Club is to pay its workmen dearness allowance at a flat rate according to the Bengal Chamber of Commerce scale these five men cannot be fitted into the scale unless the dearness allowance is raised proportionately. The Tribunal has in the circumstances to proceed to fix a fair dearness allowance for the workmen of this Club. I do not think I shall be justified in interfering with the graduated scale which the club in its own discretion has fixed for its own workmen. Shri Bose has conceded, as I already stated, that the workmen are entitled to a rise of dearness allowance at the rate of Rs. 5 for each workman per month. The minimum dearness allowance which according to the Club itself will be now payable is Rs. 50 and the maximum would be Rs. 75. The question, however, is whether this should be considered to be quite fair and reasonable in the circumstances of the case. This naturally leads to a comparison as between the Calcutta Club on the one hand and the two other clubs about which there is some evidence before me, namely, the Saturday Club and the Bengal Club. About the profits of the Saturday Club there is no evidence but it appears from the award of Shri P. K. Sarkar in 1949 to which I have already referred, that the Saturday Club and the Calcutta Rangers Club were two of the most prosperous clubs which offered to pay dearness allowance to their employees on the scale recommended by the Bengal Chamber of Commerce. About the Bengal Club there is the evidence of Shri Rashbehari Chandra S.P.W. 3 who has been attached to the club for the last 33 years and who has been its Head Clerk for some years. He says in his evidence that this club pays its Khansamas, bearers, etc., dearness allowance at the flat rate of Rs. 55 only which is not linked with the workers' pay or with the rise or fall of the cost of living index figures. He says in his cross-examination that the active members of the Club number about 350 and of them about 50 are resident members and the total membership is about 1,200 or 1,250. The membership of the Saturday Club is between 1,300 and 1,400 of whom some are town members and active members, some are mofussil members and there are a few resident members also. The present membership of the Calcutta Club according to the evidence of its Secretary is nearly 2,000 and out of them 150 to 200 are active members by which are meant the members who regularly use the Club. It appears, however, from the last annual report Ext. 6(1) for the year ending on the 31st of December 1961 that the total membership as on the 26th of March 1961 was 1,858 of whom the town members were 1,359, mofussil members 333 and non-resident members 165. Its reserve fund as it stood on the 31st December 1961 amounted to Rs. 8,34,009 and was split up between two funds, namely, the Club Premises Reserve amounting to Rs. 6,73,656 and a Contingency Reserve amounting to Rs. 1,60,353. The balance for the year 1961 being excess of income over expenditure appears to have been Rs. 2,10,799. Out of this Rs. 13,917 was transferred to the Contingency Reserve and Rs. 1,96,882 to the Club Premises Reserve. It appears from page six of the report that up to the 26th of March 1962 there were as many as 110 new members and of them the exact figure of new members during the year ending on the 31st March 1961 is not available. It is fairly obvious that a sizeable part of the year's excess over expenditure is the admission fee of new members. Even then, the club's income and expenditure show a very favourable balance for the year. The corresponding balance in the year preceding appears to have been even higher, namely, Rs. 2,42,385 out of which Rs. 13,794 was transferred to the Contingency Reserve, Rs. 41,135 to the General Reserve and Rs. 27,772 to the lease-hold Premises Retention Reserve and the balance was transfererd to the members' capital account. For the year ending on the 31st of December 1959 the excess of income over expenditure was Rs. 1,49,667. Out of this amount Rs. 12,018 was transferred to the Contingency Reserve Fund, Rs. 28,070 to the General Fund and Rs. 27,570 to the Sinking Fund and Rs. 82,009 was transferred to the capital account. For the year ending on the 31st December 1958, the excess of income over expenditure was Rs. 1,24,142, out of which Rs. 11,862 was transferred to the Contingency Reserve Fund, Rs. 26,142 to the General Fund, Rs. 26,142 to the Sinking Fund and Rs. 59,966 to the capital account. For the year ending on the 31st December 1957 the excess of income over expenditure was Rs. 87,689 of which Rs. 61,648 was transferred to the three funds, namely, Contingency Reserve, the Sinking Fund and the General Fund and Rs. 26,338 was transferred to the capital account. For the year ending on the 31st December 1956, the excess of income over expenditure was Rs. 98,392-0-4 pies out of which Rs. 56,300-9-0 was transferred to the Contingency Reserve, the Sinking Fund and the Reserve and Rs. 42,082-7-4 pies was transferred to the capital account. It is, therefore, obvious from a review of the income and expenditure of the Club as shown by its balance-sheets for the last five years that the excess of income over expenditure has been steadily rising. The Club of course is a social organisation into the working of which the motive of making profits does not enter at all in any way. Yet when as an institution its income has shown a steady trend towards exceeding the level of its expenditure, a part of this excess should, in all fairness to its employees who contribute to a large part of its efficiency, be distributed amongst them, in one form or another. The members of the Club will, I hope, be the first to appreciate that an institution where they come to spend a few hours in good and entertaining company will be better and much more pleasant for them as well as for those who cater to their needs if they later feel that they are being justly and fairly treated.

The question now is at what rate the dearness allowance should be fixed. It was pointed out on behalf of the Club as well as the Union that to fix the dearness allowance in isolation from the pay structure prevalent in an Institution would not be fair because after all the dearness allowance is paid in order to enable the workmen to make two ends meet when the rising spiral of the cost of living makes the basic wages insufficient for the purpose. The question of dearness allowance, therefore, is always linked up with the basic pay. But before me the question of the pay structure of the workmen concerned is not in issue. Although in view of the nature of the issues before me it is not premissible for me to consider what should be the proper pay structure of the workmen of this club, it is essential that I should take that into consideration in fixing their dearness allowance.

In paragraph 6 of the Club's written statement it is stated that the minimum basic pay of a permanent member of the subordinate staff at present is Rs. 20. The Union has stated in paragraphs 5 and 6 of its written statement that some workmen get basic wages at the rate of Rs. 15 per month. The company denies it in its written statement. In the evidence it has transpired that there is a clock-winder and there are also tennis boys who are paid at the rate of Rs. 15 per month. The Club's case is that those are part-time workers only and not full-time workers and that is the reason why their names do not appear in Ext. B. The Union Secretary has stated that tennis boys and the clock-winder are whole-time employees. He then goes to the length of saying that the Club has got 40/50 clocks. Assuming that to be so the winding of even 40/50 clocks would not require the services of a whole-time clock-winder. The statement of the Union Secretary, therefore, as regards the clock-winder is on the face of it absurd. As far as tennis boys are concerned it is also difficult to believe that they are whole-time employees. According to the Union Secretary they have to attend from 2 or 2-30 p.m. right up to 10 p.m. because at the Club the members play tennis up to about 9 p.m. in lighted courts. He has not, however, enlightened the Tribunal as to whether tennis is played seasonally or throughout the year. I am not prepared to accept his evidence first because he is not an employee of the Club so as to be able to testify to things, from his personal knowledge; secondly, he has not stated as to whether tennis is played in the Club only seasonally or throughout the year. It is very difficult to believe that any permanent employees of the Club will be available at present on Rs. 15 per month without any further allowance on any account. The mere fact that tennis boys have so far been available at all on Rs. 15 in all per month seems to me to believe the Union Secretary's statement that they are whole-time workmen. In these circumstances the clock-winder and the tennis boys must be held to be part-time workers only to whom the award, whatever it is, cannot apply. The minimum wage for the permanent subordinate staff is Rs. 20 as admitted by the Club. Ext. B, however, shows that there is none of the permanent staff who receives at present the minimum salary of Rs. 20. The minimum drawn by any one appears to be Rs. 21. Hari Singh, a sweeper, appears to be drawing Rs. 21. But it is clear that if a new man is permanently taken in, he would be paid Rs. 20 as basic pay. The basic wages, therefore, seem to be lower in this Club for the subordinate staff than in the Saturday Club. The minimum salary there is Rs. 25 and the maximum is Rs. 32. I have already said that the Saturday club pays to its subordinate staff according to the evidence of Shri Girija Bhusan Banerjee dearness allowance at the flat rate of Rs. 61 irrespective of wages. The minimum total emoluments, therefore, of a workman in the Saturday club are Rs. 86, whereas the minimum earnings in the Calcutta Club for a member of the subordinate staff are Rs. 20 plus Rs. 45 only or Rs. 65 only. The existing membership of the Saturday Club is said to be between 1,300 and 1,400. The Saturday Club is one of the most prosperous Clubs in Calcutta and as far as I can judge from the materials before me the Calcutta Club is not worse off if the membership of the Club is an indication of the prosperity of a Club. The Calcutta Club seems to be better off than the Saturday Club because its total membership is in the neighbourhood of 2,000 whereas that of the Saturday Club is between 1,300 and 1,400. Of course, if the charges for admission into the Club and the other charges of Saturday Club are higher the Saturday Club may be financially better off than the Calcutta Club. Even so, there is no room for doubt that the Calcutta Club is financially quite well off. The influx of new members in the past few years shows its increasing popularity and although Shri Bose on behalf of the Calcutta Club argued that the Club had reached almost a saturation point as regards its membership, it can only mean that the number of new members every year may not be as large as it has been for the last few years and to that extent there may be a diminution of the Club's income from admission fees. Even then, as far as the existing conditions provide an indication of its future, I must say that the Club is financially quite well off and can well afford to pay its subordinate staff a dearness allowance which is likely to enable them to live a little more comfortably in these days of rising costs. In these circumstances I think it will be fair both to the Calcutta Club and to the members of the subordinate staff if I increase the dearness allowance payable to them by Rs. 10 only. The minimum dearness allowance will then be Rs. 55 so that the total emoluments of the lowest paid workman would be Rs. 75.

On behalf of the Union, it was pleaded for the first time during the argument by Shri Das Gupta that the award regarding dearness allowance should be given retrospective effect, because it remained stationary for a number of years in spite of a rise in the cost of living index figures. There was no specific prayer to this effect in the Union's written statement nor was any such prayer made on behalf of the workmen in the evidence of witnesses. The fact that in the Union's written statement there is a prayer for "any other relief' would not entitle the Tribunal to make it retrospective specially when the Club had no chance of meeting such a case for retrospective operation of the award. This prayer cannot, therefore, be allowed.

Issue No. 2: Working hours and overtime allowance

The demand of the Union in its written statement is that the working hours should be limited to eight with one and half days off every week with full wages, but at the hearing that demand was reduced to a certain extent by limiting the demand for eight ours only to those workmen who are at present oing eight hours and to 10 hours for those who are oing ten hours' work at present subject only to his that those who have to work eight hours at a tretch should be given a period of rest. The Union's lemand as regards one and half days off every week s not a part of the issues before me, because the ssue is about working hours only. The evidence is hat the workmen now get a day off every week. In he absence of an issue as to whether they should e entitled to one and half days off every week, the uestion cannot be gone into in this reference. I must, therefore, confine myself to the question egarding the working hours. Admittedly a Club is xpressly excluded from the operation of the Bengal Shops and Establishments Act of 1940 by section 5(1)(c) of that Act. Although the provisions of that Act are not applicable in terms, the principles there- of may be considered in determining the fair working ours for a Club. A Club should not normally be reated on the footing of a factory where the work- nen have to work physically much harder than in a Club. The services of the Club's subordinate staff are somewhat more akin to those in a domestic establishment than in a factory and in a sense they are not even as strenuous as those of the members of the staff of a shop. In a factory or even in a shop the physical strain involved in the work of the staff may well justify a reduction of the working hours and it is very largely on such ground that it has been reduced in factories and shops. To my mind, such grounds for the reduction of the working hours of the subordinate staff of a Club hardly exist. I am not in the circumstances in favour of a reduction of the hours of work of the subordinate staff of a Club on general principles. At the highest, they cannot reasonably claim anything more than what the Bengal Shops and Establishments Act provide for Shop assistants at present. Section 7 of the Bengal Shops and Establishments Act, 1940, lays down that no person employed in a shop shall be required or permitted to work in such shop for more than ten hours in any one day and for more than fifty-six hours in any one week and after 8-30 p.m. There is a proviso that in certain circumstances they can be made to work for more than 10 hours, subject only to this that the total number of overtime work by any employee does not exceed 120 in any one year. Sub-section 3 of section 7 of the Bengal Shops and Establishments Act provides that no person employed in a shop shall be required or permitted to work in such shop for more than seven hours in any one day, unless he has been allowed an interval for rest of at least one hour during that day, and for more than five hours in any day, unless he has been allowed an interval for rest of at least half an hour during that day. The working days for every member of the subordinate staff of the Club is six a week; the number of working hours is 60 in a week as against 56 in a shop. On behalf of the Club it was emphasized before me that the efficient working of such an institution requires a good deal of elasticity in order that the peakloads of work may be fully met. It is undoubtedly true that the working of an institution like a Club cannot always be managed on the basis of a rigid time-table for different categories of its workmen and that the management has to be given a good deal of latitude to fix up the hours of work for different categories of its workmen. In doing so, however, it must necessarily act within certain limits dictated by the needs of the workmen themselves for rest and leisure for themselves. I am inclined to think that for the subordinate staff of the Club these limits should be what have been provided for shop assis- tants in the Bengal Shops and Establishments Act. The maximum number of hours of work fixed by the Bengal Shops and Establishments Act, 1940, for shop assistants in a week should I think be followed for the subordinate members of the staff in this Club. In other words, the maximum number of working hours for any member of the staff in this Club should not exceed 56 in a week. The 1949 award of Shri P. K. Sarkar in respect of the Saturday Club and other clubs is as follows: "The maximum working hours for all employees of the Club other than clerical staff will not be more than ten hours in one day provided that the periods of work shall be so fixed by the Club that no such employee shall work for more than eight hours in any one day unless he has been allowed an interval for rest of at least one hour during that day". This award evidently does not fix any maximum number of working hours for a man during a week as has been done in the Shops and Establishments Act. I think it is only fair that this should be done. In other words, although I adhere to the award of Shri P. K. Sarkar that the maximum working hours for all employees of the Club except those who have at present work for eight hours a day should be 10 hours subject only to this that during a week of six days the total number of working hours for a workman should not exceed 56 hours. It will be open however to the management to lay down how this work of 56 hours for a worker during a week should be distributed during the week. A convenient mode of distributing it may be 10 hours every day for 5 days in a week and for six hours on the sixth day. The day when a workman or a group of workmen may be made to work six hours may be arranged by the management according to the convenience of the Club and of the workmen. I also adhere to the principle laid down in the award of Shri P. K. Sarkar that no man should be made to work for eight hours at a stretch without an interval of one hour at least for rest and no one should be made to work for more than six hours in any one day without an interval of half an hour's rest during that day. The interval for rest, however, will not be counted as a part of the working hours.

As regards overtime allowance, I think it will be fair to all concerned if no distinction is made between those of the workmen who have at present to work eight hours a day and who have at present to work for 10 hours a day, because those who have to work only eight hours a day do not by any means have to strain themselves more than those who have to work 10 hours a day. It will, therefore, be fair and reasonable in my judgment to lay down that no member of the subordinate staff will be entitled to any overtime allowance without working for more than 10 hours a day or more than fifty-six hours a week. The rate at which overtime work is to be paid for is three-fourths of the hourly basic wages and dearness allowance for every completed half an hour of overtime work, nothing being payable for less than half an hour's work, and the hourly rate being computed on the basis of the basic wages and dearness allowance for the whole month divided by the number of hours of work in the month at the rate of 10 hours a day and fifty-six hours a week for all classes of workmen.

My award on issue No. 1 is that the dearness allowance for basic wages up to Rs. 41 is to be Rs. 55; for basic wages between Rs. 41 and Rs. 60, Rs. 65; for basic wages between Rs. 61 and Rs. 80, Rs. 70; for basic wages between Rs. 80 and Rs. 100, Rs. 75; and for basic wages above Rs. 100, Rs. 80. As I said before, this award will be applicable only to the permanent members of the subordinate staff of the Club and not to either badli, casual or part-time workmen. This will have effect when the award becomes enforceable under section 17A of the Industrial Disputes Act.

My award on issue No. 2 is that the maximum working hours for all the members of the subordinate staff of the Calcutta Club excluding those who at present work for only eight hours a day shall not be more than 10 hours in one day and not more than 56 hours in one week and that no workman should be made to work more than eight hours at a stretch without a recess for at least one hour and no one should be made to work for more than five hours at a stretch without at least half an hour's rest. The period of rest will not count as part of the working hours. The workers would be entitled to overtime allowance only if they work for more than 10 hours a day or 56 hours in one week, the rate being three fourths of the hourly basic wages and dearness allowance for every completed half an hour of overtime work. The hourly rate of basic wages and dearness allowance of the workman is to be calculated on the basis of the monthly basic wages and dearness allowance divided by the number of hours of work in a month on the footing that every workman including one who works now for eight hours only, works 10 hours a day and 56 hours a week.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. Bengal Bus Syndicate, 5 Dharamtolla Street, Calcutta-13, and their workmen represented by Bus Mazdoor Union 27/1 Beliaghata Main Road, Calcutta-10. (Case No. VIII-12 of 1961.)

BEFORE THE SECOND INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri P. C. PAL, Judge, Industrial Tribunal

Present for the Company: Shri S. Bhattacharya and Shri A. K. Sarkar, members, Association of Manufacturers, Commercial and Traders, West Bengal.

Present for the Union: Shri D. L. Sen Gupta, Advocate and Shri Hiralal Roy, Advocate.

This reference has been sent to this Tribunal under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, under order No. 5665-I.R./IR/4L-43/61, dated the 25th September 1961, for adjudication of the following issue, viz.:

(1) Whether the dismissal of Shri Chandra Kanta Misra is justified? To what relief, if any, is he entitled?

The Bus Mazdoor Union, which represents the case of the workman concerned, has made out its case in its written statement as follows:

Shri Chandra Kanta Misra, the workman concerned was originally a starter appointed on the 9th April 1954 in bus route No. 36A. After nationalisation of that route on 21st November 1958 the buses plying in the aforesaid route were distributed in different lines and Shri Misra was posted as a starter in the route No. 75, both the routes aforesaid being under the management and control of the Bengal Bus Syndicate (B.B.S.). This Syndicate is an organisation of the owners of various buses, and bus owners of private buses are its members, and the function of this Syndicate has been to regulate starting of buses and avoid internal competition, etc., by appointing starters and supervisors. These starters are members of the Bus Mazdoor Union, a registered Trade Union. Shri Misra was one of the pioneers in the formation of the said Union and the Treasurer elected in the meeting of the 7th January 1961. He was making attempts for organising the starters in January 1961 when suddenly the Company (B.B.S.), without any charge-sheet and giving no scope of defence to him and without enquiry, dismissed him by a letter, dated the 31st January 1961, on some false and vague allegations. Shri Misra tried his best to personally persuade the Company to state specifically the faults alleged against him or withdraw the letter of dismissal, but without any effect. This naturally provoked the other workmen as well, and they approached the Union for redress of this grievance. The Union tried to ascertain the specific reasons from the Syndicate for dismissal of Shri Misra, but the Syndicate failed to give any specific reasons. The Union took up the matter with the Labour Commissioner, West Bengal, in February 1961. Here also the Syndicate failed to bring forward any specific or cogent reason in support of the dismissal of Shri Misra. This dismissal was in violation of the principle of natural justice, and was quite unjustified, and is an instance of victimisation and unfair labour practice. The action taken by the Syndicate was absolutely malafide and arbitrary. On these allegations the Union prays for reinstatement of Shri Chandra Kanta Misra with all back wages.

The written statement of the Bengal Bus Syndicate is to the following effect:

This Syndicate is not the employer of the workman concerned, and there is no relationship of employer and employee between this Syndicate and the said workman. The Union has got no representative character, and the dispute is, therefore, not an industrial dispute. Shri Misra was never in the Pay Roll of the Syndicate and has no connection with that organisation. There are separate Route Committees in this Syndicate, which are independent and separate, and they are the employers in respect of the employees employed by them, the Bus Syndicate having no relation or connection in respect of the employees employed by different Route Committees. Thus, three is no industrial dispute and the reference is untenable. Shri Misra was employed as a temporary starter by the Route Committee No. 75 in 1959. During the period of his employment, his services were not at all satisfactory. He committed misconduct many times and admitted his faults in writing. He was also warned by the employer many times for commission of misconducts, but such repeated cautions and warnings did not improve Shri Misra's nature. He had committed a misconduct (major) on the 27th January 1961 which was duly proved at an enquiry and accordingly the employer terminated his services after observing due formalities, vide the letter, dated 31st January 1961. The action of the employer was absolutely bonafide and justified.

AWARD

First of all I deal with the legal objection taken on behalf of the Bengal Bus Syndicate. The objection is that the reference of the present dispute is bad and incompetent inasmuch as there is no industrial dispute. This objection is mainly three-fold. Firstly, it is contended for the Syndicate that the employer of the workman concerned was the Route Committee No. 75, not the Bengal Bus Syndicate and, as such, there is no relationship of employer and employee between the Syndicate and the workman concerned. Secondly, it is an "individual dispute", not an industrial dispute as such as the workmen of the Route No. 75 are not members of the Bus Mazdoor Union (which represents the case of the workman concerned) and they have not espoused the cause of this workman. Thirdly, it is a case of discharge with one month's notice and not a case of "dismissal;" and the present dispute was raised before the expiry of the notice period and hence this reference is bad in law.

The correct decision in regard to the legal objections taken by the Syndicate depends on proper finding as to whether the Syndicate or the Route Committee is the real employer of the workman concerned. The other objections, as noted above, are also important, as will appear from discussions hereafter.

The Union has examined Shri Jugal Chandra Ghosh (P.W. 1, Secretary of the Union) and Chandra Kanta Misra (P.W. 2, the workman concerned). The Union has put in certificate of registration of the Union (Ext. 1), rules and regulations of the Union (Ext. 2), list of members of the Union for 1961-62 (Ext. 3), the letter terminating the services of Shri Misra (Ext. 4) and the identity card of Shri Misra (Ext. 5).

On the side of the Bengal Bus Syndicate, we have the depositions of Shri Paresh Chandra Ghosh (O.P. W. 1, a starter in bus route No. 75), Shri Badrinath Singh (O.P.W. 2, a supervisor of the bus route No. 75), Shri Ratan Chandra Ghosh (O.P.W. 3, Accountant and Cashier of the Bengal Bus Syndicate), Shri Mahendra Mohan Ghosh (O.P.W. 4, said to be the Secretary of the Route Committee No. 75) and Shri Jagannath Chowbey, (O.P.W. 5, President of the Route Committee No. 75). The documentary evidence on the side of the Bengal Bus Syndicate consists of the following: The Union Secretary's letter, dated 20th February 1962, to the Labour Commissioner (Ext. A), Attendance Register of the employees of the bus route No. 75 (Exts. B to B-2), Shri Misra's letter in Hindi, dated 8th April 1960, to the President of the Bus Owners' Association, Bengal Bus Syndicate (Ext. C, English translation supplied), his explanation in Hindi to the Secretary of the Bengal Bus Syndicate (Ext. D, English translation supplied), Time Sheets concerning route No. 75 (Exts. E and E-1), Shri Misra's explanation in Hindi to the Secretary of the Bengal Bus Syndicate, dated 27th January 1961 (Ext. F, English translation supplied), Shri Misra's endorsement in report book (Ext. G), an order of the Secretary of the Bus Route No. 75, dated 17th November 1960, calling for Shri Misra's explanation (Ext. H), Time Sheets with Orders (Exts. I to I-3), Reports and Orders, etc., in the Report Book (Exts. J to J-3), Supervisor's report, dated 29th January 1961 (Ext. K), an affidavit sworn by the Supervisor on 2nd April 1962 (Ext. L with Annexure), Establishment Bill Book of the B.B.S. staff for April 1959 (Ext. M), Shri Misra's application for leave to the Secretary of the Route Committee, dated 28th July 1960 (Ext. N), Way Bills concerning the bus belonging to O.P.W. 5 (Exts. O to O-1), and a copy of the order-sheet along with Annexures in a case under the Minimum Wages Act (Exts. P to P-3).

It is an admitted fact that originally Shri Misra was a starter in the bus route No. 36A and subsequently he was employed as a starter in bus route No. 75. No paper is forthcoming from any side regarding the appointment letter by which Shri Misra was appointed in 1959 in bus route No. 75. The Union's case is that he was an employee under the Bengal Bus Syndicate. The case of the Syndicate, on the other hand, is that Shri Misra was an employee not under the Syndicate but under the Route Committee No. 75. Though the actual letter of appointment is not before the Tribunal, both parties have produced documents of importance on which respective parties relied. Exts. P series show that Inspector of Minimum Wages brought a case against the Route Committee No. 75 for wages concerning seven workers, viz., U. N. Jha, M. R. Jha, D. K. Thakur,

C. Ghosh, N. B. Haldar, Madan Tewari and rtick Bose. These persons are starters or time-pers in bus route No. 75. In respect of these ers it is contended on behalf of the Bengal Bus dicate that it is the Route Committee No. 75 ch is the employer of these starters in the route 75, otherwise Government would not have ught the case against the Route Committee No. 75. ording to the argument advanced on behalf of Union, a case under the Minimum Wages Act can brought against the Manager or the person who esponsible for payment, and that such a case not be brought necessarily against the employer er. This contention has not been strictly contro-ed in course of the argument for the Bengal Bus dicate, the argument on behalf of the Union ng been advanced earlier. If the Manager or the on responsible for payment is sued under the imum Wages Act, that would not necessarily n that the suit was brought against the employer he starters concerned. That being so, this parti-r point for the Bengal Bus Syndicate, in reference Ext. P series loses its force and importance.

dmittedly, the Bengal Bus Syndicate has got its cles of Association and is a registered body, reas the Route Committees are not registered were formed according to the provisions in the Articles of Association of the Bengal Bus dicate. It transpires from evidence that the ional Transport Authorities (R.T.A.) asked the gal Bus Syndicate to form Route Committees. s, the Route Committees were formed under the ction of the R.T.A. and according to the provi-s of the Articles of Association of the Bengal Syndicate.

appears that the function of the Route Com-ees is to see that there is no competition and ry amongst the buses of different routes, and Bus dicate has delegated authority to the Route Com-ees (vide O.P.W. 3). This supports the Union's ention that the Bus Syndicate functions through Route Committees. The question is, whether Route Committees are subordinate to the Bus dicate. According to the case of the Bengal Bus dicate, and evidence adduced on its side, there is lutely no connection or concern between the gal Bus Syndicate and the Route Committees, the relation being that the Bengal Bus Syndicate tions only as a banker of the Route Committees. iew of the facts and circumstances of the case, I nable to accept this contention as correct. It is that applications for leave of the starters are itted to the Route Committee concerned, not t to the Bengal Bus Syndicate. Even the appli-n for leave of Shri Misra was submitted to the e Committee No. 75. But that does not ssarily mean that the Route Committee is the authority of employment of the starters. If it is blished that the Bengal Bus Syndicate functions gh the Route Committees, then this contention e Bengal Bus Syndicate would become quite . Apart from what has been noticed above, are several special features which require er elucidation for arriving at a correct decision his point. Shri M. M. Ghosh (O.P.W. 4) is the tary of the Route Committee, according to the of the Bengal Bus Syndicate, whereas the Union ts that Shri Ghosh is the Secretary of the Bengal Syndicate. From the evidence on record I find that Shri Ghosh is connected with the Route Committee as its Secretary. If the Route Committee be an absolutely independent body without any connection and concern with the Bengal Bus Syndicate, then Shri Ghosh's functions would also be independent of those of the Bengal Bus Syndicate. But the facts are otherwise. In the present dispute the Bengal Bus Syndicate is the party, not the Route Committee No. 75. It is the Bengal Bus Syndicate which had put in written statement. This written statement has been signed by Shri M. M. Ghosh. In putting his signature in this written statement, Shri Ghosh's designation has not been mentioned. In answer to a question as to why he signed in the written statement of the Bengal Bus Syndicate, he made a futile attempt to explain by saying that he could not clearly remember in what capacity he signed in that written statement. There is other reason to believe that he suppressed the real fact. Again, on 13th March 1962 a petition for time was filed on behalf of the employer. That petition was also signed by Shri Ghosh as Secretary of routes Nos. 30A, 30C, 74 and 75 "for Bengal Bus Syndicate." Though he stated in his deposition that he served under the Bengal Bus Syndicate previously till the end of 1955 and thereafter he had or has no concern with that Syndicate, yet he signed his name not only in the written statement of the Bengal Bus Syndicate but also in the petition of the Bengal Bus Syndicate, as mentioned above. His signatures were put "for and on behalf of the Bengal Bus Syndicate." In the heading of the said petition the description has been put thus:

"Bengal Bus Syndicate
Route No. 75

...Employer".

This clearly shows that the Bengal Bus Syndicate is the employer, though route No. 75 is mentioned. Thus it is found that Shri Ghosh, Secretary of the Route Committee No. 75, acted for and on behalf of the Bengal Bus Syndicate, the implication being that the Bengal Bus Syndicate functions through this particular Secretary of the route No. 75. So it can well be said that the Bengal Bus Syndicate functions or gets some of its works done through the Route Committee.

The evidence on record is to the effect that the bus owners are members of the Bengal Bus Syndicate, paying subscriptions to the same, and in that capacity they are members of the Route Committees. It is also in evidence that the starters and supervisors of the Route Committees are paid their wages by or through the Bengal Bus Syndicate. It is for this reason that the Bengal Bus Syndicate contends that it is only the banker of the Route Committees. But it is an admitted fact that the printed forms of the Bengal Bus Syndicate are supplied to different Route Committees for their use. A banker as such would not allow the Route Committees to use its own stationeries if the Route Committees were independent bodies without any concern with the Bengal Bus Syndicate. Besides, it is the Bengal Bus Syndicate which issued the identity card (Ext. 5) to Shri Misra. If the Route Committee concerned was the employer and independent authority, the identity card would be expected to be issued by it and not by the Bengal Bus Syndicate.

For all the above reasons, I come to hold that the Bengal Bus Syndicate is the parent Association under the guidance of which some particular works are done by the Route Committees which are no better than subordinate bodies under that parent Association. That being so, the objection of the Bengal Bus Syndicate that the employer of Shri Misra is not the Bengal Bus Syndicate, but the Route Committee No. 75 is quite untenable and, as such, this particular objection falls through.

Next, the other legal objection is that it is only an "individual dispute" and not an industrial dispute, in the true legal sense. The case of the Bengal Bus Syndicate is that the Bus Mazdoor Union, which represents Shri Misra, is only a general Union, but not a Union of the workmen, particularly, the starters in the route No. 75; that none of the starters of this route has expoused the cause of Shri Misra or is even a member of the said Union; that the starters and the supervisors had rather sworn an affidavit to the effect that they are neither members of that Union, nor had taken up the cause of Shri Misra in regard to the present dispute. For these reasons, it is said, the dispute is not an industrial dispute, but assumes the character of an individual dispute only. The contention of the Union is that these starters are members of the Bus Mazdoor Union which had taken up this cause of Shri Chandra Kanta Misra, and that the so-called affidavit was a fraudulent and frivolous document created to defeat the cause of Shri Misra by some unfair means; so, the dispute is an industrial dispute, and not an individual dispute. These points require proper elucidation in reference to evidence, oral and documentary, and the circumstances of the case. O.P.W. 1 Shri Paresh Ghosh is admittedly a starter in route No. 75. His evidence is that Shri Misra asked him to become a member of the Bus Mazdoor Union, but he did not agree to that proposal, nor did he take up the cause of Shri Misra regarding the present dispute. This Paresh Ghosh is one of the signatories to the petition annexed to the affidavit referred to above. Similar is the trend of evidence of the supervisor, Shri Badrinath Singh (O.P.W. 2). He also denies membership of the Bus Mazdoor Union, saying that he refused to become a member of this Union on being requested by Shri Misra. It is this supervisor who appears to have actually sworn the affidavit in question on being authorised by the signatories to the petition annexed to the affidavit (Ext. L). The affidavit is to the effect that the supervisor was authorised by the employees of the Route Committee No. 75 to swear this affidavit on their behalf; that none of these employees is a member of the Bus Mazdoor Union and has supported the cause taken up by this Union. The annexed petition contains the signatures of 10 persons including the said supervisor and Paresh Ghosh. The gist of this petition is that none of the signatories has any membership of the said Uinon or has espoused the cause of Chandra Kanta Misra. On the other hand, the Union has put in the register of members of the Bus Mazdoor Union for the year 1961-62 (Ext. 3). Up to date, this register contains 29 members, being workers of the bus routes Nos. 30A, 30C and 75. These members include Madan Tewari, Maharudra Jha, Debi Kant Thakur, Chandra Kanta Misra (the concerned workman), Ugronarayan Jha and N. B. Haldar—all these six persons being starters of the route No. 75. From the evidence of Shri Misra (P.W 2) and Shri Ghosh (O.P.W. 1) it is found that there are eight starters in this route No. 75 including these two witnesses. Of these eight persons, names of six starters appear in the list (Ext. 3). But the signatories in the said petition are 10 in number, i.e., two more than what has been deposed to by Shri Misra and Shri Ghosh. Of the six starters mentioned in Ext. 3, five starters (excluding Shri Misra) appear to have signed in the abovementioned petition in denying membership of the Union, etc. The Union appears to have been registered on the 31st October 1961, some time after the present reference was made. This belated registration is not material in view of the fact that the Union itself was formed in January 1961, even before the incident on the basis whereof the present dispute arose. The Union's rules and regulations have been put in, and seven members of the Union appear to have signed their names in these rules and regulations (vide Ext. 2). These signatories include Ugranarayan Jha, Maharudra Jha, Debi Kanta Thakur, all starters of the route No. 75, and Sahadeo Jha, a conductor of this particular route. The other signatories are starters of some other routes. Out of the signatories of the affidavit, three had signed their names in the rules and regulations of the Union. In this connection the evidence of the Secretary of the Union is important. According to his deposition, drivers, conductors and starters of routes Nos. 30A, 30C and 75 are members of this Union. It was elucidated in his cross-examination that the members of the Union were all informed about the dispute arising out of the dismissal of Chandra Kanta Misra; that meetings of the Union were held in which Ugranarayan Jha, Madan Tewari (starters of route No. 75) and another starter of that route were present, besides Chandra Kanta Misra, and they put their signatures in the proceedings. According to him, signatures of only seven members of the Union, not of all, are necessary at the time of the formation of the Union. Though P.W. 1 made those statements in cross-examination, the Bengal Bus Syndicate did not examine Ugranarayan Jha or Madan Tewari to deny the above statements of P.W. 1. It cannot be said that these two starters are men of Chandra Kanta's party inasmuch as they put their signatures in the affidavit against the interest of Chandra Kanta. In the absence of their denial, it may well be taken that at least three starters of the route No. 75 were present in the meeting of the Union, not to speak of membership of as many as six starters (including Chandra Kanta) of the route No. 75 (vide Ext. 3), but of eight starters of this particular route. Thus, a substantial number of the starters of this route appear to be members of the Bus Mazdoor Union and at least three of them were present in the meeting referred to by the Union Secretary.

Much dispute and interest have centered round the affidavit sworn by the supervisor of the route No. 75. This affidavit was sworn on 2nd April 1962, the day preceding the date on which the case was taken up for hearing. This belated affidavit itself raises a great deal of suspicion. If we carefully analyse the evidence of the supervisor Shri Badrinath Singh and the starter Paresh Ghosh, there will remain no room for doubt that the affidavit and the annexed petition are collusive and frivolous. According to O.P.W. 1, Paresh Ghosh, he signed in the affidavit at Raipur Bus Stand, where they conferred together and decided not to join the said Union. He further says that the person who typed the petition heard the points from them and typed it according to his mental draft at about 1 or 1-30 p.m. on the last Dol festival day. It is stated by him that the affidavit was typed at Behala in presence of himself, the supervisor, and another starter named Kartick Bose. He signed his name at the Bibir Hat Bus Stand and the other signatories did not sign in his presence. But the supervisor (O.P.W. 2) gives a quite different version. According to him neither the Bengal Bus Syndicate, nor the Route Committee directed him to swear the affidavit. He says that one Jaladhar Babu of Behala suggested to him that they should swear an affidavit, the signatories themselves read the contents which were explained by this witness and then they put their respective signatures. He makes a very funny and ridiculous statement that the parties concerned in the affidavit were to intimate the Tribunal that they had no quarrel or dispute with the Route Committee. He does not know what Jaladhar Babu is. But according to him, the petition was drafted by Jaladhar Babu and the affidavit was sworn in the City Court. The typist typed the petition at Behala by seeing the written draft of Jaladhar Babu. Thus the versions of the two witnesses of the Bengal Bus Syndicate are so much at variance that it is not possible to rely on what they mean to say. Rather these glaring discripancies are very much suggestive of the fact that the affidavit and the connected petition are malafide and not genuine documents, introduced collusively with the intention to defeat the case of the Union on this particular score.

From what has been found above, I come to the conclusion regarding this particular objection of the Bengal Bus Syndicate that the case of the workmen concerned has been espoused by the Bus Mazdoor Union, of which most of the starters of the route No. 75 are members. Although the starters as such might not have taken up the cause, the Union, having the said members in its ambit, took up the cause of Chandra Kanta Misra, and hence it is an industrial dispute in the true sense, and not an individual dispute.

The other objection of the Bengal Bus Syndicate is that Shri Misra was discharged, not dismissed, and hence the present reference for decision of the issue of dismissal of the worker is improper and incompetent. It is true that in the relevant order (Ext. 4) one month's notice was given before the actual termination of Chandra Kranta's service. By that order this workman was asked to take notice that his services were no longer required hereafter 28th February 1961, the letter itself being dated 31st January 1961. Thus one month's notice was given to the workmen before actual termination of his service. The point is, whether this is an order really of "discharge" as such or of "dismissal."

It is the contention on behalf of the Bengal Bus Syndicate that it is a case of discharge proper, and the reference is bad and palpably worng as it enjoins for decision of an action of "dismissal." There is nothing to show that the services of Chandra Kanta were to be terminated after the expiry of one month's notice in term of any contract between the parties. On the contrary, the action appears to have been taken against him by way of punishment. Ext. 4 states that the worker concerned made many mistakes which proved him to be unfit for work and he had not been careful in spite of warnings and hence he was given that notice. This shows that the order cast some slur on the character and competency of the worker. It is also the Company's case [vide paragraph 6(d) of its written statement] that the said workman committed major misconduct on 27th January 1961, and hence the termination of his service. Thus a stigma had been attached by that order to the character and competency of this workman. Apart from that, Shri M. M. Ghosh (O.P.W. 4) has said in his cross-examination that this witness called the members of the Route Committee and stated in the meeting that Chandra Kanta was guilty of serious misconduct, and that the decision of the meeting was that if such a man was retained in service, disputes and quarrels would arise between the owners, and so he should be dismissed at once; that on Chandra Kanta's verbal prayer for one month's notice. This witness issued the letter of dismissal. So the very word "dismissal" has been mentioned by O.P.W. 4 in his deposition. In order to determine whether an order which purports to be an order of discharge, but in reality an order other than of discharge, the sorrounding circumstances have to be considered [vide 1961(II) L.L.J 40]. The principle enunciated in that case by the Hon'ble High Court of Gujrat is this:

> "The decision of the Supreme Court in 1960(II) L.L.J 222, and 1960(I) L.L.J. 587 deals with the interpretation of an order passed by an employer outwardly showing that there was simply a termination of service of an employee. If in reality it was found that the order was the result of the finding that the employee was guilty of misconduct, then the form of the order would not conclude the matter. The form of the order may be regarded as a camouflage to hide the intention to punish the employee."

This principle readily applies in the present case, particularly, when the termination of the concerned workman's services was ordered on the ground of misconduct. This order is, therefore, not an order of discharge in reality but an order of dismissal in the garb of a simple order as of discharge. For all that I have seen and stated above, it follows that the action of the Bengal Bus Syndicate against the workman concerned really tantamounts to dismissal. Thus this objection of the Bengal Bus Syndicate also fails. There is still a further objection to the effect that though the termination of the concerned workman's service was to take effect after the expiry of 28th February 1961, the Union raised the dispute before that date by the letter, dated 20th February 1961. It is argued, therefore, on behalf of the Bengal Bus Syndicate that such a premature dispute is not permissible in law and hence the reference is untenable. In my view this objection itself is untenable. From what has been stated and found above, there was an order or real dismissal with one month's notice, and the dispute was raised a few days before the expiry of the notice period. For that reason it cannot be said that the dispute is not maintainable. A dispute may raised before the relevant date if there is apprehension. Under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, reference of dispute may be made by the appropriate Government to a Tribunal if a dispute exists or is apprehended. So there is legal provision for reference of not only of existing dispute but also of dispute which may be apprehended. In the present case also this will clearly apply By the order of the authority concerned the servic of the workman concerned was to have terminated on the expiry of the month of February 1961 and that order was passed on the last date of January 1961. Thus, there was certainly an apprehension in the mind of the workman concerned, and the Union, regarding the service of that particular workman. So the raising of the dispute after the relevant order and before the expiry of the notice period is permissible in law, and not at all bad or defective, as argued on behalf of the Bengal Bus Syndicate. So this objection also stands rejected.

Regarding the merits of the case, it appears that, according to O.P.W. 4, the service of Chandra Kanta Misra was terminated on account of an incident, dated 27th January 1961. On analysis of evidence and circumstances, I find that there has been a great deal of lacuna or drawbacks in matters of charge, notice calling for explanation, domestic enquiry, etc. As a matter of fact, no formal and proper charge was framed against the said starter, there was no proper notice issued to him asking for his written explanation and there was no regular and proper domestic enquiry. These omissions offend against the principle of natural justice. On this score alone the order of dismissal of Chandra Kanta Misra may well be considered to be bad in law, as the prerequisites have not been satisfied or fulfilled. It is said for the Syndicate that the defects regarding the aforesaid preliminaries may be rectified by adducing proper evidence before the Tribunal, and that sufficient materials, both oral and documentary, have been placed before the Tribunal for coming to a decision in favour of the Syndicate. So the facts and circumstances disclosed from the evidence before me deserve scrutiny.

The Bengal Bus Syndicate has put in Report Book regarding the bus route No. 75. It contains several entries Exts. J to J-3 and Ext. G. According to Shri M. M. Ghosh (O.P.W. 4), the writings in the Report Book were done according to rules and practices. The entries exhibited from this book are dated 7th November 1960, 14th November 1960, 17th November 1960 and 24th January 1961. These are reports of the supervisor (O.P.W. 2), except that Ext. G is an order written by Shri Ghosh (O.P.W. 4) on 24th January 1961. None of these entries relates to the incident in question, viz., the incident of 27th January 1961. This Report Book does not at all contain any report of the supervisor or any order of Shri Ghosh in respect of that particular incident of 27th January 1961. On the contrary, the Syndicate has put in three time-sheets, dated 27th January 1961 and 3rd April 1960 [Exts. I, I(1) and I(2) respectively]. These time-sheets are admittedly in the hand-writing of the concerned workman. In Ext. I, Shri Ghosh (O.P.W. 4) wrote an order [Ext I(3)] on 28th January 1961 directing the supervisor to enquire at once why the starter C. K. Misra gave different service-times of buses on 27th January 1961 there being a verbal report to him by the conductors of several buses against Chandra Kanta to the effect that he favoured some buses affecting the legitimate interest of the conductors of those buses. Ext. K, dated 29th January 1961, purports to be the supervisor's report in a separate sheet of paper to the effect that he enquired from C. K. Misra who told him that he would do as he liked and refused to state any reason and did not care for any report. This report of the supervisor and the order of Shri Ghosh (vide Exts. K and I-3, respectively) are against the rules and practices as stated by Shri Ghosh himself inasmuch as no such order or report finds mention in the regular Report Book. As regards different service times, the explanation offered on behalf of the Union is that in case of shortage of buses, regular intervals as to the starting of buses cannot be maintained. There is some force in this contention by way of explanation in time-giving. What is important is that none of the conductors said to have verbally reported to Shri Ghosh (Ext. I-3) has been examined before this Tribunal. There is nothing in writing to show that Chandra Kanta was asked to submit a written explanation. Shri Ghosh said that Chandra Kanta was verbally asked to give explanation. Chandra Kanta denies this. The explanation of Shri Ghosh is far from satisfactory and acceptable in view of the fact that even Ext. G of the Report Book shows that on a previous occasion he was directed in writing to submit his explanation on the supervisor's report, dated 23rd January 1961. Ext. G also contains Chandra Kanta's endorsement "noted." But in Ext. I and I(3) there is no such endorsement of Chandra Kanta that the order of Shri Ghosh was intimated to him or that he was required to submit any written explanation. The Union characterises Ext. I(3) and Ext. K as being manipulated subsequent to the dismissal of Chandra Kanta. This contention cannot at all, in the circumstances of the case, be brushed aside lightly. There is no reason why the order of Shri Ghosh and the enquiry report of the supervisor were not made in the Report Book in usual course of business, but were made in separate time-sheet and separate sheet of paper. So Exts. I(3) and K raise a great deal of suspicion as to the genuineness and bonafides of these particular entries. It is no doubt true that Chandra Kanta was, as admitted by him, suspended for three days in April 1960. It is also true that in regard to his defective works he was warned and he submitted explanations asking to be excused. But these things are not very much relevant for adjudication upon the present issue. From the evidence adduced before me also I find that there was no charge-sheet issued against Chandra Kanta, nor was he given any opportunity to submit written explanation and there was no proper enquiry at all. Again, O.P.W. 4 says that on getting the report from the supervisor, he called the members of the Route Committee and there was a meeting in which the termination of Chandra Kanta's service was decided. It is said that Chandra Kanta himself was present on being asked to be present by Shri Ghosh, but Chandra Kanta denies this version. The proceeding of the meeting said to have held on 29th January 1961 was not produced to show that there was really any decision for termination of Chandra Kanta's service. Even the letter of dismissal (Ext. 4, dated 31st January 1961) does not mention about the incident of 27th January 1961– it only states about some mistakes and warnings, etc., for which he was not dismissed in fact.

From what has been discussed above, I find that in spite of evidences adduced before me, the defects have not been removed, rather glaring improbabilities have loomed large against the contention of the Syndicate itself. For all these reasons, I come to the conclusion that the dismissal of Chandra Kanta Misra was quite uniustified and he is entitled to the reliefs prayed for. The Bengal Bus Syndicate is, therefore, directed to reinstate Chandra Kanta Misra, the workman concerned, to his former job with continuity of his service, and to pay him all back dues for the period of his forced unemployment, within one month from the date of publication of this award.

Award is passed accordingly.

AWARD

This is a reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, Order No. 5875-I.R./IR/11L-415/61, dated the 7th October 1961, for adjudication on the following issue:

Issue

1. Whether the termination of employment of Shri Uday Raj Tewari is justified? To what relief, if any, is he entitled?

The case made out in the written statement of the Union is briefly this: Uday Raj Tewari, the workman concerned, was in the employment of the Company as a Jetty Sarkar since 1955 on a monthly pay of Rs. 75. On the 17th April 1961 he was allowed one month's leave and he proceeded for his up-country home. While on leave, the Company by its letter, dated the 24th of April 1961, purported to have terminated his service without showing any reason or without giving any opportunity to the workman to defend himself. On expiry of his one month's leave, he returned from home and wanted to resume his duties on the 17th of May 1961, but he was not allowed to resume his work. He then wrote a letter, dated 20th of May 1961, to the Management, contending, inter alia, about the unjustifiability of the Company's action and praying for reconsideration of the matter. As the Company gave no reply, a dispute was raised before the Labour Commissioner over that matter. Next, by letter, dated the 13th of June 1961, the Company unjustifiability and illegally retrenched this workman on baseless and false grounds with effect from the date of letter in supersession of the Company's previous letter, dated the 24th April 1961. The Union has reason to believe that the Company acted whimsically and illegally with a malafide intention in terminating the workman's services in the aforesaid manner on account of his Union activity. The Union prays for reinstatement of the workman with all back wages, etc.

The averments contained in the Company's written statement are briefly these: Uday Raj Tewari, the workman concerned, was engaged as a Godown-keeper, not as a Jetty Sarkar as alleged by the Union. The Company was totally unaware about the workman's Union activities, if any, and hence the story of Company's action being done for purpose of victimisation is absolutely untrue. The termination of the workman's services was for bonafide reasons of the closing down of the Company's Godown with effect from 30th December 1960 and on account of the fact that the workman's services as a Godown-keeper were no longer required after that date. As a matter of grace he was allowed to continue in service up to 13th June 1961. The closure of the aforesaid Godown had to be made on account of the reorganisation scheme taken up by the Company. The retrenchment was affected bonafide and legally and the workman concerned is not entitled to any relief at all.

Admittedly the workman, Uday Raj Tewari took one month's leave with effect from 17th April 1961, and only a week later he was written to by the Company to the effect that his services would not be required from 1st May 1961. Obviously, termination of a workman's services in such a manner is not only whimsical but also unjustified and illegal for more reasons than one. I need not dwell more upon this point inasmuch as the Company does not stick to the termination of service on the basis of that letter, dated 24th April 1961.

The dispute now relates to the question of retren- retrenchment of the workman. There are certain very glaring and material facts on the face of the record, which go very much against the legality of the retrenchment, so that the matter can be easily disposed of in favour of the Union on this score alone. In view of the order I am going to pass in this case in regard to the legal objection raised on behalf of the Union, it is not at all necessary to enter into the question of merits of the retrenchment.

The notice of the retrenchment (Annexure "C" to the written statement of the Union, a copy of which appears to have been given to the State Government) is dated 13th June 1961. This letter states that the Company by this letter terminated the workman's services with effect from that very date, i.e., 13th June 1961. It also states that the workman's services as a Godown-keeper were no longer required after 30th December 1960 and it was only a matter of grace that the Company still kept him in service. Thus by that notice, dated 13th June 1961, the workman was retrenched with effect from that very date. But the notice itself shows that no payment of money either as retrenchment compensation or as pay in lieu of notice was given to the workman on that date. In the notice the Company wrote that the workman would be paid retrenchment compensation, etc., and that the workman was advised to collect his dues on any working day during office hours not later than 19th June 1961. Thus the workman was asked to take his dues not on 13th June 1961 but in course of six days to follow.

Though the notice purported to give immediate effect to the retrenchment, no payment of compensation or notice pay was made or even offered on that very date. Section 25F(b) of the Industrial Disputes Act requires that the workman to be retrenched should be paid at the time of retrenchment compensation calculated at the rate mentioned in this section, and clause (c) of this section further requires that notice in the prescribed manner is to be served on the appropriate Government. Clause (a) of this section requires the giving of one month's notice or one month's wages in lieu of such notice at the time of retrenchment. These are the conditions precedent to the validity and legality of retrenchment. The requirements under clauses (a) and (b) of section 25F have not been fulfilled.

Regarding the requirements of clause (c), it is also to be noted that proper notice was not given to the Government as required by rule 77 of the West Bengal Industrial Disputes Rules of 1958. Under clause (1) of rule 77, the employer shall give one month's notice to the Government before the date of actual retrenchment. The proviso to clause (1) enjoins that where a workman is retrenched with immediate effect, wages in lieu of notice must be paid before effect is given to such retrenchment and, soon after retrenchment, notice must be given to the Government in the prescribed Form P. Notice pay was not paid before retrenchment was given effect to, although the retrenchment purported to have taken immediately effect. If the payment of compensation and notice pay were all deferred by the Company for some reason or other, retrenchment itself also should have been deferred for a month, and one month's notice should have been given to the Government.

In view of what has been found above, it is held without any hesitation or doubt that the legal provisions were violated by the Company in effecting the retrenchment of the workman concerned, and as such the retrenchment is quite illegal. The case of the Union succeeds on this score alone.

In the result, therefore, the Company is directed to reinstate the workman, Uday Raj Tewari, to his former job or any other suitable job with continuity of his service, and to pay him all back wages for the period of his forced unemployment, within one month of the publication of this Award in "Calcutta Gazette".

Award is passed accordingly.
